conduct the noses of the people in that neighborhood. But there are others if there is a leak in the Dry Lake it is not the leak of 1834. It has been suggested that the Three Lamps at Reed's Point should be painted. Mr. James Jones says he expects that somebody will be proposing next to cut down all the trees in Queen Square.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

When the members of the chain-gang read Ald. Kelley's impassioned address in their behalf, they agreed that the alderman would be invited to aid each of them on the path of reform--as soon as they could get at him. As a rule the path leads straight to the office of the man who is considered an easy mark, and then straight to the nearest bar. After that it zig-zags back toward King street east.
