THE VERDICT OF YORK.

The County of York gave a splendid answer to the malicious attacks that have been made upon the government and especially upon the Attorney General. For two years a paper whose circulation was almost exclusively among friends of the government devoted itself to the congenial labor of misrepresenting and vilifying the administration, and although the Farmer and to some extent the Reporter rendered loyal aid in its defence, their circulation was not among those who were regaled from week to week by the Gleaner's pabulum. That these repeated and, so far as the majority of those who read them unanswered attacks must have produced some effect will be conceded; the surprise is that they produced so little; necessary to keep in mind that this bitter- do with the attempted personation.

ly hostile agency was at work. As during the campaign THE HERALD had no words of abuse for its opponents, so now it has none. The county has pronounced its verdict and with this THE HERALD is satisfied. Mr. Blair who was the target of every attack and whose humiliation was the sole object of his opponents, leads the poll with a majority of 744 over his principal opponent. Mr. Wilson is a good second and Messrs. Anderson and Bellamy are well to the front. The largeness of the ticket's majority is not more a testimony to the popularity of the government in this county than it is to the individual worth and good standing of the gentlemen who have been elected. The result of the election is that York retains her influence in the legislature and has four able and experienced representatives

The vote in the city was a serious disappointment to the opposition. They had counted much upon the city. Mr. Gregory had been mayor of Fredericton several times; he was better known here than sacred name to give point to his low, scurstood and so on. This was the way the that the misdeeds of those who profess to opposition talked. We did not dispute be apostles of purity are so base that they disposed to admit them. Mr. Gregory was at the foot of the poll in Fredericton. which shows that where he was best known he was least wanted. His vote in the county is not to be taken as indicative of the opposition strength, for divided ballot. He must realize that the position notwithstanding their well known | Europe yielded he expressly desired to measure his feat of the administration. strength with that of Mr. Blair. He would Lellan was quite unexpected. He was a not been for Mr. Allen's assistance.

AFTER THE BATTLE.

Gregory's organ reflecting upon the At-These charges are absolutely untrue. The Attorney-General expressly refused to authorize, countenance or approve of liquor being used, and no liquor was used or purchased for use with the knowledge, Kent and Carleton appear to have thought consent or sanction of any member of the government ticket. This statement will be corroborated by all the workers on the government side, who will bear witness that whenever the question of using liquor was mooted the ticket were unanimous in The allegations that some liquor was received from St. John by express and that some was hauled from the station by the government horses, though made with so much circumstantiality, are absolutely untrue. They are simply falsehoods made out of whole cloth, the particulars being invented to give them a plausibility which a mere naked assertion would not have. Of the same character was the statement the government horses hauled wood into the Attorney General's yard and that the Attorney General kept a horse or horses at the government stable. These statements are false in every particular. The government horses have never done any hauling for the Attorney General and he has never kept a horse at the government etable. These denials if untrue can be easily disproved. Another class of falsehoods which the Gleaner has published are those relating to the conduct of the Attorney General on polling day. There is the statement that the attempted to have somebody personate Col. Hewitson. The actual fact is that the attempt to personate the Colonel was made by a person acting under the direction of one of Mr. Gregory's most active workers and was fristrated because Mr. Rossborough challenged the vote at the suggestion of the Attorney General. The allegation that Mr. Blair was a party to an attempt to impose upon one Arnold, who is blind, or that he had anything whatever to do with imposing upon him if he was imposed upon, is simply an untruth, told deliberately. A further reference is made to the Hewitson matter elsewhere.

If it were worth while it would be easy to meet these charges with others. That Mr. Gregory was lavish in the use of liquor and money is well known; that he bought as many votes as were purchasable cannot be denied. We do not propose to say what portion of his total vote was obtained in this way, but his agents at the several polls had plenty of money or liquor at their DECLARATION DAY in St. John was very quiet. The victors while very jubilant naturally over their success coincided that it was a surprise to them. They were moderate in their remarks and made no pretence that the government would be defeated when the House met. The Gleaner on Friday reiterates its statement in regard to the attempted personation of Mr. John Hewitson vote notwithstanding the Attorney Generals explicit John Moore one of Mr. Gregory's active supporters authorizes the statement to be made that he was the person who brought up the man who attempted to personate John Hewitson and that the man went up to the ballot box with the Gregory-Allen ticket in his hand. TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

The statement first made in the Gleaner and reiterated last evening to the effect that "Mr Blair took a man to the Court House on election day to personate John Hewitson" is not true to our personal knowledge. It may be added, however, that not even those who take the most extreme position on the question of future probation relax in the slightest degree the rules which ought to govern a well-ordered life. Indeed the "Liberal" school insists in the strongest possible terms upon purity of life, and places before the people the highest and noblest ideal of a christian. Mr. Dalton McCarthy has introduced a bill into Parliament to abolish the use of

THE assertion of the Gleaner that the government carried York by the use of rum and money is not only false but it is in the worst possible taste. A more gratuitous insult to the constituency can hardly be conceived. Mr. Gregory's organ asserts that Mr. Gregory is shown by the returns to be the strongest man in the county, allowance being made for the votes purchased by the use of money and rum. As Mr. Gregory is nearly 800 behind Mr. Blair this means that a quarter of the voters in this constituency not only can be but were bought up with a few dollars and a drink. This is the reply Mr. Gregory makes to the county for having for the third time refused to elect him.

G. R. PARKIN is lecturing in England on Imperial Federation and is being very well received. Without discussing the merits of his cause, we gladly chronicle Mr. Parkin's growing popularity and success.
