BENEFICIAL EFFECTS OF SCHOOL FAIRS

School fairs are to the boys and girls of the land what the larger fairs are to adults. By this time they should be thoroughly organized; prize lists published and circulated and programmes of proceedings prepared, the two indeed given in one publication. These fairs increase in number every year and are proving of inestimable value in the agricultural education of the young and even in beneficially influencing the more mature. Of course boys' and girls' clubs are the principal feeders of the fairs, but entries are usually accepted from children who are not members of any such organization. Agricultural Representatives all testify to the splendid effect the fairs are having upon farm life and agricultural pursuits generally. One, for instance, writes "I do not know of any one thing which is a greater factor in improving the farm production and the farm industry of the country than the school fairs. In addition to bringing direct, practical results, school fairs have had a very effective influence in encouraging teachers to take up the teaching of agriculture in the public schools." Another says: "The importance of the school fair cannot be over-emphasized. It teaches our future farmers how they can take the most out of the soil. It makes our rural people better and happier." In recognition of the truth of the old adage "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" a programme of sports is usually included in the days list of proceedings.

An officer on board a warship was drilling his men.

"I want every man to be on his back, put his legs in the air, and move them as if he were riding a bicycle," he explained.

"Now commence." After a short effort, one of the men stopped.

"Why have you stopped, Murphy?" asked the officer.

"If ye please, sur," was the answer. "O'm coastin'."

To be Chaplain—Major D. G. Ross, Kentville.

To be Paymaster, Captain E. M. Arnold, Kentville.

BURNT FORESTS DON'T PAY

Burnt forests provide no freight traffic, neither do they pay wages to the workman, profit to the merchant or revenue to the Government. Fire is the great enemy, taking eight times as much toll as the axe. It is to the interest of every citizen to reduce this loss.

THE KEEPING OF POULTRY

If resident in either town or country and you wish to know how best to keep poultry and secure the most satisfactory results, consult a pamphlet treating of the subject prepared by the Dominion Poultry Husbandman, F. C. Elford, and recently issued by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. The pamphlet can be had free on application to the Publications Branch. It tells of how poultry can be made to pay, how the birds should be housed and fed, how they should be treated in winter and summer, how to commence keeping in a small way, the equipment that is desirable, how to choose a breed, how to hatch and rear, and how to gather, keep, or market the eggs. In short all the essentials to success in poultry keeping for home consumption or selling are clearly and explicitly explained. In the term poultry are included turkeys, geese, ducks, guinea fowls and pigeons, the raising and care of which are fully discussed. Numerous illustrations of types of birds, and of methods of housing and feeding contribute to make the pamphlet an invaluable compendium on poultry-keeping and marketing.

NEWSPAPER COSTS

(From the Brantford Expositor.)
 The reason the newspaper morgue is so full is shown by an editor who has been investigating the cause of so many newspaper demises. He figures out that in 1907 wages were at 100. In 1914 they had advanced to 178, and in 1921 the figure was 393. Newsprint from 100 jumped to 177 in 1914, and to 623 in 1921. Newspaper postage, which cost the normal of 100 in 1907, was 147 in 1914, and 337 in 1921. Editorial expense jumped from 100 in 1907 to 120 in 1914, and 241 in 1921. Miscellaneous expenses went from 100 in 1907 to 124 in 1914, and to 244 in 1921. Taking the average of all newspaper costs, it was found that while the average in 1907 was 100, in 1914 it was 159, and in 1921 it reached the high mark of 411. It is not surprising with such figures that over 4,000 newspaper publications have gone out of existence in the United States and a corresponding number in Canada.

There are two little words, simple enough in themselves, that introduce untold trouble in the world and responsible for more gossip, scandal and harm than any two words in the English language. These two words are nothing more than "They say." They have done more to ruin the reputations than all other things. If you never quote what "they say" you may be quite certain you are not a gossip.

Read The Advertisements

THE PUBLISHERS of this paper draw your attention to the advertising columns, and particularly to the advertisements of our merchants.

These merchants have invested their money in goods to satisfy the needs and desires of us all.

Their enterprise is a distinct service to our whole community. For this reason we should buy from them to the best of our ability and in so far as our needs and judgment of value dictate.

Then, too, the general commodities advertised in our columns are worthy of consideration. It is desirable that readers should ask merchants to supply advertised goods wherever possible. By doing so the cycle of trade is kept alive and inter-community commerce stimulated.

WE REPEAT—READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS.
