

A LETTER TO OUR READERS.

83 COTTAGE ST. Miramichi, N.B. Dear Sir: Ever since I was in the Army, I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe that I was much alarmed—my strength and power were fast leaving me, and I was obliged to take Swamp-Root and write asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement of my health. I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this, I had a doctor examine some of my water today and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.

I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers I am, Very truly yours, I. C. RICHARDSON.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful remedy, Dr. Klinger's Swamp-Root, sent absolutely free by mail, also a book telling all about Swamp-Root. It is already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular 75c. and 8125 size bottles of this drug stores in Canada. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Klinger's Swamp-Root, and address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

FUND FOR SEAMEN'S INSTITUTE NEW HOME IS STARTED

At a largely attended meeting of the members of the Seamen's Institute last night the report of the executive committee for the past season was read. The treasurer's report was very gratifying. He announced that James F. Robertson had donated $250 to the building fund. The income for the past six months was about $1434 and there is a balance of $2100 hand after all bills are met. Of this balance $1000 has been deposited to the credit of the building fund.

The winter port season just closed has been a particularly busy one at the rooms in the Chapman House. A great many of interesting figures were presented. The institute was open 182 days during the six months with a daily average attendance of 100 seamen. Nine hundred and ten tickets were made to vessels and no less than 9,000 parcels of magazines and other reading matter were placed on board outward bound ships. Seventy-five meetings were held and the average attendance was 100 men.

The number of temperance pledges signed was 375. No less than 11,000 letters from and to seamen have been made, $800 has been deposited for seamen, $300 has been sent home for them and $1,000 has been exchanged.

The amount collected during the six months for the work was $14,342. The collections from the various steamship lines were: Allan, $24,357; C. P. R., $24,022; Dominion, $25; Black Diamond, $25; and Pictou & Black, $21,87, a total of $60,481.

Lady Tilley moved the adoption of Mr. Gorbelle's report and spoke of the deep pleasure it gave her to see the work so prosperous. Miss Lovitt also presented a report from the ladies' auxiliary in which she stated that the new piano presented by them to the institute is almost paid for.

VICTORIATOWED HERE UNINJURED Toward by the tug W. H. Murray the Steamer Victoria arrived at Inlandtown about 6 o'clock last evening, apparently none the worse for her enjourned detention opposite Palmer's wharf. Five tugs were engaged in pulling the steamer back into deep water. Once aloft again it was thought to tow her to St. John and not come to Inlandtown under her own steam.

WHEN THAT COLD COMES How is it cured? This method is simplicity itself. Rub the chest and throat well with Nerville's use it as a gargle and take some in hot water before retiring along with one of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Next morning find you refreshed, free from cold and bright as a dollar.

These household remedies are wonderfully successful, and certainly won't fail in your case. For sale at all dealers.

Rev. Mr. Bamford of Carleton, lectured in Victoria street Baptist church last evening. His subject was, Canada, through the eyes of an Englishman, and his treatment of the theme was able. That he has made a close study of Canadian life and conditions was clearly shown and the address made a most favorable impression.

THE HELMET OF AN ARMY

BY BERTHA RUNKLE. GROSSET & DUNLAP Publishers: New York.

(Continued.) "Messieurs," I said, "I swear by the blessed saints I am what I told you. I am not an spy, and no one sent me here. Who you are, or what you do, I know no more than a babe unborn. I belong to no party and no man's man. As for why you choose to live in this empty house, it is not my concern and I care no whit about it. Let me go, messieurs, I will swear to keep silence about what I have seen."

"I am for letting him go," said Xeuze-gra. Gervais looked doubtful, the most encouraging attitude toward me he had yet assumed. He answered, "If he had not said the name—"

"Stuff!" interrupted Xeuze-gra. "It is a coincidence, no more. If he were what you think, it is the very last name he would have said."

"This was Greek to me; I had mentioned no names but Messire Jacques's and my own. And he was their friend."

"Messieurs," I said, "if it is my name that does not please you, why, I can say for it that it is not very high-sounding, at least it is an honest one and has ever been held so down through the ages."

"And that is at St. Quentin," said Xeuze-gra. "Yes, monsieur. My father, Anton Broux, is Master of the Forest to the Duke of St. Quentin."

He started, and Gervais cried out: "You are the Duke's son?"

"My nerves, which had grown tranquil since Xeuze-gra came to my rescue, quivered anew. The common man started at the very word St. Quentin, and the master started when I named the duke. Was it he whom they had spoken of as Monsieur? Who and what were they? There was no more in this than I had thought at first. It was no longer a mere question of my liberty, I was all eyes and ears for whatever information I could gather."

Xeuze-gra spoke to me, for the first time gravely. "This is not a time when folks take pleasure-trips to Paris. What brought you here?"

"I used to be Monsieur's page down at St. Quentin," I answered, "denying the truth, but he was in Paris, my father sent me up to him. I reached the city last night, and lay at the Amour Hotel, but the guard would not let me in. Then, when Monsieur drove out I tried to speak with him, but he would have none of me."

