Domestic Day.

We enter to-day upon the twentieth year of Confederation in Canada, and while we make the occasion a public holiday, it is because it is so provided by statute and not from any of the causes which generally make national anniversaries days of public rejoicing.

Those of the people who observe the day will do so on the principle that it is "no use to cry over spilled milk," while many will refrain from its observance because they realize that in doing otherwise they would seem to give the lie to their well-grounded convictions that Confederation has been a failure by the very nature of its origin and its management of the leading men by whose instrumentality it was brought about. In New Brunswick we are especially suffering from the effects of the fatal step taken in 1867. We have a burden of Federal taxation already exceeding the maximum fixed by the statesmen who warned us of it, and double what our leading advocates of the calamity promised it would be. At the same time, we are suffering from a stagnation of business that is unprecedented. Times are somewhat better in the larger provinces, for these are enabled, by their advantages, to do nearly all the importing and manufacturing for us as well as themselves, while business is fairly good in the United States. It is positively discouraging to those who live in New Brunswick to have their friends—so a few years ago were driven to seek employment in the States—making their summer home-visit declare that nothing would induce them to return here to live. There is no longer that can withstand the silent, insidious undermining processes of declining business and commercial restrictions, with surroundings of broken political pledges, growing public debt, increasing taxation, waste and squandering of the national substance, and neglect by public men of great interests and opportunities in the pursuit of their private and party ends. It is with such thoughts in the people's minds—and the misgivings and unrest which are inseparable from them—that we, in New Brunswick, enter the twentieth year of our existence as a part of the Dominion of Canada. Public men and public journals may endeavor to conceal the fact that they will, but they cannot change it. Confederation, so far as New Brunswick is concerned, has been a miserable failure and the sooner the province joins the movement begun in Nova Scotia for release from the union the better it will be for her people to-day and those who are to come after them.

Encouraging the Pulp Mill Enterprise.

The Town meeting held at Chatham on Wednesday evening of last week, to consider the expediency of accepting the pulp mill enterprise from the Government, resulted in the granting of the exemption by an almost unanimous vote. After the Town Clerk, Mr. W. T. Connor, had called the meeting to order, Mr. W. A. Hickson was elected Chairman. Dr. Baxter then placed the subject before the meeting by referring to the magnitude of the enterprise, its recent misfortune in the loss of the new factory building, the indignities in the form of tax-exemption offered Mr. Fisher and the desirability of Chatham making an effort to show that it was ready to fall in with the spirit of the times, and evince its appreciation of the value of the enterprise by the granting of a general exemption, and, on the whole, made out a strong case in favor of Chatham granting like encouragement, not only to Mr. Fisher's undertaking, but to any new factory that might offer.

Mr. F. E. Winflow followed Dr. Baxter in a matter of fact speech, arguing that when other places were bidding, by means of bounties or tax-exemptions for such enterprises as Mr. Fisher's, Chatham could not expect to secure them unless its people were ready to offer the same inducements, for other things being equal, men of capital would go where the people were most appreciative, and enabled them to do business most advantageously and economically. It had, for a long time, and often, been a matter of complaint that the Miramichi was depending almost solely on the lumbering business, and everybody professed to be anxious to see some other kind of manufacturing industry started. To realize this the people must compete with other places in offering inducements to men who were desirous of locating in the place, and that that of Mr. Fisher, otherwise we would be left just where we have always been. As a matter of fact, we had but one mill running in Chatham at the present time, and in the event of anything happening to it the few people who most fully realize the importance of allowing no opportunity to slip by which additional industries might be started among us.

Mr. George Cassidy spoke in favor of the principle of exemption and advanced good reasons for its position. Mr. Snowball next addressed the meeting and dealt quite exhaustively with the subject, showing that he had done all in his power to encourage the pulp mill enterprise, realizing that Chatham's interests would be materially promoted by the employment it would afford to a large number of people, and that its contributions in different ways to the business of the place. Notwithstanding the blow the enterprise had received and the loss occasioned by the fire, he believed it would go on if the meeting would give Mr. Fisher the encouragement which were offered for the establishment of the works elsewhere. The exemption asked was not to apply to the land on which the works were erected, and which had heretofore been taxed, but only on the buildings and plant set, erected or brought here by Mr. Fisher for the pulp mill purposes. The exemption granted on this property would be the means of creating other taxable property, such as the dwellings and personal effects of Mr. Fisher and all his employees, and the increased value of business and other properties to result from the establishment of the enterprise in the community, so that after all—the town would be decidedly a gainer. He hoped the meeting would be of the opinion that it was in its own interest to grant the exemption proposed.

Mr. D. Ferguson endorsed what had been said by previous speakers and was in favor of giving the proposed exemption to the pulp factory. The Chairman reminded the speakers that no resolution had yet been offered. He favored the proposed exemption to an extent sufficient to encourage the establishment of the works—say five years.

Dr. Baxter moved the resolution in favor of exemption. After some discussion and on the suggestion of Mr. Winflow a vote was taken on the principle of exemption, the time and other conditions being left for subsequent action. Nearly all present voted for exemption and on motion of Mr. Geo. Cassidy, seconded by Mr. Snowball, the terms of exemption was fixed at fifteen years. The resolution when completed and passed by the Meeting was as follows:—

Resolved, that the exemption of the pulp factory now in course of erection in the Town of Chatham, from the payment of taxes on the same, for a term of fifteen years, be granted, and that the Town of Chatham, by its representatives, do hereby pledge themselves to support the same, and to see that the exemption is carried out in full.

Sir John and the Cardinal.

Mr. Chaplain claimed so much credit for Sir John Macdonald for the appointment of a Catholic Cardinal in Quebec that the Roman Catholic hierarchy in Quebec have put forth a semi-official statement of the matter. In brief, it is that the Cardinal in question is not a Canadian, but that the Pope does not create a Cardinal in a foreign country without informing the authorities and without an assurance from them that the Cardinal in question is a person of high standing in the country or to the person to be appointed to it. As a result of the Government of Canada Sir John Macdonald was consulted with through English agents, and then gave the matter assistance. Mr. Chaplain's recent speech on the subject was very much in an attempt to show that Sir John Macdonald was the entire credit of the whole matter. It is of course, a most unlikely thing that Sir John would throw any obstacles in the way of an appointment, and, as the appointment of Montreal Archbishop has been received with so much favor by Protestants as well as by Catholics it is quite natural that Sir John and his friends will try to get credit for the appointment. Perhaps it is possible to say that Sir John was not the one who suggested the appointment of a Cardinal in Quebec, but that he was the one who carried it out. One thing is quite certain: had there been a great deal of fact shown by the Protestants against the creation of a Cardinal for Canada we would not have heard so much about it from Sir John's political friends and the friends of the Bishop and Synod of the Montreal Church, and of prominent members of other churches, as shown by the readiness with which they paid their respects personally to the new Cardinal, and the readiness with which they have been so ready to give him the credit of the whole matter. The Chairman reminded the speakers that no resolution had yet been offered. He favored the proposed exemption to an extent sufficient to encourage the establishment of the works—say five years.
