CUT OFF BY THE TIDE.
How Two Visitors to Seaside Park Did Not Succeed in Keeping Dry.

Quite different from the forecast of the schoolboy who took his clothes off before falling overboard was the action of two gentlemen at Seaside yesterday evening. They were sitting on a large rock well down the beach and became so engrossed in the charming scenery that they did not notice the rapid approach of the tide. When they heard the waves lapping against their perch they found themselves surrounded by the water and were at a loss how to gain dry land without wetting their feet. One of the gentlemen was quite elderly and suggested that they await the turn of the tide. The other suggested the removal of shoes and stockings. Before they had ceased planning the relentless tide advanced and one wave, larger than the others, drenched them. The two waited until the wave receded, and then stepping gingerly from rock to rock, in an endeavor to keep their feet dry, came ashore. Their plight was watched by a number of amused spectators and the omnipresent small boy gave friendly advice on the most approved method of drying clothes.

WEST SIDE EXPROPRIATION BEFORE THE COURT

The cases of Gordon and Sleeth & Quinlan vs. The City of St. John were continued in chambers this morning. Major Gordon was examined and the only new point brought out in his evidence, was that the roof of his establishment on Union street, was made of gravel and not tar paper, as stated by the arbitrators. Mr. Gordon also introduced, under objection, a bill amounting to about $2,000, which he had expended in making a road in the rear of his premises when the land slide on Union street occurred. He claimed that citizens in general used this road.

Court adjourned at twelve o'clock until tomorrow morning.

Judge McLeod, accompanied by Recorder Skinner and Hon. H. A. McKewen went to Carleton where they viewed the portion of expropriated ground.

The party will return home at 8:30 this evening.

COLD STORAGE PLANT TO BE MODERN IN EVERY WAY.
A Description of the Big Building Now Being Erected on Main Street at a Cost of $130,000

For the past two weeks a large gang of men have been employed laying the foundation for the Graham cold storage building which is to be situated on Main street near Long Wharf. A spur from the I. C. R. already runs into the site and when the building is completed several more tracks will probably be laid.

The building will be under the management of H. J. Graham, of Belleville, Ont., who already operates two similar buildings, a number of canning factories and evaporating plants for evaporating apples. The main cold storage building is to be completed by October first. The foundation is to be of concrete on piles. Over 2,000 piles have been driven. These are covered with a heavy footing course of concrete. The foundation is then built on this footing course 2 feet, 4 inches high. The remainder of the building is to be of brick. The walls will be 20 inches thick to the top of the third story and 16 inches from that to the roof.

The building is to be of five stories and basement, and will be divided into three principal parts, the front part being for meat and fish, the middle part for retail stores in which the retail business of the cold storage will be carried on. The rear part will be used for the produce over to the retail occupants. One of the stores will be for the sale of vegetables, another for meats and fish, a third for poultry and the fourth for fruits.

Looking at the building from Main street it will be four stories in height, with a 63 ft. frontage, high plate glass fronts to the shops. The whole front will be rock faced of coarse Spoon Island granite from the quarry of B. Mooney and Sons.

The size of the store portions will be 10 x 100 ft.

The main cold storage building will be 100 feet square.

The power house in the rear of the main building will be 84 x 150 feet. The plant in this power house is a duplicate of the machinery installed by the British Linde Refrigerator Co. of Montreal.

The new building is to be insulated and supplied by the Armstrong Cork Co., of Pittsburgh. All window frames and sashes are to be constructed of steel, glazed with wired plate glass, so that the building will be one of the most up-to-date in Canada so far as protection from fire is concerned.

The buildings throughout are to be of mill construction, the timbers and girders being heavy and the flooring throughout 3 x 5 and 3 x 6, finished with a birch top floor.

The building will be equipped with two freight elevators and patent barrel hoist, the latest equipments for handling material being installed.

The mason work, which will be begun next week, is to be performed by B. Mooney and Sons. The cast iron work is to be done by J. J. Fleming's Sons. The concrete foundation is being made by James H. Hague.

The foundation and engineering work is under the supervision of F. W. Holt, C. E.

P. Neil Brodie is the architect of the building. It is estimated that the complete plant will cost $130,000.

THE TOURNAMENT.
A full attendance of firemen and Salvage Corps members is called for tomorrow evening at No. 1 H. and 1A station, King street east.

At a meeting held last evening it was shown that the preparations are in full swing and the tournament promises to be a big event. A committee was appointed to further the arrangements for the garden party to be held in the course of a few weeks. The St. Mary's Brass Band and the City Cornet Band have already offered their services for the occasion.

The different fire departments throughout the Maritime Provinces and Maine are looking forward to joining the St. John boys in the muster and each day brings acceptance of the invitations recently sent out.
