For the First Time in Seventeen Years Judges Assist Lords in a Trial.

Lords.

London, March 25 .- Dr. Nansen, the Norwegian explorer, left this city today on his way to Paris.

There is increasing uneasiness regard to the Transvaal situation. The mingham Post, the organ of Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, says it hears that Germany will send three thousand troops to Southwest Africa at the end of April and that a special German envoy will shortly be sent to interview President Kruger of the Transvaal and President Steyn of the Orange Free State.

It is elsewhere reported that owing to preparations for eventualities in Transvaal the arrangements for

Their regular ships have been filled with cargo long in advance of the dates of sailing, and the Cunard line is dispatching a vessel from Bordeau to New York with goods usually sent via H. D. Davies, conservative member for Chatham, asked in the house of commons, if the United States had consented to have their ships searched in Cretan waters. The speaker, Willam Court Gully, declined to allow the question without notice.

Replying to a question as to the possible withdrawal of the Turkish troops from Crete, Mr. Curzon said that the British ambassador at Con-spantinople, Sir Philip Currie, had been instructed not to lose any opportunity of urging the withdrawal of the Turkish troops from Crete, which, however," Mr. Curzon added, "would be greatly facilitated by the withdrawal of the Greek forces."

A rather unusual scene was witnessed in the house of tords today. The case of Flood and Taylor v. Allen which has occupied the various courts for two years past, was for the sec ond time before their lordships. The bench consisted of the lord chancel-lor, Lord Halsburg, and the Lords Herschell, Watson, Ashbourne, Mac-Vagten, Morris, Shand, Davy and

DEATH OF GEO. HAMILTON. (Daily Herald, Calgary, N. W. T., March 13.)

The Herald announces today with most sincere regret the death of George Hamilton, probably the best known and most highly respected member of the community. The announcement that old George is dead will cause a feeling of shock in many a home throughout the district in which Mr. Hamilton was so well known and toved, as there was no apparent foreshadowing of death to prepare for the sad event. For the past few days Mr. Hamilton had been staying at the residence of his brother, John Hamilton, at Pine Creek, and appeared to be in good health and spirits. Yesterday evening about is o'clock, after assisting in the daily routine, he fed the cattle in the corral and went into the house. Three minutes afterwards his soul had passed away, imperceptibly and without pain, just as the old man had often said he would wish to die Death is believed to have been due to heart failure. Mr. Hamilton, who was about 68 years old, was born in Content of the Revisible and was about 68 years old, was born in was about 68 years old, was born in Carleton county, New Brunswick, and when about 24 years old he crossed the continent and joined the mining rush to California. He subsequently travelled to Alaska, where he spent several years. On his return he spent a short time at Nicola, in Britania. in 1882, where he has since lived. He knew everybody and everybody was proud to know him. He had not an enemy in the world but thousands of friends. He was never known to say an unkind word or do an unkind act to a friend or stranger, and during his long and eventful career he earned (Calgary Daily Herald, March 15.) Perhaps in the history of Calgary no larger concurse of citizens and residents of the district has ever gathered together to pay the last tribute of respect to the memory of a depart-ed friend than that which assembled in the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon, to attend the funeral of the late George Hamilton. Notwithstanding the extremely short notice given and the difficulty of getting the sad news through the country, many old friends drove long distances over bad roads in order to be present. The coffin containing the remains had been moved to the church, the glass top being left open so that friends might have a last look at the face of the dead. The members of Bow river odge, A. F. and A. M., met at the hall at 2.30 o'clock, and narched in a body to the church, a portion of which had been reserved for them. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Sharpe (in the as out of town), the choir of the church rendering appropriate music. Messrs. Walker, Bain, A. P. Patrick, Jas. Ryan, E. N. Brown and J. A. Mc-Milian acted as pall-bearers. The chief mourners were Robert Hamil-ton, Dewdney; Samuel Hamilton and John Hamilton of Pine creek (brothers), and George Hamilton (nephew).

At the grave the impressive Masonic funeral service was conducted by W. M., R. J. Jephson, after which the remains were lowered into the family plot. The brothers of the deceased

An adjourned meeting of the creditors of Kelly & Murphy was held in the office of J. R. Armstrong, Q. C., Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There nee in the chair, Messrs. Bell and Agar, inspectors, L. A. Currey, A. W. Macrae, W. Watson Allen, J. R. Armstrong, Scott E. Morrell, J. G. Taylor and Mr. Mooney.

The list of claims being duly filed. it was voted that the assignee and inspectors should go over the claims and make up the dividend sheet as soon as possible. There was some discussion as to the advisability of having the dividend sheet open for a time to the inspection of creditors, as a precaution to protect the assignee from any possible future annoyances, but it was pointed out on the other hand that the act recently passed by the legislature no longer made this action necessary.

A motion was adopted that the checks should all be made out to the James of Hereford, the eight judges of the high court.