The bitterness I felt over my rebuff must have been in my voice as I face, for Gervais spoke abruptly: "And on you hate him for that?"

"Nay," said I, cheerfully enough. "It is his to do as he chooses. But I hate the Comte de Mar for striking me a fatal blow."

"The Comte de Mar?" exclaimed Xeuze-gra. "His son?"

"He has no son," I said. "But he has, monsieur. The Comte de—"

"He is dead," said Xeuze-gra. "You were leaved enough." I was beginning, when the Comte de Mar's side, elegant and proud-looking, with an aquiline nose—

CITY STREETS IN WRETCHED SHAPE; WORK MUST BE DONE

(The Daily Telegraph.) Perhaps it is not rash to assert that it is quite possible to improve upon the sidewalks and streets of this city. The pavements are spotted with holes of assorted sizes, and where you may not find holes you will see cracks radiating in various directions. In the paved portions of the streets the variety of ruts, ridges, hollows and hummocks is almost without number. To count them is like trying to number the stars—you turn away abashed and bewildered.

Every thoroughfare in the city will bear criticism, and there is evidence that criticism has not been wanting. Take last Monday, for example. The hollow places in the asphalt were brimming with water. The holes in the streets were full. To walk and have dry feet, most persistent victims of the city's streets, is a thing of the past.

Some Sample Places. Perhaps the worst stretch of sidewalk within the city limits is on the west side of Prince William street, between the home and the three lamps. Between the asphalt is lying in ragged eddies. There are large patches where it has worn away completely, and the showing through. At the junction of Prince William and St. James streets, conditions are quite as bad.

Samaritan Stopped His Drinking

A London Lady cares her husband permanently of the drink habit and without his knowledge.

"How glad I am that I overcame my drinking habit," writes you for a Free Will Contribution to the Samaritan Society. At that time my wife was drinking very hard, and I was almost blind. My wife, Mrs. M. J. Macrae, of the Samaritan Society, gave me a bottle of her medicine, and now I am cured. I give my husband the credit of his cure. As the Samaritan Society is a benevolent organization, I will tell others of my experience.

WILL DRILL IN VICTORIA RINK

New Field Battery Secures Excellent Place for Operations.

The Victoria Rink has been leased to the military authorities for the purpose of providing suitable drill quarters for the 19th Field Battery, now recruited and fitted out.

Col. White, D. O. C., was asked by a Telegraph reporter yesterday afternoon about the matter, and he said that the building had been leased. He was in a position to say when drill would commence.

Col. G. W. Jones is in command of the battery, which has not yet been recruited to full strength, the full strength is slightly more than 100 men.

The battery, it is expected, will be at Camp Sussex at the annual encampment next month, and before the season opens, the officers are anxious to have the men become thoroughly drilled.

The rink is looked upon as a building well suited for drill for it is very spacious. If necessary the asphalt flooring will be covered with straw or some similar substance.

Methodist Superannuation Fund. A meeting of the general committee of the superannuation fund of the Methodist church for the maritime provinces, Newfoundland and Bermuda, was held in Centenary church yesterday. Those present were Rev. E. L. England, of Lawrenceville; Rev. Dr. Evans, of St. John; Judge S. A. Chesley, of Lunenburg; and J. Hunter White, of this city.

Accounts were considered and passed. In the afternoon, proposed amendments to the rules governing the collecting and administration of the fund came up for consideration, but no action was taken, for the committee is not a legislative body, and any amendments would have to be decided by the general conference.

The resignation of John E. Irvine from the investment committee was accepted, and a resolution expressing regret at his departure, and appreciation of his services, was unanimously passed. James Myles was elected to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Irvine's resignation.

John W. Schumann and Nelson Schumann, of Springfield, and Edward Clifton, of Portland, were registered at the New Victoria yesterday.

BLOODLESS GIRLS

Can Obtain New Health Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Anemia means bloodlessness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich blood, and cure the bloodless condition. When the blood is poor the nerves are starved and irritable. Then comes hysteria, neuralgia, sleeplessness and all the other ailments. Headaches, backaches and side-aches wear out and depress the poor pale victim. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills soon bring ruddy health and lively vigor. They soothe the jangled nerves and give new strength to every organ. Miss Winnie Allen, Montreal, says: "I was so weak and run down that my friends thought I was going into consumption. I was as pale as a corpse, had no appetite and did not sleep well. The least exertion tired me out, and if I walked a few blocks I would be almost breathless. My sister advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using them for a few weeks I am again enjoying good health and have a good color. I think every weak girl should take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They will cure any case of bloodlessness just as surely as they cured Miss Allen. The pale anemic needs a course, had no appetite and did not sleep well. The least exertion tired me out, and if I walked a few blocks I would be almost breathless. I think every weak girl should take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They will cure any case of bloodlessness just as surely as they cured Miss Allen.
