TWO BROTHERS DID THE SAME THING—The Summerville Farmer says that the name of John R. Gordon appears among the obituary notices in the Advance. METHODIST—The meeting in the Methodist church on Monday evening, in aid of the sustentation fund of the Methodist church was but thinly attended. Rev. Mr. Clark stated the object of the fund was to help make up the salary of ministers in poor districts, where the people were unable to raise the full amount required, and even with aid from this fund many were left far less than they were entitled to.

Rev. Messrs. Bell, of Welford, and R. S. J. of Chatham also addressed the meeting. The choir sang several suitable pieces. The collection amounted to over $18.—Advocate.

NEW STEAMER—A new side-wheel steamer, 70 ft. long, 15 ft. beam and 4 ft. 8 in. deep was launched from the building yard of the Miramichi Foundry and Machine Works yesterday morning. The geared engines which are being constructed at the foundry, will be supplied with power by a steel boiler, and the new tug will, when completed, will be a credit to all concerned. The Miramichi foundry works are amongst the few in the province that can turn out large or small steam-vessels complete from the hands of their own workmen.

DEATH OF MRS. BURNS—Mrs. Burns, wife of K. F. Burns, Esq., M. P., died at her residence, Bathurst, at three o'clock on Sunday afternoon. She had been ailing for several years past, but for the last month was gradually becoming weaker, although it was not thought that death was so near until Saturday evening. Mr. Burns, who was in Rimouski on his way to Bathurst, was telegraphed for on Saturday night, and received the telegram just in time to prevent his embarking on the steamer which runs between Rimouski and the north shore of the St. Lawrence. Being too late for the express he took a special train, but, unfortunately, did not reach home in time to see his wife before she died. This makes the coincidence very sad indeed. The deceased was forty-three years of age. Mrs. Burns was universally beloved, especially by the poor, who will lose in her a kind and charitable friend. The funeral which was on Tuesday forenoon was one of the largest ever seen in Bathurst.

RECENT NOTES.

RICHMOND, MAY 7, 1889.

Mr. W. Carman Elias left by train yesterday morning for Winnipeg.

Mrs. Peter Loggie left by the same train on a visit to her friends in the Western States.

Dr. Thomas Bourque, a cousin of Dr. L. N. Bourque of Moncton, was in town this week with a view to locating here. It is quite probable he will decide on "hanging out his shingle" in the shiretown, in which case he will find the field large enough for himself and the present incumbents.

In the County Court the case of A. J. Girvan vs. J. Richard resulted in a verdict for the defendant. The trial lasted four days. C. J. Sayre for plaintiff; J. D. Phinney for defendant.

The case of Henry O'Leary vs. J. D. Phinney is now before the Court. Mr. McInerney and Carter for plaintiff; C. J. Sayre for defendant.

REMARKS.

DOCKTOWN NOTES.

DOCKTOWN, MAY 1st, 1889.

The weather is fine and spring weather is about 2 weeks in advance of other years. Farming is well under way.

The river is very high. Probably it will not come up much higher. If it does it will do damage.

The stone pier of the R. R. Bridge galls a good many logs in the form of small chains, when they swing off leaving the pier bare for a time.

The drivers, so far as heard from, are moving along as well as could be expected.

Work is plentiful. Anybody can find employment this day and night.

Our stores are doing a fair business and everybody is contented and happy.

Temperance is the rule here; nobody gets drunk except on occasional tipple away from home.

The apple-tree man and the agricultural implement agent are around, and judging from the way they make sales it looks as if people had faith in farming.

Several of our young men have come back from the U. S., no doubt thinking there is no place like home.

Mr. John T. Merereau intends removing to New Hampshire. His father will run the farm here.

Mr. S. Freeze has put an addition to his mill, with the intention of enlarging his business.

Several parties about here intend putting up new buildings this coming summer.

Mr. James Donald is about going to California for the purpose of settling up his business there and returning.

TWO SAN FRANCISCO WINNERS.

Interbrought, South San Francisco, is likely to become very popular. One of the happiest men in this thriving suburb is John M. C. Mangle, who keeps a grocery store on the corner of Railroad Ave. and Manitoba St. He had bought Louisiana State Lottery tickets, and a few days before the March drawing he resolved to try his luck. He held a coupon of tickets 2,887, and so won $15,000. He was paid last Thursday in full. William Griffin, also a San Franciscan, was the other lucky man in last week's drawing. He is a printer by occupation and has many received far less than they were entitled to.

About a Herring-Song.

Editor of the Advance.

