NOW THEY ARE MINISTERS

Story of Futile Efforts on Part of Liberal Workers and Papers to Thwart Prefontaine.

SUTHERLAND'S STEP-UP COMMENDED

Net La Patrie Declares That They Will Be Judged by Their Work.

Hon. James Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, aged 53, residence Woodstock, Ont., and Hon. Joseph Raymond, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, aged 52, residence Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—The threats of the Witness have failed to produce the results looked for. Mr. Sutherland and his Herald have been turned down, while the millions of the Liberal party have completely failed to keep Raymond Prefontaine out of the cabinet. Now that the ex-Mayor has got both feet in the stirrups, and can afford to laugh at his enemies, the details of the recent fight between the Prefontaines and the anti-Prefontaines are amongst the most interesting chronicles that this province has ever seen.

Games That Failed.

All kinds of combinations were resorted to by the ex-Mayor to prevent the results of the election. He was to be made a judge, and Senator Dandurand, the bosom friend of the Abernethys, was to run in Rouville as Minister of Public Works, yet it would not work.

Mr. Brodeur was the man, yet all to no purpose.

Senator Dandurand sent a despatch to the Premier intimating that Prefontaine's acceptance of office would paralyze the law office of Dandurand, and drive the Liberal party from the banks of the St. Lawrence, and still Montreal's ex-Chief Magistrate became a member of the Canadian Privy Council.

Some English citizens wrote that Prefontaine was the wickedest man in the world, not excepting Jack the Ripper, and that Larry Wilson was even worse, and would own the whole Department of Marine, yet Sir Wilfrid did not budge.

To Be Sworn In.

Alderman Dan Gahery, M.P., seeing so much trouble in the party, offered to take the portfolio himself, but this effort produced no effect, and Mr. Prefontaine's idea of the future of the Capital to be sworn into the Privy Council.

La Patrie refers to the nomination of Hon. Messrs. Prefontaine and Sutherland, and declares that they will be judged by their work.

The Herald comments on the appointment of Hon. Mr. Sutherland, and regrets the other as follows: "Mr. Prefontaine's idea of the future of the Capital to be sworn into the Privy Council."

It is not for us to know, but it is clear that in Montreal, where he has lived under the limelight of publicity, there must be grave misgivings concerning the wisdom of the selection, not only on the part of the more discerning and general public, but quite as much on the part of those whose particular concern is the welfare of the administration.

New French Paper.

It is now well known that the new Minister of Marine will be instrumental in founding a new French newspaper in this city.

ALL OVER BY BY-NIGHT.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—Mr. Prefontaine says he will be sworn in as Minister of Marine to-morrow.

Politicians, who are on the inside circle, say that Mr. Sutherland, in the Public Works Department, is sure to be a source of strength to the Ontario government in any coming elections, and bets are offered that Mr. Ross will face the legislature with seven of a lead.

It is not likely that there will be any further shuffle in the cabinet for some time. The talk of Mr. Prefontaine going to Toronto to succeed Sir Oliver Mowat, is all humbug. The government faces a difficult session, and especially if a redistribution bill is introduced, and Mr. Scott's resignation. The standing of the parties in the House is too close to permit of any man leaving his seat to return to the Senate for over a quarter of a century, and knows the ropes as well, if not better, than any man in the government organ. The Free Press states to-night that Sir Oliver Mowat will continue in office for a time, and is taken to mean that he will not retire until such time as the government is ready for another cabinet shuffle. For the present, Mr. Scott remains in the Senate.

The whole interest centres now in the additional spending power which is to be added to the Marine portfolio. Some change is pending, the exact nature of which is not known to-night. Mr. Prefontaine will all for Malouin, says so as to represent the Montreal district. It is hardly likely that he will be opposed, as his majority was up in the hundreds. He claims to be able to hold Terrebonne for a quarter of a century, and has represented the two seats since the general election, owing to a technicality which prevents a man vacating while a protest is pending.

British Senate Po

Will Favor Municipal Ownership.

