

AMBITION TO WIN AMERICAN PENNANT WAS NOT REALIZED

Happy Jack Chesbro a Badly Disappointed Man Over the Highlanders' Defeat.

Anything that can be said pertaining to the last series of games between Boston and New York is found to be very entertaining. The New York Press printed the following interesting account of Chesbro, the American League's leading pitcher, and his failure to make good in the last games pitched by him:

Greater pitcher than John Chesbro of the Highlanders, never threw a ball, and in addition to his almost marvelous ability to mystify American League batters, collectively the hardest hitters ever gathered within the fold of a baseball organization, he is ambitious. It was Chesbro's ambition to pitch the New York American's championship in the season just closed, and how near he came to having that ambition gratified baseball fans the country over know. Official figures place Chesbro in the lead of American League boxmen with an average of .734 earned in 32 games, of which 40 were won, 11 lost and 1 tied. The Highlanders played 51 games during the season, not including drawn battles, and Happy Jack thus officiated in more than one-third of their contests. No pitcher approached him in number of victories, Young of Boston being his nearest competitor, with 27 games won out of 42.

In the thrilling neck-and-neck struggle in the closing weeks of the season with the world champions, Chesbro frequently placed his team in the van by his magnificent work. He simply would not be denied, and it looked when the pennant race narrowed down to a few games as if he were destined to be the central figure in the most desperate battle for supremacy ever waged in a baseball campaign. It will be recalled that when the Highlanders returned home for the last series with the Bostonians, which was begun on Friday, Oct. 7, that Chesbro pitched the first game, and by winning it once more placed New York in the lead for the bunting. Then with four games to be played, Chesbro's men only had to break even and the honors would be theirs.

CHESBRO'S PERSEVERANCE.

The baseball world has not yet been told how it came about in the double-header in Boston on Saturday, Oct. 8, that Chesbro faced Collins' men in the first array of that memorable afternoon, and the story which is being related for the first time is one of the most interesting of a season that fairly bristled with the sensational. It also reflects the ambition of Chesbro to pull the Highlanders through to victory at all hazards. Many persons were of the opinion that Happy Jack was a bit of strategy on Griffith's part, but that was not the case, since the New York manager admitted that he was against his will to the demand of the members of the team that Chesbro be allowed to pitch. The story is authentic and was told by Chesbro himself.

After the Friday game, when the Highlanders were congratulating one another on their victory, Griffith told Chesbro it would not be necessary for him to go to Boston, as Powell and Puttmann were to pitch. "You stay in New York, Jack," said Griffith, "and be in trim to win for us on Monday. We'll be sure to take you to the top, and you win that for us when we come back."

Chesbro's feathers fell and the big pitcher looked as if he was ready to cry. To leave him behind after having beaten Boston at such a critical stage seemed a punishment for his meritorious performance. Finally, he burst out:

"You don't mean that, Griff, do you?"

"Of course, I do," was the reply. "We can get along all right, and the journey might have a bad effect on you. I want you to be at your best on Monday so that you can win for us then."

No more was said. Chesbro donned his street clothes and hastened out of the clubhouse, leaving Griffith to give his instruction to the men about the trip.

At 11 o'clock that night the Highland brigade, accompanied by a small band of rosters, marched into the Grand Central station to take the train for Boston. There stood Chesbro, gipsack in hand.

"Hello, Jack!" said Griffith cheerily. "What are you doing here? I thought you were in bed."

"I'm going to Boston," replied Chesbro determinedly. "You can't leave me behind. Besides, I'm as much interested in those games as you are—and you might need me."

The old fog laughed. "You're a good one," he retorted. "But I'll tell you now that we won't want you. If you persist in going I'm satisfied and I'll buy your ticket, but I'd prefer to have you stay home."

The ticket was bought and the happy one, happier than ever, climbed into his berth and soon was fast asleep.

Seek Nature for Relief from Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles

"VIROQUA" Indian Remedy

is the secret remedy for Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles, which cures the Indians their super health. We have the formula, and are now making it as the Indians did of rare herbs from the forests.

Costs and $1.00 a box. In capsules, sold by all druggists or sent by mail prepaid on receipt of price.

Write for free booklet, which is well worth the reading.

VIROQUA INDIAN REMEDY CO.
23 Jordan Street, TORONTO

New Football Shoe.

