SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

QUOITING, BOXING,
FOOTBALL, GOLF, CRICKET

WHEN THE C. P. R. SPECIAL steamed out of the station early this morning it carried close to 300 local baseball fans, each one of whom carried a deep desire to see a Tiger victory.

THE ODDS are on the Cubs in today's battle on account of the result of last year's series. From here it looks as though the Tigers have just as good a chance of coming through today as at any other time.

SPECULATION on the result of the series is rife, and while London ball cranks believe that the Tigers have an excellent chance of winning, they realize that the Cubs have already scored a decisive victory over the Jennings crowd, and that this may have a decided bearing on the present series.

IT IS A WELL-KNOWN FACT that once a pitcher has been decisively beaten by an opponent, he is generally an easy mark in the next meeting. Whether this applies to baseball or not cannot be said, but in a series upon which so much hinges it is possible that the team which lost on a previous occasion may exhibit the confidence that the previous winner will.

LAST YEAR the Tigers were practically stale when the series came off. This time they are in fine fettle, and able to do themselves and their supporters justice.

IN TEAM WORK the Cubs undoubtedly have it on the Tigers, but local fans believe that the work of the four, together with the dogged perseverance which has characterized the playing of the Tigers, will bring them through winners.

A VICTORY for the Tigers today will mean much more than the winning of a game, for it will tend to give them more confidence in their ability to take the number of the prides of the stock yards. The Cubs can be beaten, and it is up to the Tigers to give them a good clawing.

BIG TIMES ARE scheduled to take place at Cawthra, Ohio, on the 21st of this month, when the natives of Tuscarawas County celebrate the homecoming of veteran Cy Young. In addition to other celebrities, the event will boast the presence of Mr. Hans Wagner, chief poke of the National League. Wag and Cy are old chums.

AND WHILE we are talking outside baseball we mustn't overlook the fact that quite a coterie of celebrities will sport themselves at Tecumseh Park today. "Mooney" Gibson is scheduled to officiate behind the bat if he arrives in time, while De-Jo Keenan, who had all the Toronto dope spreaders jumping sideways by his sensational fielding, will umpire.

THE DUNDAS SCREECHER is strongly suspected of being responsible for the following:

"George, dear, what is the crowd cheering that man for?"
"The crowd is cheering him, Laura, because of his grand work on the slab. He has struck out fifteen men."

"I know better than that, George. You're trying to have fun with me. He couldn't strike out fifteen when there's only nine to strike out."

Criss Nominally Leads League
In Batting, With Percentage .354

The finished averages of the American League show Criss, the remarkable pinch hitter of the St. Louis Browns, the nominal leader on the season, with a percentage of .354. Under National League rules, Mr. Criss wouldn't cut any ice at all, as a man doesn't get "a game" to his credit unless he actually stands in the fielding position—extra bats are simply added on, and Criss, under Pulliam's laws, would have played in only about 14 games.

Real credit goes to Tyrus Cobb once more. The little, young Tiger did not hit as heavily, nor steal as many bases, as in 1907, but got along pretty well, with a batting average of .332 and 41 steals. About the next best all-season work was that of Sam Crawford, who hit them about as heavily as last year. Deleahanty, of Washington, made by far the best record he ever showed in fast coming, and might have ousted Cobb from the lead had he been played in over 100 games.

McIntyre a Star.
The star run-getter of the business was McIntyre, of the Tigers, who collected 105 tallies on the season, while Dougherty stole the most bases—47. Only eight men in all hit over .300, one of the conspicuous absentees being Mr. N. Lajoie, of Cleveland, who hit the lightest of his career.

The Tigers lead in team batting, also in long hits, while Cobb noses out Crawford as champion long-range batter.

In team fielding the Sox and Browns are tied, with the high percentage of .967.
Sullivan leads the catchers in fielding, and a couple of pitchers escaped any errors on the season. Jiggs Donohue leads at first base, and Barry on second. Ferris put up the best all-round game on third. Bradley leads at short, and Speaker in the outfield.

Briefs

IT IS ESTIMATED that fully four hundred London fans will take in the Hermitage excursion to Detroit next Tuesday. The trip is good for two days, and those who care to do so will have the opportunity of seeing the Cubs and Tigers go to it Tuesday and Wednesday. The train leaves the Grand Trunk station at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning.

WITHOUT ATTEMPTING to make excuses for the London Rugby team it must be said that the club is most unfortunate this season. Raymond, who when right is a tower of strength, at the last minute was unable to get into the game; Corcoran, a good little man, and as game as they make them, sustained two broken ribs and is out of it; Baker, the best tackler London has known for some time, is sporting a sprained ankle; Pete Moore is in bad shape, and Bobby Hague, "one of the finest," has jumped to Montreal. Can you beat it?

IN LONDON LONGBOAT is touted to win the Ward Marathon, and this seems to be the general opinion. The Hamilton Herald's sporting man does not rate the race as follows: "Over Toronto was the wise guy, busy trying to dope out the Ward Marathon race. One fellow, whom the Star says should know, calls Fred Meadows to beat Tom Longboat, while another picks Longboat to win, and does not consider Meadows a contender."

