

Wesley Church Jottings.

Very able sermons were preached at the above church yesterday by the pastor, Rev. F. R. Matthews, B. A. The morning discourse was on the "Duty of the proper observance of the Lord's Day," as enforced by the Divine Command. "Six days shall thou labour and do all thy work." In the evening the subject was "Keep thyself pure," a contrast with the terrible results of vicious conduct, as instanced by Ahab, the notoriously wicked King of Judah, and others, which are as so many warning beacons, he urged purity of conduct and conversation, and the great need of mothers affording every possible means to keep their daughters at home, and from the temptation and sins of large cities.

At the close of the sermon Rev. W. J. Norman of Toronto University, now on a visit here, sang "The Dawn of Redemption," by Hamilton Gray. It was a very fine effort as the reverend gentleman has a magnificent baritone voice.

Quite an Attraction.

Yesterday hundreds of people visited the S. S. Neptune at Job Bros. & Co.'s premises. On board the ship is a polar bear from the northern regions. It is very wild and look at a huge animal which shakes the heavy iron cage in which it is confined. Venturesome boys yesterday tried to torment the animal but soon discovered the risk they ran.

A Time to Part.

Rev. Rural Dean Hollands announced at the evening service on Sunday last his early departure from the Mission of Trinity, having been appointed incumbent of Carbonara, to succeed the Rev. Canon Colley, who, very recently, closed his 21 years of labour in that town, and left shortly after for England. The Rev. Mr. Hollands has worked zealously for the church since coming here and his leaving is regretted.—Trinity Enterprise.

NO STRIKE.—A report circulated that there was a strike among the railway constructors on the Trepassey branch railway is not true. We have the assurance of Mr. Rioux that nothing of the kind has occurred.

Why Wonder?

Some people are still wondering why the Trinity Spur remains uncompleted, especially when so many Trinity Bight men are in need of employment owing to the poor fishery.

We would remind all such that the Agricultural Exhibition has been postponed "until next year," and this will recall to their minds the letter from the Colonial Secretary, who, when announcing the intention of holding an Exhibition in Trinity this Autumn, also announced that as the Spur would probably be ready for opening about the same time, the two events might be combined.

The failure to complete the Spur then, must also be blamed to bad growing weather, and until Contractor Reid and the Agricultural Board get on good terms with the Toronto weather man both Spur and Exhibition will have to remain "in contemplation."

It is presumed that the "official notice" postponing the opening of the Spur will be published as soon as some of the members of the Executive get back from their summer vacations.—Trinity Enterprise, Sept. 14, 1912.

Dog Irons Found.

While Mr. Edward Murphy, of the West End, was out on Canon Hill, near Petty Harbor, a few days ago, he made a strange find. Under the earth he found a soldier's encampment with the ancient dog irons in it, and also found several other old things reminiscent of the days when the British and French fought for supremacy over the Bay Bulls Ridge.

Amid prayers and dirges the body was placed in the tomb.

Baseball Match.

In an interesting game, the Imperial Tobacco Company's Baseball Team defeated the Reid Newfoundland Co. by 11 runs to 9. The contest took place at Stancombe's Field, and was attended by a fairly large crowd. The many spectacular plays kept the spectators on edge throughout the game. For the Reid company, Morris pitched a very effective game for six innings, but in the seventh he weakened and the Tobacco Factory obtained 7 runs. W. Morris who succeeded him did very well. For the winners, Wiley pitched an excellent game, and grew stronger as the game progressed, only one run being made off his delivery in the last five innings. The score and line up were as follows:

A Few Facts and Questions for Morris.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—perhaps your readers will find food for thought if they will bear in mind in considering the amounts paid to Reid for arbitrations now being published in the Chronicle that

1. Morris voted for both the 1888 and the 1901 Contracts.
2. Morris was a legal member of the Government that made the 1901 Contract on its legal effects.
3. Morris was counsel for the Colony in all the Arbitrations.
4. When Bond got a new Attorney-General—Kent promptly stopped all arbitrations in the Supreme Court. And ask themselves
  1. How can Morris reconcile his vote for both Contracts?
  2. Why did not Morris as legal member of the Government of 1901 advise it of the effects of the 1901 Contract?
  3. Why did not Morris stop the arbitrations while he was Attorney-General?
  4. How is it that Kent stopped them as soon as he became Attorney-General?

Perhaps the result of a little consideration to the above facts and questions will guide them in solving the question as to the responsibility for the Colony's large payments to the Reids for arbitration awards.

Yours truly,

Wedding Bells.

At St. Andrew's Altar in the R. C. Cathedral a very pretty wedding ceremony last evening. The bridegroom was Mr. Thos. Condy, the popular wine and spirit dealer of Water Street. The bride was a very pretty and popular young lady in the person of Miss Fannie Keefe of Riverhead, Mr. Grace, in tying the nuptial knot Very Rev. Monsignor Roche officiated. The groomsmen were the well known painter and decorator, Mr. Thos. McGrath and Miss Minnie Keefe, sister of the bride, gave the usual attentions to that young lady. A large number of the friends of both witnessed the ceremony. The presents were numerous, pretty, and many of them very valuable. After a reception, which the wedding party drove to O'Rourke's at Holyrood where the honeymoon will be spent. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Condy all success and happiness in life.