A new football shoe, invented and owned by Walter Eckersall, the little University of Chicago, drop-kicking quarter-back, may figure strongly in the outcome of the Chicago-Michigan game at Ann Arbor, being played to-day.

Stagg's team general has devised and perfected an original footgear, which he believes will revolutionize the art of goal-kicking. Eckersall divulged his secret the other day, and declared that the shoe will not only make possible almost absolute accuracy, but that by its use from ten to fifteen yards are added to each kick. "Eckie" has proved his claims during the past week, when he was successful in 30 per cent of his kicks, each of them carrying farther than his previous performance.

The shoe that Eckersall has patterned differs from the conventional style principally in that it has a square (rigid) box toe. The toe is wide, and instead of converging, the sides of the sole are nearly parallel, giving an oblong effect. The sole is perfectly flat, enabling the shoe to catch the ball at a lower point, sending it higher than the ordinary sole. The uppers are very light and the cleats small but strong. Eckersall says that he has never had as light a shoe, and that the advantages for drop-kicking do not lessen its value for punting and running.

The maroon players who have watched "Eckie" practicing with his new "kicks" predict that if ever Chicago yet within 35 yards of Michigan's goal the newly invented shoe will send the oval straight between the Wolverine goal posts.

BASEBALL.

ROCHESTER'S NEW MEN.

Rochester, Nov. 11.—Manager Buckenberger, of the Rochester baseball club, is still busy hunting players for next season's baseball team, and is now negotiating with two players, whom he will try out in the spring.

He reports that he has accepted the terms of George Smith, last year's Rochester manager, may play with the Brooklyn Nationals next season.

LOU DILLON CLIPS ANOTHER QUARTER OFF UNPAID RECORD

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 11.—Another quarter of a second was clipped from the world's unpaid record today by Lou Dillon, who threw the fastest ball in the world today. The record is now 2.01. The former unpaid record of 2.04 was held by Lou Dillon and Major Delmar. The daughter of Sidney Dillon was driven by Millard Sanders, her trainer, and was accompanied by her mother, but passed the judges' stand in 2.01.

YOUNG CORBETT INJURES HIS FOOT IN TRAINING

Young Corbett has been compelled to ease up in his training for his fight with Battling Selsky which takes place in San Francisco on Nov. 29, owing to an injury to a tendon of his right foot. Corbett had the foot hurt on the road. It is not thought the mishap will prevent him from facing Nelson or cause a postponement of the contest.

Corbett was very nervous and had difficulty in getting to 130 pounds. He weighs only 127 pounds now, and is taking off weight rapidly. Regarding his return to the ring, Corbett says: "Brett fought me at 130 pounds once before, and he will have to make that weight again if he is to fight me. I want to make 130 pounds. He certainly has a nerve to name such terms, inasmuch as he went all over the east claiming to be a world champion. If Brett will not fight me at 130 pounds in December I will go east and fight Jerry McGovern. I am rapidly getting in trim, as I realize what a tough position I am going up against in Nelson. I am going to beat him. If I don't, I'll quit the game for good."

HOCKEY.

MEAFORD IN JUNIOR.

Meaford, Nov. 12.—A large meeting of the Meaford Hockey Club was held to organize for the coming season. A strong junior team will be placed in the O. H. A. The following officers were elected: President, Dr. J. J. Jordan; first vice-president, T. M. Male; second vice-president, J. Bridgitt; treasurer, Mayor Godfrey; Dr. Hamilton, C. Todd, W. W. Stephen, S. D. Watt, F. L. McGeehan, George Hair and F. Kent; chaplain, Rev. T. H. Brown; minor league manager, Mr. J. H. Hartman; W. McGirr, R. McGirr, A. Ellis, R. Rowe; official referees, R. F. White, D. Stephens; secretary-treasurer, L. L. Thompson.

"VARSITY IN THE O. H. A."

Toronto, Nov. 11.—At the annual meeting of the Varsity Hockey Club, it was decided to place senior and intermediate teams in the Intercollegiate Union, as usual, and a junior team in the O. H. A.

Secretary-Treasurer Jack Sherry presented the annual report. A letter was read from Harry Housser, resigning the captaincy of the club joining to absence from college. The resignation was accepted with regret, and the members of last year's team were asked by a small vote to elect another. Jack Sherry will undoubtedly be their unanimous choice.

