

References.

"What one Woman did for Japan." Outlook, July, 1887, page 108.

Outlook, July, 1881.

Gospel in all Lands, September, 1892.

Missionary Review of the World, March, 1891, page 185; Jan., 1891, pages 19 and 72; July, 1891, page 517; Sept., 1891, pages 641, 648 and 654.

"Joseph Neesima: The Spiritual Apostle of Japan." Supplement to Heathen Woman's Friend. Jan., 1892.

REVIEWS OF USEFUL LEAFLETS.

Mei-Mei—Your Forgotten Sister—An appeal to the women of Christian lands to remember their sisters dying in darkness and sadness in China; the Master's words, "Inasmuch as ye did it not" pleading for workers, to "gather in the sheaves." This little sketch contrasts the life of Mei-Mei, born in a Chinese home where nobody welcomes her, with that of little Mary in a Christian land, who, listening on her tenth birthday to the story of Mei-Mei's unhappy and lonely lot, decides to carry the good news to her little heathen sister," but as years pass on other "things of this life" engross her time, these resolutions are forgotten, and Mei-Mei dies, with "no ray of light," sad and alone.