

Guide-Advocate

ARRIS & CO. PROPRIETORS.

WATFORD, OCTOBER 20, 1916

NOTE AND COMMENT

James Brierley, a writer in the Montreal Daily Mail, has published the deplorable facts that French Quebec has not contributed more than 12,000 or 13,000 men to the overseas forces, while English Quebec has given 24,000.

A Hamburg sausage-maker was fined 2,000 marks for putting on the market a sausage not yet approved by the German food authorities. It consisted of macerated rubber, finely-ground hair and gelatine. Evidently in Hamburg the dogs and cats have disappeared.

Street noises do not disturb wounded soldiers in English hospitals and nurses and visitors have wondered thereat. As though the roar of London could be other than as the soft murmuring of a gentle breeze in the trees to those who had been subjected for eays at a time to the shattering thunder of the trenches!

It is estimated that more than twelve million dollars will be added to the revenue receipts of the Dominion during the month of November next. This amount will represent the war tax on business profits provided for in last session's budget, and which is payable next month. Already the receipts are beginning to pour into the hands of the Receiver, with every indication of a satisfactory total at the end of the coming month.

The Independent (New York).—Canada is taking long strides along the path of progressivism. She is finding herself in the war in a way that compels admiration. It is a big enough achievement to build a volunteer army of 350,000 for overseas service, to foot a bill of half a billion dollars for war expenses, and to raise from private pockets thirty millions for war relief. But her political progress is even more astonishing. When the war is over Canada will have suffered severe losses, and will be carrying a heavy debt. But her splendid action on these two vital issues will make the country a better place to live in than "before the war."

Glencoe Transcript:—It is stated that there is an increasing tendency to cigarette smoking among the youth of Glencoe, and the question arises, Where are the boys getting the dope? A provincial act prohibits the sale to minors, and it is a duty incumbent on county constables to take youthful cigarette smokers before the magistrate and have them questioned as to how and where they obtained the cigarettes. Unfortunately Glencoe is at present without a constable able to be on duty. Speaking of the injurious effects of cigarette smoking, a physician of large experience stated the other day that he had treated more physical wrecks the result of cigarette smoking than those from the results of alcoholism, and while there was some hope for the alcohol victim it was absolutely impossible to restore the victim of the cigarette habit.

The Cost of Paper

The newspaper publishers complain of the cost of paper. The cost of paper making has risen, but the chief cause of price increase is the enormous demand for newspapers because of the public interest in the war. Paper stocks are, it is said, nearly exhausted, and the daily consumption exceeds production. The dailies, on account of their news service, enlarge circulation without what is termed by merchants selling cost. The weeklies which cannot meet the public demand for war news must depend on a generous public to remember the useful service which they, too, in their way, perform. It would be an unfortunate result, if news and public debate were to fall entirely to a few city dailies.—The Weekly Sun.

But the automobile lacks horse sense. Many a marked man has a tattoo artist to thank for it.

The under dog gets a lot of sympathy—and that's about all.

It is absurdly easy to convince a man that he is smarter than you are.