"The writer has seen most of the entrants run, and would not attempt to try to dope them out any more than to say that if Tom Longboat is right, there will be no person within a stone's throw when he crosses the line. And if Claude Pearson is as well as he did here on Labor Day, nothing can keep him out of second place if Tommy Longboat keeps him out of first. He made a marvellous run the last five miles of the Labor Day and finished second with a little to spare."

SPEAKING ABOUT the coming joint running and harness meeting at Dufferin Park, and the talk of outlawing all entries the Toronto News says: "In Toronto the Ontario Jockey Club conducts its racing spring and fall. Its limited meetings are brilliant and spectacular, a credit to the conductors and the absolute foundation of the greatness of the sport of kings here. But the meetings elsewhere in Ontario are only crude imitations."
"At Hamilton, at Fort Erie and at Windsor, while the game is the same as at the Woodbine, the methods of operations are different."

"Messrs. Cella, Condon, Madigan and the balance of the owners of the stock of the Niagara Jockey Club are gentlemen well versed in the game of racing, that is for the exclusive benefit of Messrs. Cella, Condon, Madigan and the rest interested."

"The trail of these gentlemen up and down the Middle West is blazed with the wrecks of deserted racing plants. They have killed the game wherever they have set foot, but it is hoped that here in Canada the one exception will rule."

"Are these the men who would outlaw trams for racing on a half-mile track?"

Three Hundred London Fans
Leave for Detroit on the SpecialLONDONS TACKLE
FAST VALLEYITESTeam Left at 11:30 Today for Dundas—Boys Are Hopeful.

The Londons held their final practice for the Dundas game last evening at the conclusion of the Collegiate games. Signal work was indulged in, and while the turnout was not as large as hoped for the boys appeared to be in the best of shape.

The team left this morning for Dundas at 11:30, accompanied by The Advertiser's sports writer, who will give a full account of the game in Monday's paper.

London is badly in need of a kicker, and while Sage punts fairly well he cannot do much. Watch The Advertiser's bulletin for the score this evening.

GRAHAM DEFEATS
WATERWORTH'S TRIO

Three Hundred London Fans
Leave for Detroit on the SpecialComparison of Tigers and Cubs
Not Unfavorable to Former —Teams Compared.

Approximately 300 loyal London fans this morning left for Detroit via the C. P. R. on the A. O. F. special. All were enthusiastic, and predicted a Tiger victory.

A comparison of the two teams should prove of interest.
Detroit's team is the John L. Sullivan of baseball. It craves the natural bang style. It has greater natural ability than any team in baseball today. No club in the league has four such wonderful hitters as Crawford, Cobb, McIntyre and Rossman. The hitters beat down all opposition and the rest is easy. Hitting covers a multitude of sins. The Tigers are not famous as a great "inside baseball" team. And yet on the club are some of the brainiest men of baseball. A hitting team of the old Philadelphia National League type, which thought only of base hits and not of runs. They combine brains with their remarkable offensive rush.

Cubs On Defensive.
Against the Cubs have a wonderful defensive game to play. They are not heavy hitters; not in any sense of the word. They have a lightning fast infield, which plays team work at all times. They have a fair outfield and a good pitching staff. But, like the White Sox, of the same city, the secret of their success lies behind the bat, where they have the great thinker, Johnny Kling. "Nolty John" has few, if any, equals in baseball when it comes to catching. Billy Sullivan made him look like an ice cream vendor on a wintry day when the winter series of 1906 was played, and last year there was no comparison because of Charley Schmidt's injuries. But there is no question of Kling's ability. He is today the greatest catcher in the National League.

Depend on Team Work.
The Cubs depend on inside play—team work—their pitchers and Kling to win for them. They have developed this style of play under Frank Chance, because they have to in order to win without any heavy hitters.
The Tigers have the same great natural ability of the Cubs in playing. No three outfielders ever lived in baseball, playing on one team, the equal of Detroit's. They have the equal of Detroit's. They have the equal of Detroit's. They have the equal of Detroit's.

The Police Are After Ticket Scalpers number of dissatisfied ones over the distribution of the tickets.

The police jerked all manner of boys from the long line at the park, waiting to buy up reserved seats.
When the sale opened it was discovered that about 50 newsboys and messengers, all identified with ticket scalpers, had grabbed the front places in the line and were squeezing others in with them.
There was but one way of saving the seats from the scalpers and that was by taking the boys out of line. This the police did. Any boy who could not explain for whom he was buying was jerked out. President Navin did not want a repetition of last year's performance when the scalpers grabbed all the seats.
After it was all over, it was learned that during the day several boys acting as representatives of business men around town had been taken out of the line with the scalping agents by mistake.

GIANTS WON'T
PLAY CLEVELAND

Cleveland, Oct. 9.—A telegram was received from John T. Brush, of the New York National League club, by the Cleveland News today, approving a suggestion that a series of post-season games be played between the New York and Cleveland clubs.

The management of the Cleveland club was at first favorably impressed with the proposition. At the conclusion of a conference late this afternoon, among the officers of the Cleveland club it was decided that as the team had disbanded and the players were widely scattered, it was too late for the games, and Mr. Brush will be notified immediately.

