The numerous friends of Dr. H. W. Valentine, of St. Andrew's, St. George, who were present at the funeral of the physician he got off at Point Lévis, where he died on Wednesday. The funeral was well attended and the services were held at the residence of the deceased. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter. The remains will be taken to St. George for interment.

A CHAMPION DOG STORY.

The following story is told by Robert H. Bryant of Stanhope, Prince Edward Island, and is recorded by E. McLaughlin, J. McDonald and W. Bryant of the same place. One fine afternoon in last August, I took a small boat and rowed about a quarter of a mile out to sea. In a short time a heavy squall struck the boat which made me feel rather uncomfortable, so I started for the shore. Every moment the sea rose higher and higher, when within about 50 yards of the shore I lost my footing. I did not know what to do but lucky for me my dog was on the shore. He saw my helpless condition and ran along the shore until he found me. He then jumped out with his mouth open, and I managed to get ashore. This was the first time that this dog saved a person from a watery grave.

NEW COMPANIES.

Application has been made for the incorporation of a joint stock company for the importation and purchase and sale of wine, spirits, iron or other merchandise on commission or otherwise, to be known as Ostrin & Co., limited.
