LOCAL NEWS.

Band at the Marathon Rink tonight. Ice in excellent condition.

Contractor George McArthur has returned from a four-weeks' visit to the West.

A whip, found on dock street, will be given to the owner on application at the police station.

A meeting of the board of trade will be held this evening when the proposed assessment act will be considered.

The mid-winter excursion party will hold their annual drive to Newcombe's tonight. The sleighs will leave Dr. A. D. Smith's office, Charlotte street, at 7.30 o'clock.

The safety and treasury boards will meet at City Hall today. The sub-committee appointed by the treasury board to meet with the fire underwriters, will report.

A span of horses attached to a coach were found wandering about Britain street by the police last night and they were placed in Worden's stable for safe keeping.

Police Sgt. Ross has reported that 17 C. P. R. workmen whom he reported have taken out licenses. A large number of persons are reported each winter, and it is a harvest for the policeman who makes the report, for he gathers in 75 cents on each license paid.

The three-masted schooner Harry W. Lewis has arrived at Partridge Island in ballast and will dock this afternoon. The schooner made a remarkable fine run from New York to the island, covering the distance in about three days and a half.

Frank Danley's celebrated production The Wizard of the Nile, which is to be the opening bill of the popular Robinson Opera Company on their return next Monday, January 21st, is one of the most complete operatic extravaganzas ever witnessed here. It is full of catchy music, gorgeous costumes, old properties and a thorough scenic production. The Wizard of the Nile will be given Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday evening and Thursday afternoon. Thursday evening, Fra-Diavolo with Frank Nelson in the leading role.

NO TALL HATS HERE.

A jovial person residing in Calgary who makes a living by adding up long columns of hard figures has been in St. John and informs the newspapers there that really this western country is pretty crude after all. It has many drawbacks and one never sees a top hat or a frock coat.

To a highly cultured person who has been reared in the lap of St. John luxury and education at the St. John business college, the absence of these emblems of a high state of civilization are certainly very much felt. The biting loneliness one feels when separated from such close pals cannot be understood by ordinary persons who have never known the delights of such associations.

The cultured St. John person expresses his absolute disgust with the uncouthness and roughness of the old pioneer and intimates that all the loyalty for the flag in the entire west so compassed into the one head which so years for its silk covering, and within the heart which is never embraced any more by the frock coat.

As long as we have no worse knackers of this country than the cultured person, we are in very good fortune.

People who cannot live here because it is not a frock coat and silk hat country are of no value to us. We do not particularly need the man who is worrying about the loyalty of our old time pioneer.

The Altiplan does not mean by this that the country is crude, or its people vulgar, or that we despise refinement, far from it. What we do mean is that we are not particularly anxious to get many of the class of people, whose longing for the high hat and frock coat is an overweening one. In this country people dress decently and comfortably and with propriety. But a man can dress as he pleases, and as long as he follows the ordinary rules of propriety he will neither attract attention nor be censured, nor ridiculed. The high hat and frock coat are not very popular for the reason that they are somewhat conspicuous, but more for the reason that they are not a comfortable garb to work in.

Mr. Mullin says that the oldtimer is so uncouth and rough that he does not know which flag he is sleeping. If he means that the oldtimer raises no sentimental riot about trifles he is right. But it means that the hearts of the old veterans are not in the right place, this person is slandering the noblest type of men who ever adorned the records of Canada's wars and Britain's wars show the kind of stuff they are made of. If we have to choose for settlers between the sturdy old timers and the cultured person who can't live without his silk hat and his frock coat, we shall pick out the cultured pioneer with some character about him every time, and know that we have made a good choice."

PROTECTIONISTS AT THE JAIL

Large Number Sheltered There Every Winter—Story of Montreal Cattleman

A cold and half clad man called at the police court this morning and if his story is true he has been certainly wronged. He says that a man named Lyons, who is an employment agent, hired him in Montreal as a cattleman, procured a pass for him to St. John and collected seven dollars for his trouble. The man came to the city yesterday with bright hopes that a position was awaiting him but he says that he was informed on arrival that there was no work for him. It is a hard predicament for a poor man to be in when but scantily clad, little or no money in his pocket, and with the thermometer hovering about the mark of 15 degrees below zero.

The unfortunate's case will be looked into and in the meantime he will probably make a central police station call his lodging house and trust to good hearted citizens for his meals.

There were four protectionists in the police cells last night and it is the case every winter that the police station harbors about as many protectionists as it does prisoners. Some are really need while others take to the warm cells to save lodging money for drink.

An instance is stated where two poor looking fellows entered the police station one night, said they were hungry, cold and without funds. They were given a warm cell and turned out at 5.30 o'clock in the morning, and a half an hour later were happy in a barroom with considerable cash and spending it for drink.

SHOT AND KILLED

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. — Michael Smith, a saloon keeper, of Queensborough, was shot and killed last night by Patrolman Burr, of Long Island City, while resisting arrest on a charge of robbery.

MAY PARDON PATRICK

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Upon receiving a report of its special committee on the effect of embalming fluid upon the lungs, sustaining the contention that Albert T. Patrick did not cause the death of William M. Rice, the medical society last night voted to memorialize Governor Hughes to pardon Patrick.

CROSBY vs. THE KING.

The case of Crosby vs. The King was resumed in the exchequer court this morning. Argument of counsel was heard. J. W. Fossett and L. G. Crosby were the principal witnesses at yesterday afternoon's session.

M. V. Faddock stated that the molasses brought here by Mr. Crosby contained from one half to one per cent. of sulphur. The case will probably be concluded tomorrow.

CALGARY NEWSPAPER KNOCKS GEO. MULLIN

For Interviews He Gave - St. John Daily

Western Editor Tartly Resents Former St. John Man's Alleged Slighting Reference to "Uncouth" Pioneers, etc.

A short time ago a former North End grocer, who is now comfortably situated in Calgary, out west, while home here on a visit gave an interview to one of our evening dailies in which he deplored the absence of silk hats and frock coats in the city of his adoption. He is further quoted as characterizing the pioneer westerners as uncouth and boorish, which the Calgary Albanian outspokenly resents in the following words:

(Editorial: Calgary Albertan, Jan. 10.)

"TAKE CAR BEHIND!"

An Old Gag That didn't Work Last Night.

It seems that whenever there's a heavy rainstorm, a blizzard, a particularly frosty night, or a general hurry the street railway service soars beautifully into the air.

Last night was one of these occasions. It was shortly after six o'clock and every business house was pouring out its men and women employees. The Western Union corner was crowded with people waiting for cars—red ones, green ones, white ones.

Several red and green cars came and passed on, but no Haymarket square liners. Over fifteen minutes elapsed before a white disc showed around Dock street corner.

By this time the score of waiting men and women were almost frozen, a few invading the I. C. R. ticket office and Western Union lobby to escape the cold.

When at last a Haymarket Square car arrived the boy in conductor flung open the door and blandly announced that the car was full.

"Can't take any more passengers," he shouted; "take the car behind!"

But already a few chilled men had jumped aboard and entered the body of the car. They called out to others saying there was plenty of room, and so there was.

"Car filled, eh?" laughed one of the party, "filled with cold air, I guess, that's all."

Over a dozen men and women got good seats, and a score more used the straps, despite the admon of the boyish conductor to take the next car, for that one was filled.

Superintendent Callahan should make it a strictly personal matter to see not only that schedules are maintained at meal hours—particularly in bad weather—but that lazy employees are not allowed to bulldoze passengers into waiting for the oft-times mythical "next car." It is a nuisance the people will not put up with much longer.