After the first hearing, on appeal to the lords, the judicial members of that body were equally divided. In itors would not be again called together unless something as yet unoreseen took place. It is pretty certain that the estate will pay between 4 and 5 per cent, on the claims.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND.

His Sermon Last Night in Washington Pope Leo XIII.

Washington, March 28.—Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul preached tonight at St. Patrick's church on Pope Leo XIII. This is an age ,he said of wondrous social and political transformation, of great intellectual activity, of great discoveries and inventions, and he asked what is to be the position of Catholics towards the age. Replying to his own question, he said it should be one of sympathy, of zealous cooperation and prudent direction. Such, he stated, is the position of our chieftain and leader, Leo XIII. The archbishop concluded his discourse by a reference to the special love of Leo for the American republic and to the duty of Catholics to be models of good citienship and of loyalty to American in-

New York, March 23.-A special to the World from San Francisco says: The first meeting of Corbett and Fitz-simmons since their fight in Carson took place in the Baldwin hotel today. The meeting was friendly and was marked by exhibitions of good feeling on both sides. Fitzsimmons reached here this morning from Sacram and took luncheon at the Baldwin. Corbett stood near the entrance of the house until the champion had finished lunch, when he advanced smilingly toward his late opponent. 'Hello, Fitz," said Corbett, as he exended his hand, "How are you?" "First rate, Jim," answered Fitzimmons, "How are you?"

They shook hands cordially. "I must have another go at you Fitz," remarked Corbett. "Our fight didn't satisfy me, for I can do better, and you know it. I want you to give me first chance."

"I'm not going to fight any more," responded Fitzsimmons, "but if I do ever enter the ring again, I promise to give you the first fight with me." "Is that a go, Fitz?" inquired Corbett. anxiously.

"Yes, sir," replied Fitzsimmons, "if fight again you will have the first chance; that goes."

YACHTING.

There Will Be a Boom This Year. From present indications yachting will boom with a vengeance this com ng summer. To start with, the St. hn Yacht Club have under consideration extensive improvements to their premises at Millidgeville, which vill include alterations in the club house, floats and landing stage.

The big feature of the summer's sport will undoubtedly be the cruise to Fredericton, which is expected to come off in August. The cruise will be under command of the commodore, and ten yacht owners have already promised to take part. These, with me others that are expected to join, will make quite a fleet.

This season is also expected to witness several valuable additions to the flest, as some new boats are now ouilding, and it is also understood that a movement is on foot to buy the Maple Leaf. The principal of those building is a likely looking craft that Haines and Holder have in course of construction. Built on the most approved plans, and measuring 41 feet over all and 27 feet on the water line, 11 feet beam, and having a commodious cabin, she will take rank with the best. Her sail arrange-ment will be such that it is expected she will be the fastest of the fleet. Adam McIntyre and Mr. DeVeber of Gagetown, is is understood, are the owners of a boat that Washburne is building on Courtenay Bay. She will be about 37 feet over all and 26 feet on the water line.

Messrs. Sinchair, Munroe, Scott, Best and Geo. Haines of the yacht club have purchased from Holder & Mun-

A yacht that has been in course of construction at Indiantown for the past two seasons is expected to appear on the scene this season, and her owners promise a surprise to all, Henry McIntyre and Edw. Harrington are remodelling a boat that will appear under the name of the Pastime. Her fixtures are said to very fine.

THE RING.

Scituate, R. I., March 28.-Two Providence bull dogs, "Paddy," owned by James Lynch, and "Brownie," owned by James Prior, were pitted for a fight in a barn in this town today and the contest proved a fierse one, Several of the sport claimed it was the fiercest dog fight seen in the state for years. The dogs weighed twentyfive pounds each and were in good condition. The battle lasted three hours and fifty-one minutes and "Brownie" was killed.

' EGG HATCHING.

A way of hatching any kind of eggs at any time of year is described by "Farm Poultry" of Boston, in substance as follolws: Turkeys, whether broody or not, are taught to hatch in the following manner: Half a dozen nest eggs are placed in a nest box, 2 feet long, 1 foot wide and 1 foot 6 inches deep, or in a barrel on its side, and a turkey hen gently placed on and shut in by a lattice cover-in a dark place, or the nest darkened with a cloth. For the first 48 hours or so she will try to get away, but soon becomes reconcil to it, and when she will stay on of her own accord fresh eggs are substituted. She will continue to brood for from 3 to 6 months, the chicks being taken away as they appear and fresh eggs supplied. She may be put off when it is time for her to begin laying, or kept at brooding and mothering almost indefinitely. She makes a good mother if confined to a yard and will accept chicks of all ages. Two dozen eggs is a setting, and after a few days they should be tested and only the fertile ones left. When training them to sit they should be taken off morning and evening to water, feed and give them a dust bath, but after they settle down to hatch they need only be taken off in the morning to feed and remove their encorment from the nest. They cease feeding, when they will need to be crommed and watered. In training them during the first day or two some give them half a dozen pieces of bread soaked in brandy and water with each meal, but this does not seem necessary.
