Drunkenness in Evidence

A man, under the influence of liquor, armed with a full bottle, caused a commotion on Bannerman St. yesterday afternoon. The inebriate challenged all and sundry to a fight, and it was not until a policeman put in an appearance that he was restored. In the afternoon a sample of citizens, apparently delighted with the progress being made by the erection of the base of the Soldiers' Monument, selected the site for a celebration. After they had consumed a bottle of booze, a police officer came along and ended the affair by placing the pair under arrest.

Miss Mary Ryan is also helping us at St. Mary's. Hear her—she's great.—nov5,11

An Interesting Fact.

An honest and thorough test was made in Canada to prove that RAMSAY'S PINNACLE WHITE was superior to Pure White Lead. A mixture of 100 lbs. of RAMSAY'S PINNACLE WHITE and 5 gallons of Boiled Linseed Oil was matched against a mixture of 100 lbs. of Pure White Lead and 4 gallons Boiled Linseed Oil.

NOTE:—RAMSAY'S PINNACLE WHITE stood 1 gallon more Linseed Oil, therefore more economical for painting.

A wood surface was painted with a heavy black line in the centre, then two coats of RAMSAY'S PINNACLE WHITE was applied, the black line was completely hidden.

A like wood surface and black line was covered with four coats of the Pure White Lead, and the black line was still noticeable.

NOTE:—RAMSAY'S PINNACLE WHITE only took two coats to hide the black line, the same amount of paint in each case was used.

THE RESULT:—RAMSAY'S PINNACLE WHITE is superior to Pure White Lead because it takes 25 p.c. more oil and spreads with a greater hiding power a much larger surface, it stays white much longer.

There is nothing better made for painting Churches, Schools, Houses, etc.

Children's Entertainment at Masonic Temple

A kindly disposed Pied Piper visited St. John's on Saturday, and some three hundred children followed him pell mell to the Masonic Temple, where they found awaiting them everything prepared for their entertainment.

This annual event is eagerly looked forward to, and the first question of the many asked afterwards was "When will it be again?" The spacious building was filled with eager laughing faces, and even the tiniest forgot their timidity when they discovered what a wonderful treat that had been prepared for them. The time was fully occupied with games, singing, music, pictures, and by no means of least importance, a feast of good things, where the most difficult question was which to choose; there was no reproving glance at sticky fingers, and no one to utter the warning: "Don't you think you have had enough!" The ladies who had gone to so much trouble to prepare the sumptuous tea had their reward in the look of absolute content on the youngsters' faces afterwards. Games were not resumed, but all assembled in the lower hall where a picture show, manipulated by Mr. Gordon Oke, and explained by Mr. Llewellyn Colley, kept the children fully engrossed until time to depart. At 7.30 the National Anthem was sung, and then came the parents' perplexing job of sorting out the various members of their respective families, and persuading them that it was all over. Fortunately the Masons had anticipated some such difficulty and had arranged by the exit, barrels of apples and bags of confectionery towards which each kiddie instinctively gravitated, received a parting gift, and tumbled, but contented, was on the way home. Those who were in charge of the arrangements, and helped so much in the amusements are to be complimented on the success of their efforts.

Passing Inebriate's Narrow Escape

The promptness of a motorman saved the life of an inebriate yesterday shortly after noon hour, when the latter attempted to cross in front of a car proceeding west along Water Street. The man was well under the influence of liquor and had made his way along the sidewalk to Baine Johnston's when he retraced his steps to Parker & Monroe's premises. Here he suddenly started to run across the street. Whilst crossing the car track he was hit by the fender of a west-bound car and knocked senseless to the pavement. A number of people ran to his assistance and subsequently two police officers took him in charge. Those who witnessed the accident say the man owed his life to the promptness of the street car driver.

