Evening, and though the list consisted of three straight dramatic pictures the all drama program was most favorably received. The leading feature was Selig Co.'s Nebraskan, Indian story, "A Daughter of a Sloux,' £ ... alc: f.ll of plainsman life from start to finish, introducing real Indians in vast numbers, and a compelling story throughout its full length. The Bipgraph feature, entitled "The Rocky Road," disclosed a tale of domestic unhappiness. It was quite noticeable to regular Nickel patrons that this picture contained several new actors and actresses in the Biograph's stock company. The third reef, called "The Engineer's Daughter," was of the melo-dramatic type, pleasing alike to up-stairs and down-stairs. Every chapter contained a climax and every climax satisfied watchers to the fullest extent. Miss Gertrude LeRoy increased her strong hold upon lovers of good singing with the charming noveling in the same fine program will be shown today and tonight for the be shown today and tonight for the last time. SIR JOHN DICKSON-POYNDER adians to do an increased trade with the West Indies. Already the prefer-ence which Canada gives to the West Indies has led to a large trade being done, to the great benefit of the sugar growers.

"There is no reason why the West Indies should not supply to Canada tropical produce, just as the southern states supply the same goods to the United States. And as Canada increases in wealth and population the demand for these things will increase."
On the subject of calculation reference.

demand for these things will increase."

On the subject of colonial preference Sir John said he could find no one who had any definite idea how this was to be brought about "But." he said, "I found a great number of very staunch imperialists, who were all for closer reations with the mother country, but who neither asked for nor desired preference. And when it came to a question of admitting the British manufacturer on such terms as would allow his to compete on something approaching equal terms with the Canadian manufacturer in the Canadian market, why then the question of preference took another form altogether."

"Did you discover any tendency in Canada to return to a lower tariff?"

"I cannot say that I did. And in saying this I wish it to be understood that I do not, as a free trader, wish to imply any criticism upon the Canadian fiscal system. They live under entirely different conditions from what we do in England, and they have the United States, with its enormous tariff, on their borders for 2,000 miles. But from what I gathered I believe that when the West fills up there will come a serious demand from that quarter for a lower tariff. The tariff at present confers great advantages on the eastern manufacturers, but it does so largely at the expense of the western agriculturist, who will in time make his voice articulate."

Dr. W. W. White presided.

At the conclusion of the lecture a vote of thanks to Dr. Hewitt was moved by Senator Ellis, seconded by animously.

Dr. Hewitt left last evening for Hallfax and from there he will go to New York and Toronto, where he will deliver similar lectures.

Considerable work has already been done by Mr. Fred White, formerly Dominion Geographer, and now attached to the commission in respect to securing data as to present conditions affecting the Dominion's water powers, forest areas, mining bonds, etc.

The personnel of the commission includes a score of the best known public men, university representatives, and industrial leaders in Canada.

The commission will form a branch of the Department of Agriculture, and will be under the administerial charge of Sydney Fisher.
