Sufficiently Humbled
Mrs. Melien did not wish to offend her new cook.
"John," she said to the man servant, "can you find out without asking the cook, whether the tinned salmon was all eaten last night. You see, I don't wish to ask her, because she may have eaten it, and then she would feel uncomfortable," added the good soul.

"If you please, ma'am," replied the man, "the new cook has eaten the tinned salmon and if you was to say anything to her, you couldn't make her feel any more uncomfortable than she is."
While shingling the house owned by Postmaster Edward F. Delaney of Brookfield, John Tallman and his son were attacked by a swarm of wasps which had made their home in a jet on the house. To get rid of the pests Tallman bought a pint of ether and subdued them by pouring into their quarters a generous dose of the anesthetic.
H. A. Jordan of Katakahin, Me., one of the good shots of that place, killed three bears in four weeks recently.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY, HOME AND ABROAD

Nings Plank retired the Whales in one, two, three order. He did not allow a single safety from the third to the fourth inning, giving him ten hitless rounds in a row. During the entire contest only five men reached first base on him, three on hits, one on a pass and one on an error by Vought.
Evers a Natural Crab
Boston Advertiser—Johnny Evers, captain of the Boston Braves, is being panned quite a bit because he hit an umpire, and it is reported he instigated the National League umpires were instructed to make the race close.
Now he's in a most unenviable position because of his fight with Manager Clarke of the Pirates. He just cannot help fighting.
Evers is the most misunderstood player in baseball. Instead of being a venomous tongue, unreasoning fellow, he is a true friend, loyal enemy quick to forgive when anyone has done him an injury and the first to offer amends when he finds he is wrong in the game or out of it.
"I can't play ball unless I crab," Evers says. He fights everybody in a game even himself. Pecos Chavez who played first base alongside of Evers for years used to say "I wish to heaven my deaf ear was toward the crab." Evers even rode Chavez when Chavez was manager. Chavez understood him.
