What does it profit a woman if she gain the whole world of knowledge and lose her own health? Young women students, and school teachers, eager, ambitious, and full of energy, very often neglect their health in the struggle to gain education. They eat insufficient food, and at irregular hours, they allow irregularity of the womanly functions to be established, and the result is that they become chronic invalids with their education practically worthless. There is a plain road back to health for such as these, marked by the feet of thousands. It is the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for diseases of the stomach and digestive and nutritive organs, and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for diseases of the delicate organs of womanhood. A cure so certainly follows the use of these remedies that out of hundreds of thousands who have tried the treatment, ninety-nine in every hundred have been perfectly and permanently cured. Constipation, with its calamitous consequences, which is a common ailment of students, can be entirely cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

DARRELL.

The Misses Tompkins entertained a number of their friends on Tuesday evening, Oct. 6. All enjoyed the evening immensely.

The anniversary services will be conducted, both morning and evening, Sunday, Oct. 18th, by the Rev. Mr. Downs.

The second football match of the league series was played at Kent Bridge, Saturday, Oct. 10th, Darrell being the victors. The game commenced at 4.45 p. m., Kent Bridge having won the toss. The strong wind, westerly wind was blowing towards Darrell's goal and this was an extreme embarrassment to the visitors; nevertheless, they had the best of the game in the first half, and several pretty shots were made by Gregory, Abraham and Ted. The mighty wind, more powerful than man, would not permit Darrell to score in the first half. By half time the wind had considerably dropped. With the change of goals French in goal ceased to have anything to do. With the strong defence nothing could get near him. Darrell now repeatedly drove the ball to the defenders' stakes, Bonnie and Jenks making many gallant rushes, but of no avail. Now French rushed in and planted the ball so nicely through K. B.'s stakes that their cheers were completely lulled. The game was now won. The ball was taken to the centre and K. B. made a desperate rush on Darrell's goal, but French was there only to run the ball nearly to K. B.'s goal again. After a few minutes time was called, the ball being at the mouth of K. B.'s goal. Although both teams worked desperately, no one was injured. The visitors enjoyed a fine supper at Mr. S. Langford's.

Referee Anderson's decisions were, apparently, perfectly satisfactory to both parties.

Walker Bennie, of Dover, who had his elbow dislocated at the Fair, was able to join Darrell in their sport at Kent Bridge on Saturday.

What the Thunderer says.

Of all the good words that have been said of "Canada: An Encyclopædia"—none is more emphatic than this recent declaration of the London Times—the Thunderer—the greatest Daily Newspaper of the world:—

"It is no disparagement of the other works relating to North America to say that by far the most interesting and important is the work entitled 'Canada: An Encyclopædia' of the Country. The plan is unique, ambitious and comprehensive. It gives in six volumes a survey of the past and present of the Dominion in all its chief aspects. No side of Canadian life is omitted: the work is all that the title implies—a true cyclopædia of information relative to the whole Dominion: a personal authoritative and complete record of Canadian history, growth and resources."

Volumes of statement could not convey more than words like these coming from a source to which every British subject instinctively takes off his hat. The toilsome years that have been spent in the preparation of the work can never appear to be labor in vain. In the presence of such praise the value of this Encyclopædia must be evident to all. And this testimonial is but one of hundreds that we have received from the greatest living authorities. The work itself is the achievement of two hundred and twenty-eight eminent Canadian writers and specialists, a library of reference about Canada to which there is not even an approach existing in any other form, a living monument to the progress of the Great Dominion. Grand in its conception, colossal as an undertaking, and wonderful in its execution, "Canada: An Encyclopædia" has been unanimously accorded its rightful place among the best productions of its class, the great Encyclopædias of the world. To possess these volumes is the duty of every true Canadian, and the prices and terms are such that the publishers have made this possible. The work is complete in six volumes (with a special index volume added without charge) and there is no man in the Dominion, who is capable of earning ordinary wages, who cannot well afford to own it. If you will write to us for terms, we will send you sample pages and prove to you that this statement is plain fact. Having had a large advance sale among people of means throughout the Dominion we are now able to offer "Canada: An Encyclopædia" on terms that place it within the easy buying power of the humblest wage earner. If you have no other books make this the beginning of your library. It is a library in itself, a mine of information about the thing in which you are most interested—your country. Write us to-day, for the number of sets on hand is daily becoming more limited.

Engaged lovers in the Canary islands find it difficult to exchange sweet confidences, as the young man is not allowed to visit his fiancée in her home. He goes to her house and, finding her at the window, must talk to her from the street. Sometimes her window is perhaps ten or twelve feet above the road. Therefore he must talk loudly, and very often members of the girl's family are unseen listeners.

PURITY. LAGER BEER

"The Beer That is Brewed in Glass"

We use the mechanical refrigeration (ice machines) instead of natural ice for cooling both the beer and our cellars because it is the only sanitary method and temperatures are controlled with absolute certainty, enabling a brewer to produce far better beer.
We have duplicate refrigerating machines to provide against injury to the beer on account of improper refrigeration, arising from accident to machinery.
We do not manufacture ice and cool with it but we remove the heat from the rooms thereby producing cold.
The natural ice method is antiquated and unsanitary.
All things being equal, a home industry is entitled in preference but in brewing the investment required to produce a reasonably perfect beer is so large that but few will undertake it providing their intention is to furnish a PUBE, WHOLESOME and PROPERLY AGED BEER.
A properly constructed and equipped plant can hardly be constructed, equipped and operated on an investment of less than $75,000.
We use large necked bottles to permit of cleaning properly. It is almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse a small necked bottle and if not cleaned the beer is sure to become infected and poisonous poisoning follows.
Lager beer that is too young or improperly finished will produce a towel trouble, but the expense and risk in carrying beer to a proper age causes many to dodge it and let the consumer pay the penalty.
We have storage capacity for over 200,000 gallons of Lager, Ale and Porter in bulk, exclusive of our bottle storage cellars, and ship only thoroughly matured goods.
