Ontario Legisla dure. A Curlous Occurrence in Committee.

Debate on a Bill to Elect Sheriffs and Other Officers.

The Measure Killed, Along With the One to Exempt Farmers from the Operation of the Workmen's Act.

[From Our Own Representative.]
PARLIAMENT HOUSE, TORONTO, May 17.—
There was a curious occurrence in the private bills committee this morning. Kerns' bill to incorporate the village of Hamilton Beach came up, and it hap-pened that all the Liberals present were opposed to the bill, as was the Provincial Secretary, who is chairman of the committee. Mr. Kerns insisted upon a vote upon the preamble, and Mr. Gibson was rather chagrined to find that it was carried by 13 to 10. Of course there is a large majority of Liberals on the committee, but it hap-pened that the Conservatives were in the ascendancy this morning. Mr. Kerns was considerably elated over his victory, so considerably much so that be consented to the bill itself being laid over for a year, expressing the hope that the city of Hamilton would not in the meantime "gobble up" the

the note that meantime "gobble up" the village.

Proceedings in the House to-day were of rather an important nature. Mr. McColl's notice of motion calling for the election of sheriffs, registrars of deeds, clerks of the peace and other officers, instead of having them appointed by the Government, gave the House cause for considerable debate.

The Attorney-General expressed himself as strongly against the motion. The experience of the United States had shown that the system of electing officers had given rise to untold facilities for corruption. No bank or building society per-that the system of electing officers had given rise to untold facilities for corruption. No bank or building society permitted its shareholders to elect its staff. The shareholders elected the management, but did not in any way interfere with the management of details. The Attorney-General drew a parallel case between a commercial organization and the Province. After Mr. Meredith had expressed himself as partly in favor of the bill the motion was lost on a division.

There was a protracted discussion on Mr. Sprague's bill to exempt farmers from the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Mr. Fraser said that the exemption of blacksmiths, carpenters or any other class would be just as logical as exempting farm-Mr. Meredith also opposed the bill. He

Mr. Meredith also opposed the bill. He said there was no reason why farmers should be exempted. He accused the Government of attempting to interfere with common law.

Mr. Hardy and Mr. Mowat said there was a feeling among the farmers that they were placed at a disadvantage. A man who suffered injuries through his own negligence might bring suit with certainty that the farmer would defend the suit. Mr. Mowat agreed with Mr. Hardy.

Mr. Rayside though that farmers were troubled with lawyers who were after fees troubled with lawyers who were after fees that might accrue, and that the farmer was compelled to disgorge.

The bill was killed in committee.

The bill incorporating the Strathroy and Western Counties Railway passed, with the addition of an amendment changing the proposed route.

THE TURF.

THE TURF.

THE WINNER OF THE BROOKLYN HANDICAP.
Diablo, the winner of the Brooklyn handicap, is a bay horse, 7 years old, by Eolus, out of Grace Darling. He was bred by Capt. Hancock, of Virginia, and sold as a yearling to Jonas Langfeld, of New York, for whom he won a number of good races at 2 and 3 years of age. He could not beat the Salvators nor the Proctor Knotts nor the Longstreets of his day, but he was a good second-class coit and won some valuable races. When Mr. Langfeld left racing Diablo was purchased by his pregent owners, Messrs. Walcott & Campbell, and has run in their colors ever since. He has been more or less of a cripple during the past two years, and broke down so badly at Sheepshead Bay the year before last that he could scarcely hobble from the track. He was patched up again last season, and at Washington last autumn ran as well as he ever did in his life, his races with Fidelo and Gloaming being among the fastest ever run at Bennings. He was not considered a factor in Monday's race at all, and his victory was a godsend for the bookmakers, who would have lost very heavily had Lamplighter won the race. Tuesday's race was worth to the winner $18,000, while Lamplighter's share was $5,000, and Leonawell got $2,000 for running third. Lamplighter's share was $5,000, and Leona Lampinghter's share wasp,000, and Leona-well got $2,000 for running third.

elevator engineer at San Francisco.
Andy's soul is above rat catching, but when Mr. Schoelfield goes down cellar to fire up Andy at once goes on his tour of inspection, examining each part of the machinery. If he finds anything out of order he stays and barks at it until some one comes to fix it. He gives warning when the well runs dry, and barks when visitors monkey with the machinery. He can tell when the clock stops, but cannot read the steam and water ganges; though if the engine gets to running too fast he always barks. When the coalman puts in coal he barks if the chute isn't replaced and everything
