let a fresh group of more recent graduates get together and do as they saw fit. Mr. Forbes knows all these facts I have stated and I must admit I was surprised to see in the McGill Daily that my resignation was reported in such a manner as to lead people to think that I had submitted my resignation purely and simply because a forward pass had not gone through.

YoursSincerely,

Eric Reid.

I hope, sir, that you approve of my action and think, with me, that it was the only course open to me.
