

FOR OTTAWA

and Sugrue Will Go Today.

of the Four Delegates Will Go—Congdon and Williams Remain delegates selected a week ago to represent at Ottawa in opposition to the gold grant which the Klondike mining interests...

the rubber-shod rough with a racket, the ass on the asphalted path, the half-witted hurler of hammers, the lubber that leaps at a lath...

Age Line. O., Ltd. Days Only. 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. and 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. via Hinkley Creek, 2 a. m. every other day...

Did It Catch Your Eye?

iciously Used. Time.

have barrels. complete line Dawson.

u Fixed

Printing Line copy you with to a blank

Our Delight.

red Yesterday.

Printery

The Tribulations of Two Stampeders.

What Kipling Omitted.

The list of British sports to which Mr. Kipling has recently made such graceful allusion is unfortunately very incomplete. The following lines will (possibly) be inserted in future editions—

The rubber-shod rough with a racket, the ass on the asphalted path, the half-witted hurler of hammers, the lubber that leaps at a lath, the ruffian riding in red, and the baby in gaiters that shoots. The fatuous flapper of flies, and the sounder with skates on his boots.

The lout that loafs on the links, with his lingo of "lies" and "the like." The blundering, bent-backed bouncer that buckets along on a bike. The bare-legged boobies in boats.

ONE

"Charley dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "there is one favor I want to ask of you. I hope you will realize it is for your own good and not get angry."

"What is it?"

"I want you to solemnly promise me that you will never bet on a horse that isn't going to win."—Washington Star.

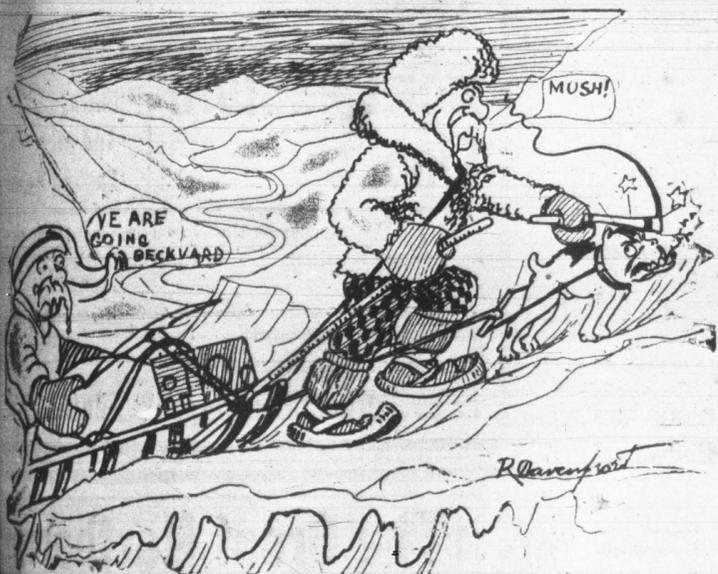

"You've had some acquaintance with Miss Withers; is she really as dull as most people seem to think her?"

"Dull? Well, I should say not. She cuts me every time we chance to meet."—Richmond Dispatch.

The Tramp—"Yes'm, I've tried to cure the drink habit."

Miss Good—"You have?"

The Tramp—"Yes'm, I'm tryin' the faith cure now, an' I'd like to get

TWO

THREE

FOUR

FIVE

SIX

each bent on becoming a "blue." The cross-headed crooks playing croquet, the capulous cad with a cue.

The maniacs mounted on motors that murder a man every mile, and I think you will freely admit that I've bettered my earlier style.)

—Westminster Gazette.

First Kentuckian—Do you thing that mesmerist who is giving shows at Ouh town hall is an impostor, is he?

Second Kentuckian—No, indeed, Ma'am. No, indeed. Why, 'sub, las' night I saw him make Kunnel Souah-drink wateh an' smack 'is lips with it, 'sub.—Baltimore American.

Send a copy of Goetzman's Souve-nir to outside friends. A complete historical history of Klondike. For sale at all news stands. Price $2.50.

a nickel to see if I cud keep wit'out spendin' it fer beer."—Puck.

Trains Come Together.

Spokane, Feb. 13. — North and southbound passenger trains, on the O. R. & N., mixed up in a head-on collision today, at Rockford, at 8:40 a. m. The train which left Spokane this morning was standing on the sidetrack at Rockford when the north-bound passenger came in. The switchman declares the switch was thrown, but became clogged with snow. The incoming train forced it over and swung onto the sidetrack, crashing into the southbound passenger. Both engines were badly battered, but fortunately neither trainmen nor passengers were seriously injured, though three or four received bruises.

Job Printing at Nugget office.