

STEVENS--DUDLEY

A very pretty home wedding was celebrated at 2 o'clock this afternoon at "Terrace Hill," the residence of Mr. Joseph Dudley, Grand avenue, when his only daughter, Miss Isabelle, was united in marriage to Capt. Henry J. Stevens, of the steamer Canadian. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. S. W. Howard, rector of Christ Church, in the presence of about sixty-five invited guests.

The happy knot was tied in the drawing-room, which was beautifully decorated. The bride entered the room on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Mr. Charles E. Percy. She was supported by Miss Pearl Jones, and the groomsmen were Mr. Emmett Tuttle, of Cleveland, O.

After the ceremony Miss Frankie Cullis sang, "Love's Coronation" very sweetly. The young couple and guests sat down to a dainty wedding dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens after-wards taking the C. P. R. for Toronto, Philadelphia and points east.

The bride's costume was of white duchess satin, empire style, with court train, studded with seed pearls and pearl ornaments, trimmed with hand-made lace. She wore the customary veil, and carried orange blossoms and lilies-of-the-valley. Her only ornament was the groom's gift. Her travelling suit was of clear chiffon broadcloth, and she wore a large picture hat to match.

Miss Jones, the bridesmaid, wore a very pretty costume of white silk.

Trimmed with valenciennes lace, and with white picture hat and plumes. Mrs. Dudley, the bride's mother, wore a grey silk, trimmed with iris point lace.

Mrs. Walper, Exeter, sister of the groom, a Nile green, with lace to match.

Miss Dudley, of Toronto, black lace over black silk, with black picture hat to match.

Miss Ogilvy, Toronto, a brown silk Directoire gown.

Miss Cullis, lace over lemon silk. The groom's gift to the bride was a necklace of pearls with a diamond sunburst; to the bridesmaid, a gold bracelet; to the groomsmen, a tie pin; to Miss Cullis, a spray of pearls; and to Mr. Percy, gold cuff links, suitably engraved.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. R. Johnston and Miss E. Johnston, Chicago; Miss A. Hoskins, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Loughheed and Miss Ogilvy, Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. M. Smythe, New York; Mr. and Mrs. F. Cunan and Miss Cunan, St. Thomas; Miss McMeekin, Berlin; Miss T. Dudley, Mrs. W. Dudley, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. G. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. T. Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. T. Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. W. Holt, Toronto; Fred Taylor, Watford; Dr. and Mrs. Tuttle, Berlin Heights, Ohio; Dr. Kinsman, Exeter; I. R. Carling, Exeter; W. W. Tanner, Exeter; Dr. and Mrs. Upston, Conneaut, Ohio; Percy Ward, Hamilton; J. A. Stewart, Regina, and Mr. and Mrs. Walper, Exeter.

HAPPENINGS OF A DAY IN BUSY EAST LONDON.

CHURCH FAIR IN FULL SWING

Big Crowds Are Taking in the Sights in St. Mary's Hall.

St. Mary's Church fair opened last evening, for the week, with a good first-night crowd. The hall, on Lytle street, in which it is being held, is beautifully decorated, and those in charge of the different booths report a brisk business.

Many novelties have been introduced including the peanut vendor, equipped with cart and whistler, and the "hippodrome," a 1-cent show produced by the Boys' Sodality.

Miss Margaret Evans, having been duly incorporated in the peanut trust is licensed to sell hot roasted peanuts and popcorn throughout the hall. Miss Evans, who took the part of a Syrian girl, disposed of a considerable amount of her stock, when "P. C. Noulty" was not looking.

Beautiful Decorations. The Dutch tea room was another feature. The room was beautifully decorated, and was in charge of Mrs. F. Parnell, Mrs. J. Jenkins, Miss Alice Liley, Miss Margaret Flannigan, Miss Ann Pinnegan and Miss Lizzie Jenkins.

The fishing pond, in charge of Miss M. Darcy, Miss Grace McFadden, Miss Kathleen O'Mara, Miss Agnes Forristal and T. J. Ranshan and R. J. Noppe, attracted numerous anglers.

The girls of the Immaculate Conception Sodality provided one of the largest booths in the hall. It was beautifully decorated and contained an infinite variety of goods, from nickle-a-pound candy to the most valuable household goods.

