MILLIONS OF PEOPLE AGONY

Physicians Cornered!

I SUPPOSE there is not in the whole of a physician's experience, anything in human suffering which calls forth his sympathy, and pity, to such an extent, as to witness the excruciating pains of a poor mortal, suffering from that fearful disease.

RHEUMATISM!

Heretofore there has been a considerable diversity of opinion among medical men, as to the true character of this disease. Some locating it in the fibrous or muscular tissues of the system, and others viewing it as an acute nervous disease; but it is now generally admitted to be a disease arising from a poison circulating in the blood, and further it is admitted that Rheumatism can never be thoroughly cured without exterminating such poisonous matters from the blood, by a constitutional internal remedy. We feel confident that none will feel better satisfied, and rejoice more, than the conscientious physician, who has found out that a cure for this stubborn disease has been discovered. The following testimony from a gentleman of standing, and high respectability, and well known to the Canadian public, cannot fail to satisfy all that the

is a wonderful medical discovery.

MR. ISAACSON'S ENDORSATION.

MONTREAL, 21st March, 1874.

Messrs. DEVINS & BOLTON,

Dear Sirs,—I, with pleasure, concede to the agent's wish that I give my endorsation to the immediate relief I experienced from a few doses of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure, having been a sufferer from the effects of Rheumatism, I am now, after taking two bottles of this medicine, entirely free from pain. You are at liberty to use this letter, if you deem it advisable to do so.

I am, Sirs, yours respectfully,

JOHN HELDER ISAACSON, N. P.

FURTHER PROOF.

I AM ANOTHER MAN!

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 29, 1874.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH,

Dear Sir,—I have suffered for fifteen months with Chronic Rheumatism, and could not find any relief, after trying every medicine that I saw advertised to cure it, until I was told about the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have used three bottles of this valuable remedy, and now can say that I am another man to what I was. I would advise anybody suffering with this terrible disease to try it, and see if it does not do the same for them that it did for me.

Yours, JAMES L. DAGLES, Indiantown.

BARNES' HOTEL,

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 29, 1875

A. CHIPMAN SMITH,

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in stating that I put every confidence in your Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have suffered for the last two years with Rheumatic Pains, during which time I have had the advice of some of the most prominent medical men in the Province, and experienced no relief, until I tried the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have now taken three bottles, and I feel greatly improved, and now am confident of a permanent cure.

Yours truly, JAMES O'BRIEN.

There is no medicine which so promptly relieves the depressed vital action, restores the general and local circulation, allays the pain, dissipates the congestion, prevents inflammation, and restores the healthy action as the

DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE!!

This medicine is for sale at all the druggists through Canada. If it happens that your druggist has not got it in stock ask him to send for it to

A. CHIPMAN SMITH.

THE REGIONS OF LOVE.

BY F. W. BOURDILLON.

Who keeps the deep, where the water sleeps
Leagues from the light away?
Who know the heights, where myriad lights
Fill heaven with endless day?

The earth goes on—seeks and loses the sun,
And men in the changes delight;
Love whirls us away into changeless day,
Or whelms us in changeless night.

Sports at Rideau Hall—The Earl of Dufferin at Home.

Cor. of N. Y. Graphic.

Where the Rideau River flows into the Ottawa there is a bridge over the Rideau Falls that connects that part of Ottawa known as "Lower Town" with the little village of New Edinburgh, conspicuous on account of its being the residence of the Governor General. Rideau Hall, or the Castle, as it is called by the villagers, is a large, long, grey stone edifice, with a sudden curve to the right of the broad front entrance that gives it a round-tower look, and somewhat relieves its otherwise irregular soberness. It seems almost out of place in this forest of fir trees, and as though it had been let down from the sky, for the surroundings of the Government houses are very picturesque, and the lake, little mountains, and ravines make it a tiny Switzerland. The hostess of Rideau Hall, Lady Dufferin, gave a skating party last week, and your correspondent was one of the favored few who received a pasteboard card, rather considerable in regard to size, as it was six by eight inches, upon which was printed in script:

"Her Excellency the Countess of Dufferin at home between the hours of three and half-past six."

