Scrofula.

Another permanent ourse by B.B.B. after two doctors falled.

Ask any doctor and he will tell you that, next to cancer, scrofula is one of the hardest diseases to cure.

Yet Burdock Blood Bitters applied externally to the parts affected and taken internally cured Rev. Wm. Stout, of Kirkton, Ont., permanently, after many prominent physicians failed; Cured Mrs. W. Bennet, of Crewson's Corners, Ont., perman-ently, when everyone thought she would die. Now Mr. H. H. Forest, Windsor Mills, P.Q., states his case as follows:

"After having used Burdock Blood Bit-ters for scrofula in the blood, I feel it my duty to make known the results. I was treated by two skilled physicians, but they failed to cure me. I had running sores on my hands and legs which I could get nothing to heal until I tried B.B.B. This remedy healed them completely and per-manently, leaving the skin and flesh sound and whole."

The Home at

An Odorless Window Kitchen.

A neat little window kitchen is the invention of an ingenious woman who was compelled to do light housekeeping in one room in which there were no modern improvements. After struggling for some months with a small table and a gas stove, she discovered that no matter how much care was exercised, light housekeeping would leave heavy odors. They were always there to tell the tale after meals had been cleared, and the gas stove, pots and pans had been carefully hidden away. But she finally hit upon a plan that makes light housekeeping odorless, easy and practical, even if the keeper had only one small room.

She had a little box kitchen built outside of the lower part of her window In this there were two shelves, the lower for a gas stove and the upper for a variety of culinary utensils. The window kitchen is a miniature extension, can be made out of a strong pine packing box and attached outside of almost any ordinary window. It must be firmly screwed to the woodwork on either side, and the top slanted and covered with tar paper. A row of holes about an inch in diameter should be bored through each partition of the ministure kitchen, to assure good ventilation and to carry out the steam and odors that come from cooking. A hole must also be bored in the lower sash of the window, large enough for a gas tube to pass through and be connected to the nearest gas jet.

This allows the window to be raised without interferring with the tube.

In warm weather the upper shelf of the window kitchen can be used as a receptacle for the food to complete the kitchen arrangements. Inside the room the inventor had a window seat built and upholstered. The upholstery and hang-ings could be removed while the meal was being prepared and the sess used as a table, while the drawers and compartments and cupboards built underneath served as a receptacle for dishes and table linen. She hung a neat little pair of curtains from the middle sash of the window, which could be moved back and forth when the stove was in operation.

After the dishes had been washed and restored to their shelves and cupboards, the upholstered seat is put back and the end of the couch piled up with pillows. The curtains are drawn, and no one would ever know that a meal had been prepared. The window kitchen in no way interferes with the yentilation of the room, as the upper window can be slid up and down at will.—Cleaveland 'Leader.'

A Few Recipes.

Baked Indian Pudding .- One quart of milk, five tablespoonfulls of meal, three-fourths cup of molasses, salt, cinnamon. Scald a pint of milk, stir in the meal. When cool add the egg. Bake slowly for two hours, adding the rest of the milk while baking.

Election Cake.-Four pounds flour, two and a half pounds sugar, two pounds butter, one scant quart of milk, eight eggs, two whole nutmegs, two teaspoonfulls of cinnamon, two gills reast. Make up flour, yeast and milk exactly like bread; when light add other ingredients one pound of currants, two pounds of raisins. Bake two hours.

'Great grandmother's gingerbread' is given as 'a very old receipe still in use': Four pounds of flour, two pounds sugar, a pound and a half of butter, a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a tablespooful rose water or milk, eight eggs, a half cup of ginger. Roll very thin on flat tin sheets.

Sponge cake.—Here is a special muchprized recipe used for several generations in one family: Ten eggs the weight of the eggs in sugar, the weight of five eggs in flour, grated peel and juice of a lemon. the yolks and sugar together till white and creamy, whip the whites to a stiff froth, put together and stir in flour lightly adding lemon last.

To Pack Cut Flowers

Cut flowers should be packed in a per-fectly dry condition, and whatever packing materials are used should also be dry. Considerable quantities are sent in boxes by rail to distances varying from fifty to three hundred miles in the following manner with perfect success: The bettom and sides of the box are lined with spray and fern fronds; upon that at the asttom is placed a compact layer of buds and such flowers as will not suffer from a little pressure; then comes another layer with the more delicate flowers enveloped singly in a thin piece of wadding, all packed closely. This is followed by a sheet of silver paper, upon which a third and last layer of padded flowers is placed. A thin sheet of soft wadding is placed upon the top, and the lid fastened in the same manner as the first boxes.

 To Wash Flannel.

Flannel should be soaked in cold. hard water before making up, and hung up to dry without any squeezing in the water. If these directions are followed the flannel will not shrink again. Flannel should always be washed in a lather made of boiled soap and water, and the fabric should never be rubbed with soap as it ma's the nap and makes the flanuel Pressed Chicken .- Boil a fowl in just enough water to cook it until the bone will slip out easily. Take off the skin, pick the meat from the bones and mix the white with the dark. Skim the fat off the broth and season with salt, pepper, celery salt and lemon juice, and boil to one cupful. Butter a plain round or oval mold, and arrange slices of hard-boiled eggs upon the bottom and-sides alternately with thin slices of tongue or ham cut into round or fancy forms. Mix the broth with the meat and pack it carefully, and garnish the platter with celery leaves and points of lemon.

You will resume your work which sickness forced you to give up, if you use Broma. All blood and nerve deseases are victoriously combated by that superior preparation. Sold everywhere. * * 4

AN APPARENT MYST ERY FULLY EXPLAINED.

There are thousands of people in Canada with very limited resources who are always well and neatly dressed, but never in debt for the new dress, costume, cape, jacket, suit or overcoat.

The question with many is, "How can men and women dress well when small incomes are barely sufficient to pay rent and living expenses?"

The explanation is simple, but true nevertheless. Wise, economical women call to their aid the magical powers of Diamond Dyes when new creations are needed in wearing apparel for the mother, daughter, father or son. The soiled or dingy dress or costume worn a year of two ago, or it may be a faded or rusty cape, jacket, auit or overcoat that has done service in the past—all are made to look like new at a trifling cost by the use of Diamond Dyes. The Diamond Dyes supply the newest, most fashiouable and most becoming colors for the different seasons. This is one of the great advantages that Damond Dyes.

most fashionable aud most becoming colors for the different seasons. This is one of the great advantages that Diamond Dyes offer to the ladies of Canada. No other package dyes are so strong, fast and brilliant as the Diamond Dyes, and no others so easy to use. All economical and thrifty women use the reliable Diamond Dyes.