CARPETBALL.

BRITISH OAK LOST.

Chesed Lodge defeated British Oak by a score of 57 to 50 in a S. O. E. carpetball match last night.

MAGNOLIA WON.

In an A. O. F. carpetball match on Thursday, Court Magnolia defeated Court Stella 35 to 25.

The astronomer-royal for Scotland reports that 40 small earthquakes were detected by mechanical means.

Dear Sirs,—I was for seven years a sufferer from chronic trouble, and would be so again at times that I could scarcely speak above a whisper. I got your MINARD'S HONEY BALM. Two bottles gave relief and six bottles made a complete cure. I would heartily recommend it to anyone suffering from throat or lung trouble.

Frederickton, N. J. VANBUSHKIRK.

CANADIAN HORSES HAVE DONE WELL

Gallagher and Harold H. Lead List of Fast Ones—Neither Finished the Season.

Now that the Grand Circuit meetings have come to an end and a review of the performances of Canadian harness horses on United States tracks during the season is in order, and they may be premised by the statement that in no previous year were they so numerous on the big circuits or of so high a class as in 1904, as the following tabulated statement of their all which were made in races, conclusively demonstrates:

Pacers.

Gallagher	2:03 1/4
Harold H.	2:03 1/2
Angus Ryder	2:04 1/4
Sag. Rysdyke	2:05 1/4
Wilbur	2:05 1/2
Lizzie McChord	2:11 1/4
Jubilee	2:12 1/4
Texas Buck	2:12 1/2
Little Buck	2:13 1/4
Wisdom King	2:15 1/4
Gipsy King	2:16 1/4

The records marked with an asterisk were made on half-mile tracks. Had it not unfortunately happened that Gallagher got out of form in the latter part of the season and that Harold H. sustained an injury which caused his retirement, the record, highly creditable as it is to Canadian horses, would have been still better. Even as it is, Gallagher stood second only to John M. in class races, and for a length of time held the race record of the year. Maud Wilkes and several other Canadian pacers made race records under 2:20.

In trotters Canada's representation was very weak numerically. Wentworth, 2:08, a Canadian-bred gelding, owned in New York, trotted close to his record, but did not win a race. The two game and consistent performers, Jeanie Scott and Harry Scott, won many races and closed the season with records of 2:18 1/4 and 2:19 1/4 respectively.

FOOTBALL.

THE PROTEST DROPPED.

The protest against the city football executive against one of the Y. M. C. A. players, has been dropped.

BOY KILLED IN A GAME.

Pittsboro, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Guy Kerns, 19 years of age, died of a heart attack, while playing football with the Belmont team, on Wednesday afternoon.

MADE RECORD KICK.

Crowell, of Swarthmore, last Saturday broke all existing records for goal kicking from the field by putting the ball over the English goalposts in mid-field. No one has ever equalled this 55-yard boot for a score. The famous place kick at New Haven last week he is at the top of the list. Winning points for Princeton in the last minute of play, was scored from the 42-yard line. O'Dea, Chicago, was given credit for a goal from the 48-yard line, some said 50.

THE TURF.

YESTERDAY'S WINNERS.

At Aqueduct—Palette, 5 to 1; Lord Badge, 9 to 5; Jim Beattie, 6 to 1; Gilsen, 8 to 5; Trapper, even; Aelter, 4 to 1.

WANTS TO GET BACK.

"Tod" Sloan is "working the wires" to get back into good standing. Several persons are working for Sloan, whose skill in the saddle is well known, but before he can be reinstated he must get a clean "bill of health" from the English Jockey Club. Sloan was never accused of crooked work in England, his downfall being due to a row at a dinner, and Sloan was hitting a horse with a wine bottle. Sloan has been in New York since last spring, and is in good condition. Several mornings each week he is at the riding house in trials, and is ready at a moment's notice. If Sloan is reinstated he will probably ride for Harry Payne Whitney.

TURF MEN FEAR WAR.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 12.—The arrival of Ed Corrigan at Latonia has set horse owners there to discussing the question of a possible turf war at New Orleans this winter. Mr. Corrigan visited that city recently, and while there inspected "Curley" Brown's new track. Mr. Corrigan believes the track will be in readiness for racing by the middle of December, and that the Jockey Club sees fit to assign the new club dates that conflict with the other track the prosperity of both meetings would be assured.

