

ens, and is dif-
to its interest,
the common-

ought to con-
is based by virtue. But ought to re-
of its subservi-
not ashamed
solation at the side survey and
ous and relati-
firmed but one
lice is the per-
all common-
of that eternal
erise has bound
of his creatures,
erests to each
e pleasure than
enous paradox

the noble lan-ofophers, who
nce, the object,
tics, and law.
ca putem dic-
nisi sit confir-
ud, sine injuria
summa justitia
Frag. lib. ii.

policy of civil
from it, under suspicion of be-
Works, vol.