The committee controlling the outfit was composed of Misses Gertrude Loughlin, Agnes Pelton, Hazel Dunlevy, Kathleen Murray, Ella Jenkins, Olive Carty, Helen Leach, Mary Walsh and Mollie Tiernan.

The Country Store. The country store is still supplying the visitors. Misses Margaret McEahan and Annie Dunlop are in charge.

Mesdames Durkin and Carty looked after the 5-cent table.

The parish table was probably the finest booth of the fair, being controlled by Misses Doyle, Graham, M. Loughlin, Stella Buller, J. Loughlin, M. O'Flaherty, L. McLaughlin, V. McDougal, D. Loughlin, Kate Fitzhenry, Agnes Costello, E. Foley and Mesdames J. Leach and Patton.

Miss K. Griffin acted as postmistress at the postoffice and was assisted by Miss M. McLarnan, Miss C. Flood, Miss G. Hoy, Miss Margaret McLartye and Irene Gleave. The letter carriers were Ambrose O'Donnell, Howard Murphy, Austin Lane and Joseph Murray.

Consolers' Booth. The Consolers have a splendid booth, in charge of Miss N. Powell, N. Bergen, A. Hurley, H. Rooney and B. Larkin.

The household goods booth, in charge of Miss M. Duggan and Miss Mabel Hoy, did a splendid business, the young ladies being kept busy the entire evening.

A decided novelty was the "drench your thirst" booth, a temperance bar, in charge of Mrs. A. Graber, Miss Margaret Hoy and Messrs. A. Orendoff and J. Noulty.

A refreshment booth was held by the St. Mary's Needle Work Guild on the stage at the front of the hall. Those in charge were Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. J. P. O'Donnell, Mrs. W. Lyons, Mrs. T. O'Rourke, Mrs. R. F. Carty, Mrs. T. Neilligan, Mrs. John Howe, Mrs. H. Cullen, Mrs. R. Flynn, Mrs. Serviss, Mrs. James McDonald and Misses O'Rourke and Lyons.

Selling Tables. A number of ladies disposed of tickets on different articles throughout the hall. Among those selling the chances were Misses M. Daly, Mary Maloney,

REV. MR. CLARK TENDERED RECEPTION

Enthusiastic Gathering Last Night in All Saints' Church.

An enthusiastic reception was tendered to the Rev. T. B. Clark last night by the members of his congregation upon his return from England. The meeting was under the auspices of the A. F. R. A. The chair was taken by Mr. Hogg, churchwarden. The proceedings were opened by the chairman with a short address, welcoming the rector back again after such great work, after which the president of the A. Y. P. A. presented an address from the A. Y. P. A.

Miss McBride followed with an excellent pianoforte solo, song by Mr. W. Bedford.

Rev. T. B. Clark, replying to the address, thanked the members of the A. Y. P. A. for their support during his absence, thanked each one for doing so well, especially the president, Mr. E. Doughty; he also eulogized the work of the churchwardens, who had stood by him so faithfully during his absence; he also made special mention of the faithful work of Mr. Walter Slade, the secretary of the building fund, for his untiring efforts and devotion to his duties. Mr. W. Bedford, the choir-master, was thanked for his untiring efforts with the choir, and other work in which he is so active a worker.

Songs were rendered by the following ladies and gentlemen: Mr. E. Forrester, Miss A. Geranette, Mr. Whitehead.

Rev. E. W. Hughes, who has had charge during Mr. Clark's absence, gave a short address, after which the vestry clerk, Mr. Sidney, read an address from the congregation, and Mr. Thompson presented the rector with a purse of gold. The reverend gentleman briefly thanked the members of the congregation for their gifts, and asked them to get ready for the aggressive work which he intended to carry on during the present winter, and announced that on Sunday next special thanksgiving services would be held to return thanks of Almighty God for his special favors granted to him in answer to their prayers. Rev. Mr. Hughes closed the meeting with prayer, and the singing of God Save the King.

LATE MISS VAINES. The funeral of Miss Florence M. Vaines was held from the residence of her brother, 759 Adelaide street, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to Woodland Cemetery.

The services were conducted at the house by Rev. Canon Hague at 2 o'clock.

Miss Vaines, who was 33 years of age, and a daughter of the late Job Vaines, passed away Sunday morning.

