Should have Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
It saves thousands of lives annually, and is peculiarly efficacious in Croup, Whooping Cough, and Sore Throat. "After an extensive practice of nearly one-third of a century, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is my cure for recent colds and coughs. I prescribe it, and believe it to be the very best expectorant now offered to the people."—Dr. John C. Levis, Druggist, West Bridgewater, Pa. "Some years ago. Ayer's Cherry People." "Some years ago Ayer's Cherry Pec-toral cured me of asthma after the best medical skill had failed to give me re-lief. A few weeks since, being again a little troubled with the disease, I was andon, Dec. 28.-Webb, who murder-Brandon, Dec. 28.—Webb, who murdered his wife on Sep. 1st, was hanged this morning. Yesterday he took a last fare well of his children, and the scene was very affecting. Rev. Mr. Flewellyn romained with the prisoner all night, and Sheriff Clement was with him until 2 colock the morning. As the sheriff was leaving, Webb said, "don't fret about me; I am all tight." At 8 o'clock the hangman entered twebb's cell, and at 8 8 3 the procession walked up the scaffold. Webb walked with a firm step. The black cap was drawn over his face and the moce put round his neck. Rev. Mr. Flewellyn commenced the Lord's Prayer, and at the words, "Thy kingdom come" the drop fell. Death was almost instantaneous. Not a muscle moved nor was there a twitch of the body noticed.

CRIME IN MANITOBA.

Execution at Brandon.

More About the Haffield Murder Winner, Dec. 27.—Additional reports respecting the Haffield murder have been smooring the Haffield murder have been smooring. Haffield lefs Holiand with a lead of freight for Norquay. He was fairly scher, but carried some whiskey. On the way he met some friends with whom he insisted on drinking thin a supply was exhausted, and approached his own house a few miles from Norquay, showing evidence of drunkenness. His wife (who was within two weeks of confinement), and children, prompted by former experience, flad on his approach. He followed his wife and struck her with his hand. This ends Haffield's story. He followed his wife and struck her with his hand. This ends Haffield's story.

John Elder, his neighbor, says that he returned home on Christmas night and found the three; Haffield children, all under six years of age, ouddled up in his bed. He knew of the fear Mrs. Haffield had of her hueband, and as the family had taken refuge with him before that he was only surprised that Mrs. Haffield was not there also: Yet they all epent a sleepless there also; yet they all spent a sleepless night At daylight Elder neard a wagon and Haffield came to the house. He asked mibb At daylight Elder heard a wagon and Haffield came to the house. He saked the children if they would go home, but they begged to be left, although their father urged tham. Upon reaching the house Elder asked Haffield where Mrs. Haffield was, but he cid not know, so Elder passed on, intending to go and search. He had only gone a few hundred feet when he heard Haffield caling and returned. Haffield was much excited and cried:—'Tre found my wife and she's dead.' About forty feet from her own door, prone upon her face, with her arms outstretched, lay the bedy, suiff: frozen. Elder carried the body into the house and placed it upon the bed. He saw the face smashed into an unrocognizable pulp. He saw a pitchfork handle broken into three pieces, and marked with blood, and, turn ing to Haffield, he sain: "Haffield, you've murdered. Your wife." "Yes," said Haffield, "I struck her with my hand." He was taken to Winnipeg gaot. The inquest on the Haffield murder case commenced at Holland tonight. The prisence seems to have been so constantly under her inflance of their later, in the rester to the her inflance of their later, as a sarely to ems to have been so constantly under meems to have been so constantly under the influence of liquor lately as a sarcely to be conscious of his movements. He admits having struck his wife with his hand, but denies tasing any other weapon. The finding of his wife's body was ap-parently a complete surprise to him, and he made no attempt at escape, though he might have done so.

Nearly Cut in Two by a saw. HAMILTON, Dec. 28.-A serious accident Hamilton, Dec. 28.—A serious accident securized near Dundas yesterday afternoon by which Mr. W. J. Borer, a young man aged about 25, was fatally injured. He was engaged in his father's saw mill at Bock chapel, and while grinding a shaft on an emery wiseet the belting caught in the frame and pulled it out of place, causing young Borer to slip. He fell right soross a large circular saw, and his body was out more than half in two. He was satisfied into the house and Dr. Ross quickly summoned, but nothing could be done for the unfortunate man, who inger. done for the unfortunate man, who linger ad until this morning and died at o'clock, retaining consciousness until his death.

Big Fire in Galt.

Gair. Dec. 28.—About 4 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the frame block on the west side of north Water street, and was not got under control until all the wooden buildings in the block, comprising six shops, were destroyed. The stone building at the ends of the burnt block enabled the firemen to prevent the fire from spreading further. The following are the sufferers and the amount of insurance as far as can be ascertained as present:—Horace J. Rattray, tobacco store, insurance on stock, $400 in the Royal Oanadian, which will cover loss; building owned by Andrew Oliver, insured for $150 in the Waterloo Mutual for $150 in the Waterloo Mutual for $3,000; insured in the Waterloo Mutual for $1,000; stock, nearly all removed, insured in Gore District, $1,000; Joseph Unger, barber shop, conk m's mostly saved; W. P. Olsy, grocery, stock damaged about $4,000 insurance $2,0.0 in the Royal and Hartford. Adjoining Clay's was a vacant shop, then Dr. Radford's office, at the back of which surance $2,0.0 in the Royal and Interestra.
Adjoining Olay's was a vacant shop, then Dr. Radford's office, at the back of which the fire was first noticed. The building occupied by Radford, Olay & Urger belonged to the James Kay estate and is a considerable loss. Insurance $700 in Gore District. The cause of the fire is not known.

Contrary to the report, the Mayor of Chatham says that there has not been single case of smallpox in that town. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria of I have now in stock a large portion of my purchases of New Fruits to which I wish specially the draw your attention at this season of the year. The Fruit Crop of 1886 is now to hand and all though a large one, the quantity of choice Fruit is comparatively small, consequently there is a large quantity of low priced goods on the market. Especially is this the case with Raisins, a large groportion of which have been rain damed, and are not desirable goods to buy, and are been greatly advertised at what seems to be low prices for New Fruits, but when compared with being freely advertised at what seems to be low prices for New Fruits, but when compared with prime or 'elected Fruit they are dear. I have been careful to purchase only Prime and Belected Fruit, so that parties purchasing from me may rely on getting

NEW FRUITS.
