The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

There, there little girl, don't cry.
They have broken your doll, I know,
And your tea set blue,
And your playhouse, too,
Are the things of the long ago, But childish troubles will soon pass by
There, there, little girl, don't cry." —James Whitcomb Riley.

A little girl passed us on the street the other day, crying piteously. Her small mouth was drawn down into lines of deepest woe, and she looked to use the familiar expression, quite as if she had lost her last friend.

Said my companion, "And to think that probably there's nothing any more serious the matter than she's lost a penny, or torn her dress! Funny, isn't it, what fuss we used to make over our foolish little troubles? If we could have known what we'd have to face when we grew up!"

Is it so funny?
Is it so strange that the ant is greatly troubled, because someone has kicked a stone onto his ant hill?

Is it queer that he doesn't realize that if he were a man, that stone wouldn't look like anything to him?

It seems to me that this cheery "for childish troubles will soon pass by" attitude, such as my companion assumed, is all too common among us grown-ups.

The truth that a child's little trouble, which he will forget in an hour, is just as serious to him during that hour, as a grief which overshadows a life time is during its greater duration to a grown-up, is something very few grown-ups seem to be able to realize.

And yet ask our own experience if it is not so. How else can you explain that at forty, fifty or sixty you still remember your disappointment—that time you were sick and couldn't go to the circus—as keenly as you grown-up grief at missing some truly splendid and life-changing opportunity. How else do you account for the fact that a woman of eighty-five told me that she could never yet eat a certain kind of spice cake, without remembering the terrible day when she was whipped, and sent to bed for pilfering one. Don't these things look as if the griefs must have been pretty intense, while they lasted, to leave such an impression?

The truth is that a child has not yet acquired any sense of perspective. He has no breadth of view. All the objects that he looks at are very close to his eyes. Now hold a tiny object—a thimble or a penny—up close to your eye and see how large it looks, and how much of the outlook it can obscure. Well, that's just the way the child sees his griefs.

And again, we must remember that a child's experience of disappointment is much smaller than ours. Experience has made us wary of hoping too much, but the child regards it as a matter of course that what he wants, that he shall have at once, and hence his disappointment, even in little things, is proportionately keener. As Mrs. Browning puts it somewhere, the child cries for the moon, and beats its nurse when he doesn't receive it, but the old man stirs his gruel with avidity and thanks Heaven if nobody beats him.

Don't belittle, laugh at, or pass to lightly over the baby's troubles. If you are ever inclined to do so, call to your mind how trivial and transient your own great grief undoubtedly looks to an intelligence a thousand times farther beyond yours, than your own is beyond the child's.

Honored by Women

When a woman speaks of her silent secret suffering she trusts you. Millions have bestowed this mark of confidence on Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. Everywhere there are women who bear witness to the wonder-working, curing power of Dr.
Pierce's Favorite Prescription —which saves the suffering from pain, and successfully grapples with woman's weaknesses and stubborn ills.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG IT MAKES SICK WOMEN WELL

No woman's appeal was ever misdirected or her confidence misplaced when she wrote for advice, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr.
R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets infuse mild natural bowel movement once a day.

Household Notes.

When sewing on buttons, especially on garments that are to be laundered, if the knot in the thread is placed on the upper side of the garment, so it will come under the button the button will not come off easily. In washing the knot is rubbed off and the thread loosened.

To clean a carpet sweeper remove the brush, and after taking off all the hairs and lint, rub it well with a cloth wet in kerosene. Let the brush remain in the air until the odor has evaporated. The sweeper will leave the carpets and rugs looking much brighter after this treatment.

Pillow slips made from tubing may be given a longer lease of life by reversing the end seam. Rip the seam and turn half way around from the way it was at first, so that the former side folds are now in the center, then stitch up again. This gives a new surface for the heavier wear, and doubles the service of the pillowslips.

Tighten your wringer as tight as possible, then after a table cloth is well rinsed and folded even, put it in hot water and then wring it through the wringer. Roll it up in a sheet and let it lie from four to six hours, and then iron until perfectly dry. Do the napkins in the same way. They will be perfectly smooth and look like satin.

A good way to clean and preserve mattings is to dampen your broom with coal oil or kerosene before sweeping. This keeps the dust from rising and settling on the furniture, which is so destructive, and also keeps your mattings bright and new. Especially in winter, when the room is more or less closed, it is better to sweep mattings in this way.

