

BASIS OF CLAIM TO ARCTIC LAND IS REVEALED

Territory Handed to Canada by Britain in 1880, Says Stewart

TITLE IS TERMED INCONTESTABLE

Navigators Who Visited Region Include Ross, Franklin and Others.

OTTAWA, June 12.—Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, in a further statement issued tonight emphasizes that no new claims are being made for Canadian ownership of Northern Archipelago.

"The present policy," he says, "is simply a continuation of methods followed for many years past in administering the northern territories of the Dominion."

EXPEDITIONS SENT OUT.

"For years," he adds, "the Canadian government has been sending out expeditions and at much expense has established posts at Ellesmere, Devon and other islands."

Mr. Stewart also states that in 1880 Great Britain, by Imperial order-in-council, transferred the Arctic archipelago to Canada.

So far as discovery goes Mr. Stewart says that the title of Great Britain and thus of Canada, to the northern islands is beyond question. With few exceptions all the known insular areas in the Canadian Arctic were discovered and formally taken possession of by British commissioned navigators from a century to three-quarters of a century ago. A list of English navigators would include Bylot and Baffin, who discovered Ellesmere Island in 1818; Captain John Ross, R.N., Sir John Franklin, Commander Inglefield, R.N., Captain Kars, R.N., and many others.

Gets Glasses You Likely Need

If you have not others dependent on you then nobody but yourself loses out when you neglect your Sight.

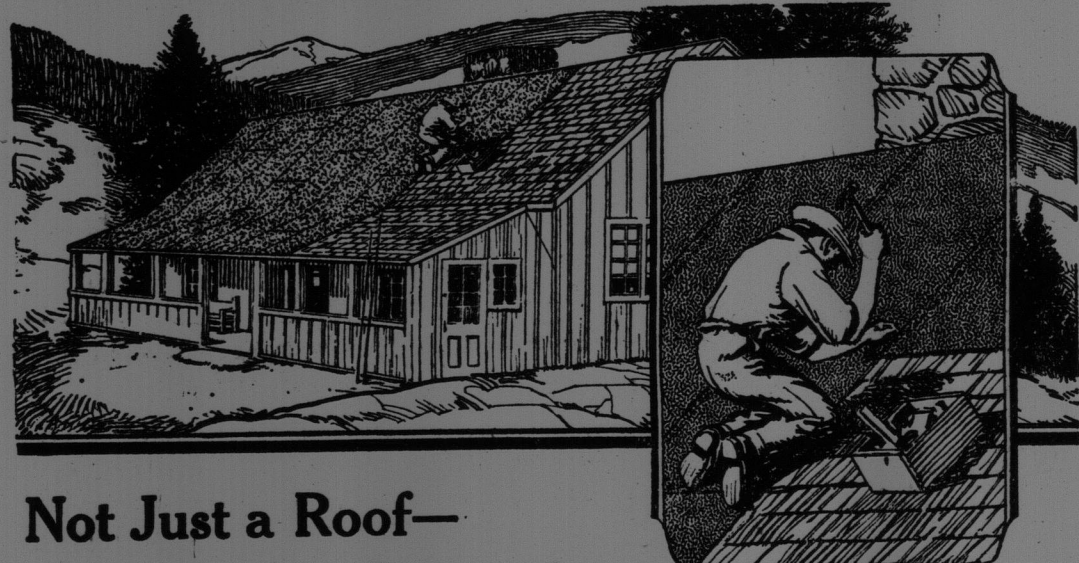

Four in five suffer in ability as well as comfort unless they wear Glasses to take unnatural strains off their sight.

If all who need Glasses felt pain directly in the Eyes there would be no need of these advertisements. It often happens that those who see best suffer most but take more telling that they should have an examination.

Not Just a Roof—A Lasting Protection

For camps, summer cottages, boat houses and garages, Barrett Mineral-Surfaced Roll Roofing gives lasting roof protection. No leaks—so it never needs repairing. No rot, no rust, no fading—so it never needs any "upkeep" (painting, etc.). And it's absolutely fire-safe—flying sparks and embers can't set your house on fire.

Easy to lay! Barrett Mineral-Surfaced Roofing can be put on right over your present roof. This saves you the expense of ripping off the old shingles, and gives you a double-thick roof.

And attractive! Soft red, moss-green, or shadowy blue-black—its slate-surface is permanent and fadeless.

Ex-Premier Asked To Form Greek Cabinet

ATHENS, June 13.—Premier Michalakopoulos, who resigned Thursday, has been asked to form a new cabinet, following the refusal of M. Kafantaris to head a government. If he succeeds in constructing a new ministry, Michalakopoulos is expected to proceed to suppress the rebellious militarists, who have threatened to take up arms because of their opposition to an accord with Jugo-Slavia.

"AIN'T IT A GRAND AND WONDERFUL FEELIN'"

And The Good Old Ford She Rambled Right Along

Citizens around King Square this morning may have noticed a very happy looking gentleman stop at a store and purchase some sporting goods. While strapping these on the side of his Ford car and getting set for his Holiday Trip, he made several bystanders envious of his lot. It seems his employer had given him a week's holiday so he took a portion of his earnings and purchased a rebuilt Ford car at Royden Foley's, local Ford dealer, 300 Union street and started out. The car seemed to be in the same happy frame of mind as its new owner and ran along smoothly with a contented hum. The traffic officer waved the outfit on its way. The onlookers tried to remember their bank balance. Two of them wended their way to