Sir—I have been surprised to hear that I have been charged by interested parties with having taken advantage of the gentlemen here to whom I sold my former old herring-boat, Cloud, which I find is still in Miramichi, under the name of the Federa. When Mr. Noonan spoke to me about the boat, I told him I would send him to him and that he could pay me just what he thought she was worth, after he had examined her. I sent her over, and Mr. Noonan, who always acted with me as a gentleman, sent me $85, which I accepted as the price of the Cloud. If another party, who knew nothing of boats, had a rise taken out of me, and bought my old herring droger with her name changed to the Federa and then, let her get rotten and worn-out, and she didn't turn out a yacht, simply because she got into his hands, it is no fault of mine, nor is it any reason why I should be held up to ridicule in any paper, for spite. By publishing this you will oblige, I think, I am, Sir, your obedient servant, L. B. LEWIS, Capt. of the "Og."

What Ex-Scott Act Inspector Vye has to say.

Editor of the Advance.

Sir—As I had such a hard time in my endeavors to discharge my duties as official Inspector for the Municipality under the Scott Act, I thought my troubles were over when I had fought through my claims for payment under my engagement with the Council, and was obliged to get out of the business with a loss. I say with a loss, for although I was paid for more time than I was actually engaged in prosecuting violators of the law, I had practically abandoned my usual business for the year that the Council engaged me for, and had a right to be paid for the whole of it, because it was not my fault that the injunction of the Supreme Court was issued, and that I was, thereby, prevented from enforcing the law as I was anxious and prepared to do.

When I was chosen by the County Council as Inspector I looked forward to having a hard time in enforcing the Scott Act. I thought, however, that while I might not expect much help or encouragement from the majority of the members of the Council, I could count on the sympathy and active co-operation of those members of the temperance organizations whose names I was accustomed to see published in connection with temperance work in different towns and settlements of the County; and when I had, by public warning in the press, notified all who were in the liquor business of my intention to prosecute violators of the law from and after the date of my going into office, I confidently expected that I would be received and treated by those active temperance men, at least, as a co-worker and that they would give me all the aid in their power in the performance of the duties of my office. I thought they would be even anxious to treat me as the recognized instrument of the law in the enforcement of an object for which they were banded together and that they would have the courtesy of the law from and after the date of my going into office, I confidently expected that I would be received and treated by those active temperance men, at least, as a co-worker and that they would give me all the aid in their power in the performance of the duties of my office.

I have, therefore, felt it in reference to the want of cooperation and assistance from the part of the temperance people during the time I was performing the duties of my office and have quietly borne the abuse which so many of them have thought it to give me, not only in the private circle, but from the platform and in the press, but the editor of the Advance has thought fit to make statements which he knows to be untrue, and as Mr. Johnston and J. Falconer have, in behalf of the W. C. T. U., undertaken to deny that I was solicited in the name of the law and other temperance bodies to go with my work as Inspector under their auspices. I think it right that I should briefly state a few facts to show that little reliance can be placed in what these persons state.

The Advocate says the temperance people were willing to help me and did so. I challenge Mr. Wm. Anslow, P. G. W. P. and editor of that paper, to publish the names of one "temperance man" in the County who gave me one complaint. The only activity shown by Mr. Anslow was a prompt attempt to collect $2.40 for a notice that I placed in the Advocate, as if both in the Advocate and I had sworn others ready, which would have been entered, but for the advice of the magistrate, who said I had better hold them until those on hand had been disposed of. When the case I had entered were being heard, where Mr. Wm. Anslow and the other men who do so much "temperance" talking and indulge in so much abuse of better men than themselves! Not one of them dared show himself in court to give me his moral support, and they would actually avoid me on the street so as to impress their rascally friends with the idea that they had no sympathy with my work. When I was to Chatham, I called on Rev. Mr. McKay and stated who I was and that I had come to the place in the performance of my duty as Inspector. I referred to the fact that I was a comparative stranger in the town and asked him if he could tell me of one temperance man in Chatham who would be willing to assist me. He could do nothing for me. I told him it was hard for me to get along and do my work unless I got some assistance. I could, however, get none from him or any other temperance man.

As soon as the injunction was served on me, however, Mr. Wm. Anslow was one of the first who asked me to keep on my work, and the temperance folk would see me paid at the same rate that I was getting from the Council. He said they had now $15 on hand and there would be no trouble about raising more. It is the first fact I heard of over Mr. Parrell's strange reticence in silence and soon after wards Russell resumed the direct examination and he said to break the effect of the case I had told him that I had been in the court room to see to the despatch of the money. The fact is that I had been in the court room to see to the despatch of the money. The fact is that I had been in the court room to see to the despatch of the money.
