THE MOSQUE OF ST SOPHIA AT CONSTANTINOPLE.

A mosque, you perhaps know, is the place of worship which the Mohammedans use. It is what the church is to the Christian; what the synagogue is to the Jews; and what the temple is to the heathen idolater.

The mosque of St. Sophia is the largest mosque in Constantinople. It was built in the year 532 by the Emperor Justinian as a Christian church, and was used as such for many hundreds of years. They say it took six years to build, and cost one million of pounds.

It was when the Turks took Constantinople, in the year 1453, that this fine building was turned into a mosque; and it has been so ever since. Here the Sultan comes every day to say his prayers. He usually rides on a horse, with some of his slaves and soldiers about him. One of his slaves carries a carpet, cal-
