Table to Be Unveiled in Hampton Methodist Church Sunday-Memorial Also of Late Miss Flossie Peters.

Hampton, Kings Co., Nov 19—Next Sunday will be somewhat of a red letter day in the Hampton Methodist church. In the morning there will be an unveiling of a bronse tablet in memory of the late Rev. Edwin Evans, D. D., who died here early last spring, after a life long active service in the ministry of the Methodist church in these provinces, for many years during his superannuation being the superintendent of that fund. The tablet is supplied by members of the church and congregation. The Rev. Howard Spragne, D. D., will be present and preach the sermon.

At the same time there will be unveiled a handsome communion table, the gift of the family of the late Rev. Dr. Evans, in loving memory of its head.

The Girls' Junior League will also place on the pulpit desk a new cushion and a new pulpit Bible in loving memory of Miss Flossie Peters, one of their chief members and active co-workers,
