In his letter regarding the Campaign for $20,000 which commences on Monday, May 5th, under the direction of George M. Reid and several prominent London business men, General Shannon says: Shannon says:

"In connection with the Red Triangle Campaign from the fifth to ninth of May, I have much pleasure in testifying to the excellent work done by the connection with the association in connection with troops in training in this district, in providing comforts and amusements, in arranging sports and attractions for the men in addition to the purely religious meetings which have been held. I would strongly recommend it to the general support of the people.

Wishing you every success.
