

NEED FOR MEDICAL AID IN INDUSTRIES

Physician to Hydro Commission Points to Importance of Subject.

Members of the Industrial Relations Association of Toronto, including a number of industrial nurses, met in Foresters Hall, to hear Dr. Robert E. Gaby, speak on the subject of the Physical in Industry.

Dr. Gaby is the consulting physician for the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, and was well qualified to speak on this subject. In the course of his remarks he showed how large industrial plants were finding it more and more a help to the industries to have well equipped medical and surgical laboratories attached to, or in the vicinity of each establishment, where the best of attention could be given to employees in need of assistance or for physical examination when required. Rest rooms, and the need for the nurse in industry was stressed upon, after which a discussion was entered into by the members present as to the advantages and disadvantages of the various systems in use for looking after the well-being of employees.

D. S. Curtis, office manager of the Office Specialty Mfg. Co., followed with a paper on "The Physical in Industry," illustrating the card record system in use in the various employment departments.

Thos. Bengough, vocational director, board of education, was also in attendance, and gave an interesting synopsis of what his work would be in connection with the gradual education of the child for his entry into industrial and mercantile life.

The Ontario reports are coming in, but many of the towns are still conducting their canvasses.

MANUFACTURERS EXPLAIN LUXURY TAX OPPOSITION

That the luxury tax now imposed by the Dominion government is causing unemployment, injuring business, and discouraging the investment of capital, and, on the other hand, that it is securing comparatively little revenue for the government, are the arguments of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in asking the Dominion government to abolish this type of taxation.

The executive council of the association, at its last meeting, passed a resolution to the above effect, and representations are now being made to the government.

The public have greatly curtailed their purchases of those articles on which the tax is now placed. It is felt that the removal of the luxury tax would encourage the public to buy such goods more freely, with the result that business would be stimulated, and more employment would be available.

The property has a frontage on King street of 47 feet and will extend thru to Melind street. A start will be made in a few days in raising the old structures on the site.

SUSTAIN APPEAL ON INCOME ASSESSMENT

The appeal of Ernest D. and Reginald W. Watkins against their assessment of $8,000 each on income was sustained by the court of revision yesterday after it was shown that most of the revenue was from rentals in Hamilton. Some of the income it was shown were from investments and will be assessed.

The assessment was upheld on the old Y.M.C.A. property on Yonge and McGill streets held in the name of H. H. Williams. An appeal had been taken for the cancellation of $25,000 of the assessment on the ground that the Pentecostal Mission societies were held in the building. The court took the view that the building was used for other things besides religious work and refused to reduce the assessment from $149,542.

The appeal of Harold F. Ritchie, 14 McCaul street, against his income assessment of $53,539 was refused. Mr. Ritchie claimed that he was a manufacturer and was not liable for an income tax, but the court classed him as a manufacturer's agent.

FREEDOM WAS BEF.

SPRACKLIN'S FUTURE IS NOT DETERMINED

J. D. Flavell and Attorney-General Raney Non-Committal on Subject.

The World yesterday asked J. D. Flavell, chairman of the Ontario License Board, as to the future of Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin as far as his continuing to act as an inspector under the authority of the board and if he was retained in his office would he be permitted to operate in the Windsor district?

Mr. Flavell said the board of commissioners had determined nothing concerning Mr. Spracklin's future, and all we have to say is, he added, "that the board of commissioners have every confidence in Mr. Spracklin."

The attorney-general, Hon. W. E. Raney, told The World yesterday that the Spracklin case would be dealt with by the Windsor authorities. His department had every confidence in them.

As to whether Mr. Spracklin would be retained in the government service, Mr. Raney said that as far as he knew that had not yet been considered by the government.

EXCELLENT ACTING BY PLAYERS' CLUB

Tragedy and Comedy Well Presented at Hart House Theatre.

Roy Mitchell, director of Hart House Theatre, is to be congratulated upon last night's opening of the season by the Players' Club at the theatre for 1920-21. The first presentation, "The Pines," was a tragedy with a truly Japanese setting. This sought to bring out not only the idealism of fatalism and self-sacrifice which actuated the people of a bygone era, but also an insight into the tragedy of that era. It was the tale of great self-sacrifice of Matsuo, chancellor of Kokushu, Goria, who took the part of a peasant whose parents had him educated in the university. When he returned home he was insufferably Latinized. Finally the tale of a disloyalty, gave their only son as an offering.

