

"CHOOSING A WIFE" REVEALS THRILLING ADVENTURES OF A SCIENTIST AMONG SAVAGES

Big Film Attraction Showing At the Majestic On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Next Week—Additional Attractions Are a Harold Lloyd Comedy, a News Reel, and a Chester Outing Picture.

The thrilling adventures of a scientist among the savage natives of the South Sea Islands are realistically set forth in "Choosing a Wife," the first National attraction, which will be shown at the Majestic Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with continuous performances. Andrew Quick is an explorer backed by wealthy interests which send him into the South Seas to study the natives and various aspects of the country. Traveling in one of the remote islands with a small bodyguard, he is set upon by fierce natives who kill off his followers and take Quick prisoner. Held by the natives, he is visited by a dark-skinned girl who longs to go to the lands of the white men, of which she has heard in a vague and distant way. She begs to be allowed the means of freeing herself. A native lover of the woman witnesses his escape. Killing the woman who was responsible for the huge savage chase.

E. K. Lincoln, the famous actor, and one of the most powerful men in motion pictures, appearing at the Majestic again today in "Virtuous Wives," a thrilling photodrama of American life.

Quick to the top of a high cliff, where they fight to the death. By superhuman effort Quick throws the savage into the sea. Later he is rescued by a relief expedition. It is then he goes back home to face the most remarkable situation imaginable, that of answering to a woman who thinks he has proposed to her, while in truth he had been trying to propose to her niece. Your opportunity of gleaning a little "inside facts" on the marriage question has arrived. The big photoplay, "Choosing a Wife," is crammed full of extraordinary interest to all human beings, but especially to young men who are contemplating matrimony, and young maidens hesitating about the same. "Incompatibility of temper" is the

"COMRADESHIP" A BIG BRITISH PRODUCTION, NOT A WAR FILM

"Comradeship," the English production with a selected cast of the best-known British cinema players, which comes to the Majestic Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday is based on expressions of King George and of Admiral David Beatty, or rather those have been used for the text of the story by Louis N. Parker.

In a recent speech, King George said: "I hope that the splendid spirit of comradeship on the battlefield will be kept alive in peace." Admiral Beatty said in another speech, this one to the people of Leicester: "We have been through four and a half years of great struggle. We have learned something—the true value of comradeship. Comradeship has enabled us to win the war."

Not a War Picture. "Comradeship" is not a war picture, but its background is the war and the story is that of a spirit born of the great struggle. It shows how the classes and the masses have been brought together as the result of that period of mutual self-sacrifice and how the Empire has been made all the stronger for the bitter struggle against the Hun horde. "While the word 'Bolshevik' is

Mack Sennett's Beautiful Bathing Girls Appearing in Person at Majestic

"Jack Canuck in Berlin" Will Be Presented at Popular Theatre
October 13—A Five-Reel Super Comedy.

We'll give you the story of the comedy first, just so you'll be sure to read it. "Jack Canuck in Berlin" is a five-reel comedy sensation created by that genius of laughs Mack Sennett. Appearing in the picture is his entire staff of famous comedians, Ben Turpin, Charles Murray, Ford Sterling, "Bohwell" Brown, Marie Prevost, Mal St. Clair, Bert Roach, Eva Thatcher, and all those beauties whom you have admired so often on the screen.

The story is of a daring Canadian aviator, who landing in Germany dressed in women's clothes, invades the imperial palace to secure the information on how to stop the war. There was a pretty little Belgian girl, being treated by a brute of a German, after killing the German, Jack Canuck takes the little Belgian into his care.

Falls For Vampire. Jack still in his disguise of a beautiful woman, invades the "sacred precincts," and von Hindenberg, the Kaiser, the crown prince, and all the imperial staff fall desperately in love with this beautiful vampire. So badly do they behave that the empress attempts to smother them, and send them back to the front, but things begin to move at such a fast and furious pace, that it's all the Kaiser and his imperial retinue can do to scramble into Germany before the victorious Canadians enter at the gate to Berlin.

But this is the great news. Those beauties, whom you have seen in the Sennett Comedy, these girls, said to be the most beautiful in America are to appear in person on the stage during each performance of the picture. Boys, don't miss it! Your dreams are coming true, you will actually see them all, smiling and dimpling, and laughing with you. Don't miss it! It is at the Majestic Monday, October 13, one week from Monday.

WONDERFUL GOWNS WORN BY BEAUTIES IN SENNETT COMEDY

Some of the most wonderful gowns ever seen on the screen will appear in Mack Sennett's five-part super-comedy, "Jack Canuck in Berlin," opening at the Majestic Theatre Monday, October 13. The gowns are worn by "Bohwell" Brown, the famous female impersonator, who takes the part of a young Canadian aviator who ramped the Kaiser in order to learn an important military secret.

The picture was taken in the most beautiful part of California, and some of the scenic pictures almost make the spectator gasp in admiration. Although you don't have much time, so much is going on in the course of the story—that no one has much time to look at scenery. Still, the scenery is there.

Superintendent of Nursing School Says Internal Bathing Gives Best Results in Constipation.

Dr. R. M. Smythe, President and Superintendent, Dominion School of Nursing, Toronto, writes: "I have much pleasure in sending you a letter recommending the J. B. L. Cascade. I shall also be pleased to do so personally or by phone. From personal experience, also from my various patients who are using the J. B. L. Cascade I have no hesitation in recommending it to anyone with constipation, or any trouble arising therefrom. Its benefits in such cases are felt at once, in my own case as well as others that have come directly under my notice. It has certainly been the means of bringing about many wonderful cures of constipation and various other troubles. I have much pleasure in recommending the Cascade. If you are troubled with headaches, biliousness, bad breath, rheumatism, mallow complexion, or any trouble arising from imperfect elimination, we would urge you to try Internal Bathing by means of the J. B. L. Cascade. This wonderful health-giving appliance is shown and explained at the Standard Drug Company, Limited. Please write them for free booklet all about it—or write Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 163 College Street, Toronto.