If a little starch is added to the rinsing water of all cotton goods they will wash much more easily. The dirt comes out with the starch. And they will iron about as readily as unstarched goods if ironed before being allowed to become thoroughly dry.
(By the same rule, painted ceilings wash easier if gone over first with starch water.)

Every housewife knows how much work it takes to keep the gas stove clean. Take a piece of asbestos the size of the top of the stove and cut holes the size of the burners. By putting this on the stove when preparing a meal the stove remains clean for weeks without any polishing. One piece of asbestos will last two or three months.

A corn-popper is very useful for washing raisins or other small fruits, as the cover can be locked and the whole shaken in a pan of water, or when held under the faucet the wire mesh breaks the force of the stream and the fruit is not as likely to be crushed or bruised. Try this for raisins and currants now, and remember it when berries are ripe.

THE EARTH.

By H. L. RANN.

The earth is a round ball which has been beating a tortuous path around the sun for several million years without bucking anybody off the right of way. The earth is said to be 9,120,000,000 miles from the sun, although there are times when it seems to be closer. When the earth is nearest to the sun it is said to be in perihelion. People spell this word with two l's in the dog days.
Adam was the first inhabitant of the earth, and he liked it so well that he hung on until he was 930 years old and beat all the fraternal insurance companies then doing business.
Everybody thought the earth was flat until Christopher Columbus sprang the egg trick on Ferdinand and Isa-bella. This trick would have been more successful, we are told, if the egg which Christopher used had not fled so long. History relates that immediately after the egg broke Ferdinand lost interest in the proceedings and retired to a quiet spot to sprinkle a little perfume on his mustache. Isa-bella stuck it out, however, and paw-d a bright new Waterbury watch in order to enable Columbus to come over and teach his trick to some of our after dinner speakers. The earth is now inhabited by a large number of people who are well pleased with their location, some of whom live a good deal longer than the neighbours consider necessary. It produces a great variety of crops, including political bunk and perennial candidates. The earth is held in place by the force of gravity and supported by an old-gentleman named Atlas, who has a muscular development which makes Santolo look like an anti-fat patient after six free treatments. It is a very pleasant place to live in and most people separate themselves from it with unconcealed regret.

Prescription "A."

CURES:
INDIGESTION and DYSPEPSIA
in all its forms.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headaches. I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself, and at times I care for nothing."
"I often have a pain in the pit of the stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exercise. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a feeling of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems not worth living."

Why suffer from all these symptoms? when STAFFORD'S PRES-SCRIPTION "A" will cure you.

Try a bottle.

Puts an End to Stomach Misery

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia vanish in five minutes.

Every family here ought to keep some Diapiesin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of Indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of Indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin, and take a little just as soon as you can.
There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or intestinal griping.
This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.
Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery at any drug store, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure almost any chronic case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other Stomach trouble world.

Furness Liners Arrive.

The S. S. Shanandoah, Capt. Trinich, arrived in port at 7 a.m. to-day after eleven days passage from London.
Shortly after leaving she experienced the usual strong head winds but did not retard progress and the ship made a good run. She was off Capt Spear yesterday, but could not venture in owing to the thick fog that prevailed.
The Shanandoah brought 800 tons of cargo and two passengers in transit.
She sails for Halifax at noon to-morrow.

The S. S. Almeriana, Capt. Fairclough, 12 days from Liverpool, reached port at noon to-day. The ship encountered terrific weather the entire passage. She steamed through skirts of slob ice in the vicinity of Cape Race and also sighted several large icebergs there. She brought 1,450 tons of cargo and 8 bags and 19 baskets of mail matter. The Almeriana is now anchored in the stream and will berth at Pitts' premises after the sailing of the Shanandoah.

Mayor Ellis Honoured.

Letters received by friends from Mayor W. J. Ellis, say that he is now in New York, and for several days had been the honored guest of Mayor Gaynor of the great metropolis of the west, New York. The Mayor did the city with Mr. Ellis; showed him through the municipal buildings and various public structures, helped him see the sights and admitted him to the weekly aldermanic meeting which citizens are not permitted to attend. Mr.
Ellis sat on the right of the mayor of New York at the convention and Mr.
Ellis was delighted with the courtesy shown him. Mr. Ellis has also been introduced to some of New York's greatest financiers and has interested them not alone in this country generally, but also in the project of building a new hotel here, which he thinks will soon materialize, backed as the project will be by American capital.