THE TURF.

At Hamilton—Pimpante, 15 to 1; Reidmore, 6 to 1; Bannell, 9 to 10; Royal Onyx, 6 to 5; Sal Volante, 4 to 1; Tartar Maid, 7 to 2; Niblick, 7 to 1. At Louisville—Gerrymander, Raleigh, Financier, Berwick, Friend Harry, Mattie Mack.

Race Results at Plainwell.
Plainwell, Mich., Oct. 9.—The second day of the races here Friday resulted as follows:
Three-quarter-mile dash—Phoenix Cottage, 1; Pentagon, 2; Silver Tail, 3. Time, 1:52.
Half-mile run—Phoenix Cottage, 1; C. J. B. and H. W. King tied for second. Time, 1:52.
One and a sixteenth-mile run—Benmore, 1; Pentagon, 2; Major McCormack, 3. Time, 1:56.
Consolation race was not run.

James Glencairn Thomson, the only surviving grandson of Robert Burns, is now in his eightieth year, and has been in somewhat reduced circumstances for some time.

BOYS AND GIRLS
IN ANNUAL GAMESLondon Collegiate Scholars
Pull Off Annual Event at Tecumseh Park.

The annual field sports of the London Collegiate at Tecumseh Park yesterday were a complete success. Everything was run off without a hitch, and the work of the management was flawless. One of the features of the arrangements was the centralization of the scoring, each branch of sport being in charge of a chairman who turned in the results of the games under his management to the chairman of all the games.

Jack Pope proved the winner of the senior championship, while Ralph McPhillips took first honors among the juniors, with George Renton a very close second. The boys are intended to have the place kicking football contest on Monday at the Collegiate, but the committee in charge decided to take the marks made by the juniors in trials held last week. This gives the juniors a chance to McPhillips without further competition.

The entries yesterday were far in advance of last year, and in almost every event trials were held either at the park, or at the Collegiate prior to the games.
The performances all around were far classier than the previous year, and showed conclusively that the boys are improving each year. Especially was this so in the senior pole vault won by Jack Pope, who set a new mark, by clearing the bar at 8 feet.

To record has been kept of the young athletes' performances in the past, but it is known that the mark last year was considerably below that set by Pope. In the future a record of all distances, heights and times will be kept in order to stimulate the boys to better work.

The 100 Yards' Dash.
In several ways the running of the open 100 yards' dash was unsatisfactory. There was a large entry list for this event, and shortly after the start the sprinters broke up, and the result that several open fouls were committed, one of which threw tiny Willie Hunter off his stride and out of the race.

The race was won by H. Eckert, who was closely pressed by Mel Brock, another Y. M. C. A. sprinter. There was some talk of disqualifying Brock for fouling Hunter, but as Brock himself had been fouled he was given the place. Martin Strauch, the best basketball and football player, took third.
Perhaps the most exciting race of the day was furnished by the girls in the three girls running the last relay finished apparently on even terms. One of the contestants, Florence Woolley, tripped at the tape, and fell heavily, but recovered shortly afterward.

How the judges ever picked the winner is a mystery, but they did.
The 75-yard dashes for boys in both senior and junior events were well contested, as were the same races for girls.
The open relay race went to the Y. M. C. A. team, which, however, had to step all the way to stave off the Medicos.

Throwing and catching the baseball proved popular with the girls, the winners making 43 throws and catches in ten minutes. Under the rules if the ball was dropped the throw did not count.
The hurdle race brought out one of the largest fields of the day, and spills were almost as numerous as entries. Everett Glenn eventually proved the winner. The only complaint that was that the narrowness of the hurdles handicapped some of the numerous contestants at the start.

Running together like clockwork, Glenn and Logan annexed the three-legged race in hollow fashion, with Smith and Garrett just ahead of the large field.
Margaret Bowman proved best in the girls' senior 75-yard dash, although Florence Woolley was at her heels all the time.
Mel Brock made a runaway of the 220-yard dash, and incidentally trimmed Eckert, who had defeated him in the 100-yard dash. The time, 3:24 4-5, considering the very slow condition of the course, was excellent.

In the jumps the boys were ahead of last year's form, and in the relays the juniors made almost as good time as the seniors.

Taken all around, the contests were well worth while, and could not have been handled better. Next year they will be held at Queen's Park.

One of the greatest contests of its kind ever seen at Tecumseh Park was the special tug-of-war between the Board of education and the L. C. I. staff, the latter winning after a rather stiff pull. Mr. E. J. MacRobert refused to act as an actor for the losers, alleging that he did so once and someone cut the rope.

The teams lined up as follows: Teachers—Stuart, Little, Kelly and Gregory; board of education—Graham, Teasdale, Fitzgerald and Hamilton.
When William of Germany was under tutorage he told the new tutor that nine times 12 was 72. The tutor answered cleverly: Permit me to state to you, highness' former tutor, whom I have had the honor to succeed as an instructor to your royal highness, appears to have been a person of rather limited capabilities.

It takes about 2,000,000 cords of wood a year to make the newspapers that go through the presses of New York City.
