AMONG all the periodical publications New-Brunswick and the sister Province. here is none devoted exclusively to general instruction and amusement. The very nature of Newspapers prevents their affording to readers much interesting matter, con nected with politics and the daily occurrences of life; and more especially are they unadapt ed for the indiscriminate perusal of Youth The writer has had repeated opportunities of discovering, that something of a different nature is very desirable: many parents wish for the establishment of a small publication exclusively composed of such instructive and ntertaining matter, as they may safely furnish for the regular perusal of their children; while country residents, by whom a frequent accession of books is unattainable greatly desire an opportunity of obtaining a periodical supply of useful and amusing information, at a cheap rate. To accomplis this desideratum, and thus to afford an agree able companion for the leisure hours of such persons, it has been determined to commence the publication above named. SUPRACRE ACCOUNT OR GROUP ABOVE CHALK. Calcaire Crassier, as its name implies, is imposed of a coarse limestone, which is employed for archite ctural purposes. It is freuently separated from the plastic clay beeath by a bed of sand, and it alternates with rgillaceous clayey beds. The animal and vegetable remains enclosed in it are numer-ows, and generally the same in corresponding beds, presenting considerable differences when

As an explanation of this phenomenon, we may suppose, that, at the period when these rocks were de-Cholera Medicines of tried and known e ffi posited, large inland lakes had become nucacy in small packages fit for families pu merous; and that this basin was a gulf of the sea into which a large river emptied its contents. There is no evidence, however, of violent rush of waters, the organic remains having apparently been quietly deposited.

The supracretaceous rocks of England are ommonly known by the name of plastic clay. London clay, Bagshot sands, the fresh-water tamations of the Isle of Wight, and the crag of Norfolk. We can only afford a short ac-
