A FIRE occurred in the residence of Mrs. Roland Crocker of Derby on Saturday afternoon. The flames were bursting through the roof of the kitchen when first discovery was made. THE "ADVOCATE" does not appear to be ashamed of displaying a most peculiar example of the benefits of education and piety. The language it employs, also, in which to convey its ideas to the public on the subject of the Temperance question indicates that it can be very temperate at times, and entirely unfit to be contemplated by those who respect the common decencies of life. If, however, its patrons can afford to let their women and children read the coarse and vile language it prints it is more their affair than ours.