BONNE BAY VISIT

Exposes Morris's Weakness.

Received a Chilly Reception, Marked Absence of Enthusiasm, Flags and Cheering—His Talk of Picnic Party Progress Received With a Snigger— Bonne Bay Branch Will be 55 Miles Long Instead of 25 Miles, as Morris Estimated— Morris and Mott Are Down and Out in St. Barbe's.

Special to Evening Telegram: BONNE BAY, Saturday.

The Tories feel the frost and unseasonable weather. The cause is the presence of Sir E. P. Morris, the Premier of the Picnic Party Government in this ancient, steadfast and unwavering stronghold of Liberalism. A reception, of course, there was one, if you persisted in looking for it with a microscope. Why as many as six hard-shelled picnic kites met, assembled and congregated together toward a boisterous welcome to the versatile Ratter, and oh, yes, there were flags a flying. Five displays were made—just count 'em, five in the land where there is bunting aplenty for ordinary occasions. Not a gun, not a cheer was heard, as the big Picnic Chief lauded, accompanied by the man whom the St. Barbe electors have persevered in defeating every time he has offered himself for election, that at least four times. My, my! Such a funeral note. Oh, yes, and there was also a meeting, non-political, of course, and Sir E. P. was applauded also, certainly. Oh, yes, Bonne Bay folk always like to pay for a display they witness. A bit of a snicker ran through the meeting as Premier Morris carefully explained the big improvements made in our Coastal Service. But the ghosts of the dear departed herring bait that rotted on our wharves here, crowded out of the Home, while the Solway sojourned on the other end of the District, were too indecent and too odorous for the bluffer to work his little game. Moreover the people had lurid visions of the mail service this summer with the several intermissions of mails and one for weeks. Hoopay for the Picnic Party progress.

Bah. Folks are making anxious inquiries for the forty favoured fishermen in this district who are receiving old age pensions. Oh where, tell us where they can be hiding. The big chief, unfortunately, became partisan, albeit, it was an unwitting slip, when he scores the Bond Government as the political apprentices. Did somebody say Sir Edward was second in command of that party until personal ends caused him to rat therefrom. Now don't be unkind, please, and oh, yes, he didn't explain how he himself, a master statesman, so badly underestimated the length of the branch railways and the cost thereof. Of course, inadvertently, the Bonne Bay line was estimated at twenty-five miles. The surveyor expects that fifty-five miles of rails will have to be put down to bring the iron horse here. Premier Morris carefully avoided going into particulars especially regarding his railway loans, and the Morrison scandal, trusting to bluff with generalities. He was given a fair hearing.

Bonne Bay does not copy the Bishops of Western Bay in throwing political opponents over the wharf. Fair play is given to all shades and classes. The folk here who do the voting believe in being gentlemen even in politics, but Bonne Bay resents having political capital made of its fair and square treatment of such representatives of the Picnic Party as come into its midst. The visitors went to Norris Point and other places round the Bay accompanied by a game warden who was dismissed this season. One flag was flying at Norris' Point, and absolutely no reception was given the political promoters. There was nothing at all displayed at Stanleyville, at Birchy Head or at Shoal Brook, the only other points touched at in the Bay. Bonne Bay was absolutely indifferent to the presence of Morris and Mott, and not a gun was fired or cheer given for the picnic pair at any of the places they visited. That's plain and explicit, also its straight. Just watch Bonne Bay when Sir Robert Bond visits it; there will be a bit of a study in comparison. Then Premier Morris will have to change to a wandering Jew and confine his travels to St. Barbe District exclusively, for the next few centuries before he gets the ghost of a show here. For the Picnic Party, if one may judge by the reception he got here and Bonne Bay, the impression he failed to make on the voters. The big chief was frozen out on his visit. Try again, Mott, his party representative will once more be snowed under by adverse ballots at next election. Never doubt it Bonne Bay will assist in the process and thoroughly enjoy it, too.

THE LIM

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—Things are live ancient town since Magistrate took charge of the expenditure and other public monies the spring and early summer several handy men working Coastal Wharf. These men were fiddling around at no paiking, tarring and hooking of the seams of the deck as a finishing touch the carpenterly made four "Park Seats" for the resort for the young maidens of the town to lounge their idle time. Maybe if Magistrate continues to control the rate and an up-to-date Ag year he will have some carried to the coastal wharf, and the one of the Agriculture Commission to have the dirt nicely troweled between the "dump heads" and some flower seeds therein, so young ladies and gents can themselves with perfume at government expense. That something worthy an oblique tribute an up-to-date Agriculture Department; and it goes out saying that our magistrates ways happy in the creation of things fresh.

Magistrate Scott has also "park seat" provided for the bridge, which spans Shoal. This is also a new accommodation, young and old, on our thoroughfare; and while the prove a menace to wheel traffic doesn't matter so long as a marine matter to spend.

In the course of time our rate may have seats provided along our main streets so that old and care worn pedestrians and snook, chew and crack fog cast admiring glances at hobnob as they waddle by. There's some who regard those seats, thoroughfare, as a public nuisance, but it may be that, in his section of the Public Nuisance King's Highway.
