

FACTS AND FANCIES.

The intellect is superior to the physical system. While the world lasts, the sun will gild the mountain tops before it shines upon the plain.

It is a noble and great thing to cover the blemishes and to excuse the failings of a friend; to draw a curtain before his stains, and to display his perfections; to bury his weaknesses in silence, but proclaim his virtues upon the housetop.

Our own heart, and not other men's opinions, forms are true honor.

Though a taste of pleasure may quicken the relish of life, an unrestrained indulgence leads to the inevitable destruction.

Every man's life lies within the present; for the past is spent and done with, and the future is uncertain.

In one of his tours, John Leland came up at night to a public house, where he was acquainted, and where he proposed to pass the night. The landlord met him with a smiling countenance and told him, that, having built a new barn, he was nicely prepared to accommodate the clergy. "I have," said he, "a very good stable with all the improvements, for Episcopal horses, and a comfortable sort of a stable for Presbyterian horses, while I keep the old barn for Baptist horses; the feed is according to the style of the stable." "Well," replied the Elder, "everybody knows that I am a Baptist, but my horse is an Episcopalian."