Armistice Dance

The annual Armistice Dance, which is being held in the C.C.C. Hall on Tuesday, Nov. 13th, promises to be a most entertaining function. The G.W.V.A., assisted by the Ladies' Auxiliary and lady friends are enthusiastic in perfecting the arrangements which include several new and unique novelties. A camouflage dance, the lighting effect being produced by a large glass ball will be one of the many features, while special twilight waltzes, a march past to the strains of the "Regimental March" will also be included. New and striking head dresses have been imported which should add to the enjoyment. The music will be rendered by the Prince's dance orchestra who have reserved several new dance hits. Announcement regarding the receipts of the sale of Flanders Poppies will be made by the committee in charge. His Excellency and Lady Allard, accompanied by their suite will be in attendance, while many other distinguished citizens have signified their intention of being present. The object is a very commendable one, viz., the G.W.V.A. Relief Fund to assist ex-service men, widows, orphans and dependents. The Nfld. Highlanders have very kindly allowed their decorations which were used in connection with their recent dance to be used. Those will be supplemented by the G.W.V.A. colours, etc. Uniform is desired to be worn by those who are in possession of same, otherwise dress will be optional. Celebrate the Armistice with the War Vet's and their friends. A warm welcome is assured all.

Future Swedish King

TAKES AS BRIDE LADY LOUISE MOUNTBATTEN.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 5.—(A. P.)—The marriage in London on Saturday of Lady Louise Mountbatten, great-granddaughter of the late Queen Victoria of England and second cousin to King George, the present sovereign, to Gustaf Adolf, crown prince of Sweden, is received with deep interest here. The Swedes are eager to meet the woman who some day will become their queen, and England is believed to be gratified at the new royal ties that bind Stockholm and London into still closer friendship.

Lady Louise is a sister of Lord Louis Mountbatten who last year married Miss Edwina Askey, said to be one of the richest women in England. Lord Louis and his bride spent part of their honeymoon in the United States. It was an eventful wooing which led to the wedding in the Chapel Royal of St. James Palace. Scarcely had the news of Gustaf Adolf's engagement been announced when it was reported that certain authorities in Sweden opposed the marriage on the ground that Lady Louise was not of sufficiently high rank to marry the Crown Prince. Then, while the genealogical experts were settling this question in favor of the bride-to-be, came the startling news that the press of foreign lands was broadcasting the tale that Lady Louise had changed her mind about becoming a crown princess anyway, and was going to marry an obscure English painter of modest income. But as the summer passed by these rumors were gradually discredited by the fact that Lady Louise and the Swedish Crown Prince were often seen together in England and France.

Lady Louise's father was Prince Louis of Battenberg, later known as the Marquis of Milford-Haven. The Battenbergs family has sprung from Germany by way of Austria, where the title of prince was bestowed, and because of strained feeling in England during the war, the name was anglicized to Mountbatten. Lady Louise, who is about 35 years old, is a typical aristocratic Englishwoman, gracious, generous, alert, fond of dancing and outdoor sport, and gifted with genuine charm. She will be crowned queen when she does the honors and sailors of the Swedish squadron visiting British waters when she came abroad the flagship escorted by the crown prince.

The Swedish Crown Prince, whose full name is Oscar Fredrik Wilhelm Olaf Gustaf Adolf, has been married before, his first wife having died some three years ago. Crown Princess Margaret, daughter of the Duke of Connaught and princess of Great Britain and Ireland, had borne Gustaf Adolf five children, and her death was a great bereavement to the Swedish people.

Gustaf Adolf is now 41 years of age, more than six feet tall, as are all the men of the Swedish royal family, and victorious as an athlete. Indeed, he is the possessor of the "athletic medal" awarded only for high proficiency in at least five different branches of sport in Sweden. This is perhaps not strange, nor is it strange that he is a military leader, and that he should have commanded one of his country's armies in the field maneuvers which ended only two weeks before the wedding. But it may surprise many to learn that the Swedish crown prince is also a serious archaeologist, with several expeditions to his credit. Last year he spent nearly two months personally directing the excavation of the buried Greek town of Assne, and unearthed many precious relics that shed light on the civilization of 3,000 years ago. He is, moreover, a collector of paintings, especially of the work of modern artists, such as Anders Zorn and Carl Larsson. Gustaf Adolf is very democratic and, consequently, popular with the masses in Sweden. His political aims and principles, like those of his father, are sound and constructive. The wedding in London will be attended by both King George of England and King Gustaf of Sweden. The couple will spend their honeymoon in Italy.