The words "skating, &c.," were written in the left hand corner by Colonel Fletcher, the Government Secretary Notwithstanding it was my first tea party that had for its presiding genius a real live flesh-and-blood countess, my preparations, as Lunatique would say, "were few." Unlike this celebrated sentimental Frenchman, however, I did not find it necessary to borrow of my uncle. Arriving at the hall I found the greater part of the invited guests out of doors, in the skating-rink, describing both the poetry and prose of motion upon the ice, which was in a splendid condition—provokingly so, for the day was rather cold, being one degree below zero. But pretty girls in pale blue quilted satin petticoats, and brilliant dittos in garnet velvet skating suits, you have seen before, so I will describe a game—that to me was the feature of the afternoon—that a few more adventurous spirits among the company were indulging in, called "taboggining," that was once the amusement of the simple child of the Canadian forest ("Poor Lo," you know.) This "taboggin" is a sled, and consists of a strip of bark about a yard and a half long and one half yard wide curled over in the front like a scroll, and fastened in this curve with an Indian cord called "babeesh." This is furnished with a cushion upon which the passengers or "tabbogginers" are to couch a la Turk—no, they don't either; it's decidedly a la squatte, for you have to tuck your clothes all around you, condense yourself to the utmost, get your feet out of sight and the way; for this vehicle is supposed to accommodate four persons. As the hill by the Hall is not very steep his Excellency has had an artificial embankment built up of plank, which is a groove only wide enough for the "taboggin," and is covered with a thin sheet of ice. Alongside of this is a succession of three ladders and landings, and when you have reached the top of the last and highest you are elevated away up above the Hall. Captain Hamilton (Lady Dufferin's brother) was master of ceremonies at the top of this landing, and gave the "taboggin" its push or "send-off," as I tremblingly followed his Excellency (dragging his "taboggin" behind him), who kindly told me it was "very nice," up the ladder.

"You'd better try it," said Captain Hamilton; "it's rare fun."

"How do you spell it, Captain Hamilton?" said I, wishing to gain time.

"That depends upon the taste and fancy of the speller," he quoted: "I spell it Ta-bog gin," pronouncing each syllable, and laughing at the ruse.

There was no help for it. I threw prudence to the winds, and after Captain Hamilton placed the "taboggin" on the slide, Colonel Stewart (of the Governor's staff) seated himself in front to re-assure me. The inclination is very sudden, and two men have to hold the end of the sled to keep the tabogginers up until the word "Go" is given. I made myself as small as possible, and got on next. Mr. Baker (the Private Secretary) took the rear. "Hold on like grim death!" said the Colonel, and I clung madly to his coat-collar. "One, two, three—go!" What a sensation! You wish you had been a wise virgin and got your lamp trimmed, vow if you get off safe you'll lead a better life, and clutch wildly at your back hair all in a breath. Then the shock is over and you are sliding down with fearful rapidity upon a gentle decline towards the river. Mr. Baker took a twig from one of the trees and planted it in the snow at the farthest point our taboggin reached, and had only time to shout "Out of the way!" when whiz-z-z z, and rushing down towards us came Lord Dufferin and two ladies. But taboggin, alas! is no respector of persons, for it skated off to one side of the path and sent its passengers pell-mell into the snow on the other, and they had barely time to resume a perpendicular when down came Captain Hamilton, solus on his taboggin "stomach to earth," as some say (the little gamins in New York express themselves less elegantly, however) setting at defiance the decorum one would naturally expect from a soldier in the British army. If you wear a false "catogan braid" you had better pin it on tight and leave your good clothes at home if you go tabogginning, otherwise you and they will come to grief. The members of his Excellency's household were especially suitably dressed. Lord Dufferin himself, who entered into the sport with the hearty enjoyment of a schoolboy, wore dark gray pants, tucked in his boots, and over these latter were drawn a pair of brown woollen socks; a short round coat and fur cap completed his toilet. His sister-in-law, Miss Katie Hamilton—a pretty brunette of about seventeen—wore a gray cloth petticoat under a redingote of a darker shade of gray, a "Lady Lorne" sealskin cap resting coquettishly on her head. Captains Hamilton and Ward and Colonel Stewart were encased in shaggy gray blanket

A NEW THING AND A GOOD THING

THE invention of the paper collar was of positive benefit to the world, furnishing as it did, a neat, clean, and most economical article of apparel. But it never did answer all the purposes for which it was designed, owing to the frail nature of the material. The problem has been to make a cloth collar as cheap as paper that would last longer and could be made always fresh and bright. The new "44" collar, now upon the market, fills these requirements perfectly. It is made entirely of cloth, three thicknesses being used; it so closely resembles the finest linen that it might be sold anywhere for linen; and, no matter how much it may be soiled, it can be cleaned and made as bright as ever by the application of a damp sponge or cloth.
