

expressive words to say of a former student here, the Rev. Father Quinn, O.M.I.:

"Never has a Buffalo parish had a more popular or beloved chief shepherd than has the Holy Angels in the person of Rev. James H. Quinn. Nor is this affection between pastor and people built on a slender foundation. To great executive ability, Father Quinn adds a charming personality and a fervid devotion to his sacred calling that wins all hearts and makes of him indeed an ideal priest.

When some nine months ago Father Quinn had a paralytic stroke that incapacitated him from duty and made his retirement from the city necessary, there was deepest sorrow in his parish, and heartfelt and countless were the prayers offered for his recovery.

From time to time reports have come that Father Quinn was improving, but few were prepared for the surprise that awaited the parishioners at the eight o'clock mass Sunday morning, when they beheld their beloved pastor at the altar, and heard his voice in a fervent sermon on the beautiful lesson of the Assumption of Our Blessed Mother. The news spread rapidly, and the Holy Angels parsonage has been receiving a constant stream of congratulatory callers ever since.

Father Quinn returned Saturday morning, and was in the confessional the same afternoon and evening, and has once more taken his place in the daily life of the parish, completely restored to health. That he may long remain with them is the prayer of every man, woman and child in the parish, and of hundreds beyond it."

Some of the present pupils will remember with pleasure Father Quinn, as a student, professor, and prefect of discipline. They will also be happy to hear of his recovery from a very dangerous illness.

As the football season draws on apace, we begin to think of our former players who have departed. Of those none was more popular than Owen Clarke, and it is with our most sincere felicitations that we publish a notice of his ordination to the priesthood in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Newark, New Jersey.

Another Ottawa graduate has given himself to the service of God in the person of Stephen Hallissey, who was ordained in Springfield, Mass. THE OWL congratulates the young priest, and feels sure that his friends will be numbered by legions.

We beg to congratulate Mr. Joseph Vincent on his recent marriage to Miss Gratia Barron during the last vacation.

During the early days of the vacation Dr. William J. McNally '91 was married by his former professor Father Nilles, in the college chapel. He was assisted by his brother Dr. Simon J. McNally '90. This was the first visit which they have made to their Alma Mater, and it is earnestly hoped that they will soon return if but for a short stay.

The students at Osgoode Hall do honor to themselves and to us in their selection of T. J. Rigney as manager of their football team. Victory is within their grasp if they will but follow his counsels.

At McGill the "old boys" are taking all the honors. Among them we notice J. R. O'Brien B.A., Martin Powers B.A., P. B. Mellan, J. R. Goodall and A. Mousseau. There are many others from Ottawa College, but of them no accounts have reached us. However we surmise, from past records, that the honors are all theirs—and ours.