Holberg, which was the comedy parts, took the audience back into the days of old Denmark, depicting with the artistry and humor the customs of the 17th century. It was the tale of a peasant whose parents had him educated in the university. When he returned home he was insufferably Latinized. Finally the tale of a disloyalty, gave their only son as an offering.

All those who took part in both performances were university student amateurs. Miss Nellie Jeffries as Chio, wife of Matsuo, in the tragedy of that name, took her part especially well. The same was true of Miss Kathleen Goria, who took the part of Abraham who he saw him in the face of four feet in front of the car, but did not prevent the car from hitting him. Hospital, where he was operated on, but died of his injuries.

J. C. Tilley acted for the crown and Mr. Godfrey for the defence.

TO ADDRESS CONVENTION. J. P. Hagerman, executive secretary for the Toronto Boys' Work Board, left for Montreal last night to deliver two addresses before the annual Sunday school convention of the province, on the subjects, "The Toronto Plan for Church and Y. M. C. A. Cooperation in Boys' Work" and "The Program of the Church for Teen-Age Boys."

AGAIN DESTROY BRITISH FLAG

Small Crowd in New York Tears It Down From Theatre Entrance.

New York, Nov. 9.—The British flag that formed part of the armistice week decorations at the Capitol Theatre, Broadway and 51st street, has had an adventurous time of it these days. Last Sunday nine women of Irish sympathies, wearing MacSwiney buttons, tore the flag down, pulled down again. This time it was burned.

Fifteen men and several women gathered in front of the theatre about 10 o'clock and after a conference one man jumped into an automobile waiting at the curb and with the aid of a long stick "fished" down the flag from the collection of allied pennants over the entrance of the theatre. The theatre's management announced that another British flag would be put up. This time the allied flag will be sewn together and marauders will have to destroy all or none.

VETERANS COMPLAIN OF RENTAL CHARGES

Houses Described as Unfit for Human Habitation Pay Owner Well.

W. E. Turley, provincial secretary for the G.W.V.A. in Ontario, has written to Assessment Commissioner Forman to the effect that residents of a number of houses on Brock avenue have had their rents increased from $10 and $12 a month in 1914 to $27 and $30 a month today.

A number of the occupants, continues Mr. Turley, are ex-service men, and the medical health department, after inspection, has stated that these houses are far below the standard requirements for human habitation, and but for the shortage of houses at the moment would have been adjudged unfit for habitation.

These houses are six-roomed, roughcast structures about 40 years old. At the time they were originally purchased they were worth about a thousand dollars each.

In conclusion the provincial secretary calls upon the assessor to do what he can to remedy the conditions.

A remittance awaits Sapper J. F. McKoy, late of the Imperial service, with the London Transport. Later the sapper re-enlisted as Pte. John Friend. The authorities would be glad to know his whereabouts.

Riverdale G.W.V.A. boasts with reason of any branch of the association in Canada. During the twelve months closing September 30 the branch had adjusted claims totaling no less than $383,306.90, not including the pensions of those with yearly pensions, which totalled $7470. The secretary, Sergeant James Hawkins, stated yesterday afternoon that adjustments totaling five thousand dollars still awaited settlement.

CANADA'S VETERANS REPRESENTED AT ABBEY

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—(By Canadian Press).—Canada's war veterans will be represented at the Armistice Day ceremony in Westminster Abbey, London, when an unknown soldier is to be buried. Cabled instructions from the Dominion command, G.W.V.A. to the United Kingdom branch of the G.W.V.A. asking that a wreath be laid on the unknown soldier when the ceremony of burial takes place on Nov. 11.

MOTORIST NOT BLAMED FOR FATAL ACCIDENT

Coroner J. A. C. Evans' jury brought in a verdict of accidental death at the inquest last night, held on the body of C. D. Abraham, a rubber fabric expert from Delaware, U.S., who was hit by an auto proceeding west on the Hamilton highway at stop 23 on Nov. 8.

The driver, James B. McPherson of Clarkson, who was exonerated from all blame, stated that he did not see the man crossing the road on account of the glare of the headlights of a car facing him. He slowed down to about twelve miles an hour and shouted to Abraham when he saw him in the face of four feet in front of the car, but did not prevent the car from hitting him. Hospital, where he was operated on, but died of his injuries.