London, Nov. 10.—The Parliamentary Committee which has been considering the question of making provision for the construction of municipal tube railways in London will submit a report to the London County Council on Nov. 11. The report says the committee considers that the most effective method of dealing with the question would be to invite the assistance of the government to provide municipal tubes.

The report recommends that the London County Council approach the president of the Board of Trade and urge the appointment of a commission, which shall be empowered to hold a complete inquiry on the subject and consider proposals for the construction and secure authorization for such tubes as are deemed necessary for the public benefit.

Poor Woman of Eastwood Comes Into a $35,000 Legacy.

Woodstock, Nov. 10.—Another case of going to bed poor and waking up rich. On Saturday Mrs. Smith of Eastwood received a letter from a law firm in England, informing her that by the death of an aunt she has been left £7000, which is $35,000 in our money. The letter also requested her to go to England to be present at the distribution of the estate and informed her that money would be sent to bring her over.

Mrs. Smith is now getting a few things together preparatory to visiting the scene of her girlhood days, and to collect the fortune which has been left her at such an opportune moment.

For some time she was employed as a domestic at T. C. Patterson's, at Eastwood.

LONDON'S NEW LORD MAYOR

Procession for First Time in History of City Traversed the Unfashionable Thorofares.

BALFOUR SPEAKS AT THE BANQUET

Declares That Part of Colonies in the Boer War Shows They Were Not Sleeping Partners.

London, Nov. 10.—To-day, for the first time in the history of London, the Lord Mayor's procession traversed the unfashionable thorofares of Petticoat Lane, in the heart of the Ghetto, in recognition of the Jewish ancestry of Sir Marcus Samuel, the new Lord Mayor. Jewish London especially celebrated the event. The poorest inhabitants of Whitechapel and Houndsditch were banqueted at the expense of their wealthier co-religionists.

Goodly Pageant.

The quaint annual procession of the chief executives of the city thru the streets of the metropolis was probably more brilliant than usual. Seven richly decorated floats and fifteen bands representing crack regiments, together with the city officials, and the Lord Mayor, made up a goodly pageant. A unique feature was a float representing the Anglo-Japanese alliance, surrounded by a guard of Japanese and British blue jackets.

The procession left the Guild Hall at 11 a.m., and traversed the principal streets of the old City of London to the law courts, where, according to ancient custom, the Lord Mayor was formally presented to the Lord Chief Justice and sworn in.

Annual Banquet.

The annual banquet, given by the Lord Mayor of London this evening, was attended by about 1000 persons. Premier Balfour, replying to the toast, "His Majesty's Ministers," referred to the splendid services rendered by the colonies during the South African war, which showed, he said, that they were not sleeping partners in the imperial arm.

An unanswered question, however, was whether the war would be followed by a hot peace, or a cold one. The Premier said he looked to the future of South Africa with a hopeful, but not a sanguine, spirit, as every source of wealth there practically was dried up. He said he believed much more would come of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's visit to South Africa, which would be of great benefit to the colonies and to the mother country.

Kaiser's Visit.

Mr. Balfour declared that he knew nothing about the "fantasy bargains" invented by the press upon the occasion of the visit of "a great and friendly sovereign" to his "nearest relatives." Emperor William, according to the Premier, had no political motives in coming to the King Edward Hotel, but was simply a guest.

Dealings with the situation in Somaliland, Mr. Balfour said that water-shed wars and famines were always difficult problems to deal with, but that the Somaliland question was not of great importance to the empire.

London, Nov. 10.—Lord George Hamilton, the Indian Secretary, in submitting the Indian budget statement in the House of Commons to-day, pictured the increasing prosperity of India in spite of the ravages of famine, and said that the only item showing a decrease in revenue was opium.

The income for the current year was so ample that the government had decided to make a special grant of $7,500,000 for the relief of the sufferers from drought and famine, and the Secretary expected that the surplus would still exceed $5,000,000.

The Secretary paid a high tribute to the Viceroy of India, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, who, he said, had infused fresh vitality into every branch of the Indian administration, and who would see that the Convention Durbar was celebrated with all the pomp and magnificence worthy of the nation he represented.