A FEAST DAY IN THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

Special Services at the Cathedral and St. Mary's to Honor the Immaculate Conception.

Today is one of the greatest feast days of the year in the Catholic churches of the world, the feast of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Three masses were celebrated in St. Mary's Church by Rev. Father McKee, the rector, at 6, 8 and 10 o'clock, the latter being a high mass.

The children of St. John's and St. Mary's schools attended the 8 o'clock mass in a body, the separate schools of the city being closed today.

Special masses were also celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral.

MR. GEO. H. BELTON NOT A CANDIDATE

Popular East End Lumberman Is Too Busy to Run for Alderman.

Mr. George H. Belton, the east end lumber merchant, and an ex-alderman of London, will not be a candidate for alderman.

A large number of citizens have asked him to allow his name to go before the electors, but he has been compelled to refuse owing to the pressure of business.

"I would like very much to be a candidate, but under the circumstances I find it impossible to do so," said Mr. Belton to The Advertiser. "My business here and in Sarnia keep me busy, and also call me out of the city a very great deal. On some future occasion I might consent to run, but not at present."

Mr. Belton would have made an excellent alderman. There would be no doubt of his election, as he is very popular.

A number of rooms in the East End are being remodeled to form a club-room for Choralis Lodge, the members of which meet in the hall.

EAST END NOTES.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Three masses were celebrated in St. Mary's Church by Rev. Father McKee, the rector, at 6, 8 and 10 o'clock, the latter being a high mass.

The children of St. John's and St. Mary's schools attended the 8 o'clock mass in a body, the separate schools of the city being closed today.

Special masses were also celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral.

MR. GEO. H. BELTON NOT A CANDIDATE

Popular East End Lumberman Is Too Busy to Run for Alderman.

Mr. George H. Belton, the east end lumber merchant, and an ex-alderman of London, will not be a candidate for alderman.

A large number of citizens have asked him to allow his name to go before the electors, but he has been compelled to refuse owing to the pressure of business.

"I would like very much to be a candidate, but under the circumstances I find it impossible to do so," said Mr. Belton to The Advertiser. "My business here and in Sarnia keep me busy, and also call me out of the city a very great deal. On some future occasion I might consent to run, but not at present."

Mr. Belton would have made an excellent alderman. There would be no doubt of his election, as he is very popular.

A number of rooms in the East End are being remodeled to form a club-room for Choralis Lodge, the members of which meet in the hall.

EAST END NOTES.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Three masses were celebrated in St. Mary's Church by Rev. Father McKee, the rector, at 6, 8 and 10 o'clock, the latter being a high mass.

The children of St. John's and St. Mary's schools attended the 8 o'clock mass in a body, the separate schools of the city being closed today.

Special masses were also celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral.

MR. GEO. H. BELTON NOT A CANDIDATE

Popular East End Lumberman Is Too Busy to Run for Alderman.

Mr. George H. Belton, the east end lumber merchant, and an ex-alderman of London, will not be a candidate for alderman.

A large number of citizens have asked him to allow his name to go before the electors, but he has been compelled to refuse owing to the pressure of business.

"I would like very much to be a candidate, but under the circumstances I find it impossible to do so," said Mr. Belton to The Advertiser. "My business here and in Sarnia keep me busy, and also call me out of the city a very great deal. On some future occasion I might consent to run, but not at present."

Mr. Belton would have made an excellent alderman. There would be no doubt of his election, as he is very popular.

A number of rooms in the East End are being remodeled to form a club-room for Choralis Lodge, the members of which meet in the hall.

EAST END NOTES.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard Rowe. The foreman and jury were then sworn.

Judge Macbeth in his address to the grand jury, said that he was glad to be able to tell them that the cases to come before them were of a very numerous. Ten days ago there had been

nineteen men held on criminal charges, since then, however, half of them had elected to be tried by another court and had received sentence before a judge. There were no men now in jail awaiting trial at this session, nine men being out on bail of whom eight would come up for consideration. It is a matter of congratulation for the county, said his lordship, that there have been no cases of a grievous criminal nature since the June session.

The December session of the county court opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock under Judge Macbeth.

The grand jury retired after the opening of court and chose as their foreman Mr. Richard