J. C. Tilley acted for the crown and Mr. Godfrey for the defence.

POWER QUESTION STILL UNSETTLED

Consideration Temporarily Suspended—Will Be Resumed Today.

There was a temporary lull yesterday in the negotiations looking to a settlement of the power situation. The question of the price to be charged by the Electrical Development Company for furnishing power to the province is the only thing that stands in the way of a complete clean-up.

A meeting to consider matters is to be held today by the Hydro-Electric Commission. Sir Adam Beck saw Premier Drury yesterday, but declined to discuss the situation. The premier also had nothing to say, he said.

In any event the seriousness of the power shortage outweighs everything else, and for this reason the original expectation that in a week's time some 15,000 horsepower would be available for public use, will, it is thought, be realized.

UNIONS BRING UP JURISDICTION CASE

Machinists and Iron Workers Seek Judgment From Headquarters.

The Toronto locals of the machinists' and ornamental iron workers' unions have, according to information gathered yesterday at the Labor Temple, asked their international headquarters to determine the controversy regarding the body to which jurisdiction inside safe workers belongs.

The matter has been discussed locally by the officials of the unions concerned and it is understood that the decision to refer to international headquarters was made as a consequence of their inability to reach an agreement.

President James Munro of the machinists' union stated that he had communicated with the international headquarters and expected an early reply. It is understood that the number of men involved is relatively small.

The failure of their candidate was a live topic yesterday among those connected with the campaign of James Higgins, the defeated Labor nominee in the Northeast Toronto riding. One voter, who had himself supported Lewis, attributed the failure of his associates to excessive preaching of the doctrine of class consciousness. The position of the laboring man was at present, he pointed out, sufficiently satisfactory to render him not unduly sensitive to class struggle urgings, and he was therefore, easily attracted to the Conservative party, which had as its principal plank in its platform the constructive program of hydro development.

The following significant figures compiled by Secretary M. D. Robbins of Division 13, Toronto Amalgamated Railway Employees, indicate the activity during years 1914 to 1920: Sick benefits, $48,289; death benefits, $62,700; initiations, 6,916; total receipts, $113,122.

The Toronto local of the International Stove Mounters' Union has elected the following members for the coming year: President, J. Wilson; vice-president, J. Peard; financial secretary, H. Van Randen; corresponding secretary, G. Skitch; treasurer, P. Smith.

The Toronto local of the International Union of Bookbinders has posted notice of a euchre and dance to be held on November 29 in Foresters Hall.

Business Agent W. J. Storey of the Plumbers' Union celebrated his birthday yesterday and was the recipient of the congratulations of his friends in the labor movement.

TORONTO BREAD PRICES NOT LIKELY TO DROP

Toronto bread prices are not likely to drop as a result of the heavy slumps in outside wheat and flour markets, in the opinion of John Hillon of Hilton Brothers, bakers. Mr. Hillon said that a drop of 30 cents per barrel, as occurred in Winnipeg Monday, would not affect bread prices. There would have to be a substantial drop.

IS NATURAL GAS RUNNING SHORT?

Discussed Before Ontario Government.

A deputation representing the Union Gas Co. of Essex and several municipalities in that county waited on the government yesterday in an effort to arrive at an understanding regarding the natural gas situation. The wells are said to be, in some cases, nearing exhaustion, and the company proposes raising its rates.

On the suggestion of Premier Drury representatives were appointed from both sides with a mutual chairman to arrange a sufficient price which would secure economy in the quantity of gas used, the added amount to go into a trust fund to be returned if investigation shows the increase was not justified.

Will Hold Investigation. Premier Drury emphasized what the province was facing this winter in shortage of coal and electric power, and alluded to the importance of conserving the gas supply. He stated that an independent expert would make an investigation in the spring. Some remarks were made about wastage of gas in Wallaceburg. J. G. Kerr, Chatham, was speaker for the Union Gas Co., and A. L. Lewis, K.C., of Chatham, represents the municipalities.

In the course of the discussion Premier Drury said there was not the slightest doubt that the gas companies and the consumer had got a great natural resource belonging to the province on conditions advantageous to them. The government took the stand that there must not be a price to budge on the consumers into any agreement.
