

axton.

( Last Quarter, 5th day, 7h. 39m. morn.

○ New Moon, 12th day, 11h. 36m. morn.

) First Quarter, 19th day, 2h. 3m. morn.

● Full Moon, 26th day, 7h. 55m. aft.

n. Slow.
s. M. S.

5 4 4
1 3 46
2 3 28
3 10
2 51
2 34
2 17
2 0
1 43
1 26
1 10
0 54
0 38
0 22
0 7

Fast.
0 22
0 36
0 50
1 3
1 16
1 29
1 41
1 53
2 4
2 15
2 25
3 35
44
53

D. W.	Moon south.		Rises.		's place.	high water
	H.	M.	H.	M.		H.	M.
1	M	2	55	10	39	secrets	1 27
2	3	41	11	35	thighs	2 2
3	4	28			morn. th.	2 41
4	5	16	0	28	knees	3 29
5	6	5	1	17	kn.	4 27
6	6	55	2	3	kn.	5 42
7	7	45	2	45	legs.	9 0
8	8	36	3	23	lo.	8 11
9	9	28	3	58	feet	9 12
10	10	20	4	32	ft.	10 2
11	11	13	5	5	head	10 45
12	A	0	7		sets. hd.	11 26
13	1	3	A	8	4 neck	morn.
14	2	1	9	20	ne.	0 7
15	3	0	10	32	arms.	0 48
16	4	0	11	39	ar.	1 30
17	4	59			morn. breast	2 17
18	5	56	0	38	br.	3 11
19	6	51	1	29	heart	4 15
20	7	42	2	12	bt.	5 35
21	8	31	2	49	belly	6 55
22	9	17	3	22	be.	8 5
23	10	3	3	51	be.	9 0
24	10	47	4	19	reins	9 46
25	11	30	4	45	re.	10 25
26					morn. rises. secrets	10 59
27	0	14	A	7	40 se.	11 30
28	0	58	8	38	se.	A 0 3
29	1	43	9	35	thighs	0 35
30	2	30	10	29	th.	1 9

APRIL.

A good garden is a necessary appendage to a farm. Earth of a consistence that will hold water longest without becoming hard when dry, is that of all others the best adapted for raising the generality of plants in the greatest perfection.

The great art of improving sandy or clayey soils, is to give to the former such dressings of clay, cow-dung, and other kinds of manure, as will have a tendency to bind and make it more compact, and consequently more retentive of moisture, and to the latter, coats of sandy earth, pond mud, horse dung, &c.

Sow the hardy kinds of seeds, as soil, site, and season will permit, that the plants may be firmly established before they are overtaken by the heat or drought of summer.

Plant some early-blue potatoes, in a spot of good ground near to the house, or in the garden if more convenient. Do not allow cattle of any description, you own, or others, to go upon your meadow in the spring. Commence carting out manure.

Calves and pigs that come about the time will be in good season; but should the weather be occasionally cold, they will require a greater degree of attention and care.

He who lies under the dominion of any one vice, must expect the common effect of it; if lazy, to be poor; if intemperate, to be diseased; if luxurious to die by times.