Tom Watson to Begin Reorganization of the Democrats.

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 11.—Thomas E. Watson, candidate of the Populist party for the presidency, came to Augusta from his home at Thomson and left for New York, where he goes to confer with radical Democratic, Socialist, Populist and Labor leaders concerning either the launching of a new party in this country or to lay plans for the capture of what is left of the Democratic party, so that they can reorganize it to suit the extreme views that they hold.

Hearst is the leader of the movement so far as the east is concerned, and Watson appears to be about the whole movement in the south. Watson said in regard to the denial of Bryan as to his participation in the new movement that it was never intended that Bryan should be present at the first council of the new party or the revamping of the old one.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

THE LONDON SENIOR RUGBY FOOTBALL TEAM

Photo by McCallum.

"Gib" Bice,

Who Was One of the Best Men on the Forward Line.

PLAY STIRS STEAD

Calls on the Police to Suppress Doll Incident Which Cost Him Sleep.

London, Nov. 11.—W. T. Stead, in the Review of Reviews, attacks "The Wife Without a Smile," the recent play of Arthur Wing Pinero. He demands that the police suppress the doll that is used in the piece, as an outrage on public decency.

Mr. Stead acknowledges that the play made him laugh, but says that after two hours of troubled sleep he arose at 4 o'clock in the morning to write a condemnatory notice of it.

MORLEY IN WASHINGTON

The President Gives a Dinner in His Honor at the White House.

Washington, Nov. 11.—John Morley, the English statesman and author, arrived in Washington yesterday afternoon and will be a guest at the White House for two days. The President gave a dinner in his honor, and a number of persons will be invited to meet Mr. Morley at another dinner.

The guests will be Secretary of State Hay, Secretary of War Taft, Attorney General Moody, Mr. Justice White, Mr. Justice Holmes and Mr. Justice Day, of the United States Supreme Court, and J. E. Bishop.

ROOSEVELT THANKS HER

Sends His Picture to Young Woman Who Rebuked Hobson.

Indianapolis, Nov. 11.—When Capt. Richmond P. Hobson spoke at Columbus, Ind., in the closing days of the campaign he was very severe in his criticisms of President Roosevelt, declaring that he was a tyrant and that the President was tyrannical and that his purpose ultimately was to set up a dictatorship in this country.

A young woman, Miss Ida Galbreath, a teacher in the public schools of Columbia City, today she received a letter from President Roosevelt, which read:

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.

My Dear Miss Galbreath: Will you kindly allow me, as a token of my appreciation, to enclose my photograph? Sincerely yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

BOUGHT SANTA FE

Ripley Says Rockefeller and Stillman Have Bought $25,000,000 Worth.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 11.—President E. P. Ripley, of the Santa Fe Railway system, said yesterday that it was a fact that John D. Rockefeller and James Stillman, president of the National City Bank of New York, had purchased $25,000,000 in Santa Fe stock. Mr. Ripley said that he did not know whether this indicated that E. H. Harriman would be interested in the ownership of the Santa Fe or not, although the fact that these men had been acting concertedly in several large deals recently would seem to lead some color to the statement. He believed, however, that Messrs. Rockefeller and Stillman had bought the stock as an investment.

WANTS TO BE MOSES

Tom Watson to Begin Reorganization of the Democrats.

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 11.—Thomas E. Watson, candidate of the Populist party for the presidency, came to Augusta from his home at Thomson and left for New York, where he goes to confer with radical Democratic, Socialist, Populist and Labor leaders concerning either the launching of a new party in this country or to lay plans for the capture of what is left of the Democratic party, so that they can reorganize it to suit the extreme views that they hold.

Hearst is the leader of the movement so far as the east is concerned, and Watson appears to be about the whole movement in the south. Watson said in regard to the denial of Bryan as to his participation in the new movement that it was never intended that Bryan should be present at the first council of the new party or the revamping of the old one.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there is a revolution coming in the politics of the country, and that the man to lead it, he would give out nothing further of his plans than that the conference he was going to New York to attend was of a political nature, that it meant an economic revolution, that prominent men would take part in the meeting and that the plans would be given out by him.

Watson is out and out for a new party and is sincere in the belief that there