

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	A. Piatt Andrew	xv
LETTER FROM SECTION LEADERS		xix
I. THE ORGANIZATION OF THE SERVICE	Stephen Galatti	1
II. AT THE BACK OF THE FRONT: DUNKIRK AND YPRES	Henry Sydnor Harrison	6
III. THE SECTION IN ALSACE RECONQUISE	Preston Lockwood	21
IV. LAST DAYS IN ALSACE	Everett Jackson	51
V. THE SECTION IN LORRAINE	James R. McConnell	61
With an introduction by Theodore Roosevelt
VI. AN AMERICAN AMBULANCE IN THE VERDUN ATTACK	Frank Hoyt Gailor	89
VII. THE SECTION AT VERDUN	Henry Sheahan	109
VIII. THE SECTION IN FLANDERS	Joshua G. B. Campbell	117
IX. THE BEGINNINGS OF A NEW SECTION	George Rockwell	131
X. UN BLESSÉ À MONTAUVILLE	Emery Pottle	136
XI. CHRISTMAS EVE, 1915	Waldo Peirce	130
XII. THE INSPECTOR'S LETTER BOX		148
Our ambulances — How the cars reach Paris — En route for the front — First impressions — The daily pro- gramme — Handling the wounded — The wounded — Night duty — Fitting into the life — Paysages de guerre — Soldier life — July 22 at Pont-à-Mousson — Incidents		