ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., AUGUST 23, 1901.

THE STAR.

Each day brings some new subscriptions to the Star Office. The regular daily edition of this paper is now larger by three hundred copies than it was three weeks ago. While this fact is worthy of the attention of advertisers, it will also suggest to those who may read this article and are not yet regular subscribers that a paper which is meeting with so much favor is worth having in their homes every evening.

The Star claims to have more local news of real interest than any other evening paper. A careful scrutiny of its columns from day to day will, we believe, fully bear out this assertion. For that reason alone the Star should be in every home in the city.

BRING THEM TO ST. JOHN.

It had been understood all along that the P. E. Island members of "G" Co. would join their New Brunswick comrades in this city on the occasion of the royal visit, and that the reunited members of Capt. Jones's company would together receive their medals from the hands of the Duke of Cornwall and York. Such was the desire of the P. E. Island men themselves, and when it was announced from Ottawa that they could have their choice of St. John or Halifax they met and unanimously decided in favor of this city, and a reunion with their old comrades. But it now appears that some other influence has been at work, with the result that while the men are offered free transportation if they go to Halifax, they must, if they come to this city, pay their own way. If this is true it is grossly unfair. The government has no right to ignore the wishes of the men in this matter. Not only do they desire to come here, but their New Brunswick comrades look forward with eagerness to the reunion. It is to be hoped the major and council will second the efforts of Capt. Jones, and bring some influence to bear upon the authorities at Ottawa. The city might very properly extend a formal invitation to the island men, who are said to number about forty, to come to this city at the time of the dual visit. Let us have a reunion here of the men who were in the van at Paardeberg. Doubtless Col. Tucker, M. P., and Senator Ellis will exert their influence in this behalf.

MAYFLOWER DESCENDANTS.

Early in September the Mayflower descendants are to hold a congress at Buffalo. In referring to this event the New York Mail and Express says:—"It is a fine thing to be a descendant of the passengers on the Mayflower; but it is by no means to be supposed that this society is the most exclusive of the organizations of its class. As a descendant in the female line qualifies for admission, there are many members of the society whose American origin, in the male line, is quite recent. This is entirely proper, for the qualities which may be supposed to come by blood are quite as likely to be transmitted from mother to daughter as from father to son. There is no hint of 'aristocracy' in this society, any more than there is in the societies of revolutionary descendants. They all cherish the old traditions and tend to keep alive the spirit of pride in long American descent, but they are not hostile, rather than friendly, to the notion that one family is 'better' than another family. They are essentially democratic in their purpose and their operation."

THE GREAT STRIKE.

The Philadelphia Times thus points out the effect of the steel strike, which has already involved a loss of millions of dollars:—"A great strike like that which has overtaken the iron and steel industry may directly affect 400,000 or 500,000 men and their families. It indirectly involves several hundred thousand more. On the one hand the influence of such a strike extends to those who are engaged in supplying raw materials to the furnaces, therefore, to thousands of men who mine iron ore, and who are employed in hauling it by lake and rail to the point of manufacture, or miners of coal, manufacturers of coke and those who take limestone and flux from the quarries. On the other hand the strike reaches down into and affects industries which rely upon the United States steel corporation for finished or partially finished goods. Machinery builders and manufacturers who use sheet steel, tin plate, hoops, bars, billets, rails, pipe, tubes and the hundred and one different products of the plants which are closed or likely to close will feel the effects of the great labor disturbance. Ultimately the force of the strike will fall upon the individual consumer, who will be unable to get his machine, his building material or whatever else he needs. The performance of work according to contract, and punctual delivery of goods at a reasonable price will be made difficult in many branches of industry not directly controlled by the great steel corporation. It is only after a consideration of all

MANUAL TRAINING.

(Halifax Recorder.)

The school of manual training in the schools has been receiving the attention of the local government for the past ten years. In 1891 a grant was given to Halifax to establish a school here, and so successful was its work in this city that the government in 1895 opened a manual training department in connection with the Normal school at Truro; recognizing that if manual training was to become a force in the land the province needed, first of all, teachers who had some previous training on the subject.

Not only at Halifax and at Truro but at other centres throughout the province are there being established schools that will fill the hope of a certain want at present experienced in our common school system. Schools both for manual training and domestic science, we note, are to be established in Lunenburg, Bridgewater and Mahoe Bay on November 1st. The government under the act of 1900, grants to each school section which provides the equipment necessary for these branches the sum of $500. We have at Truro teachers being trained who will be specially qualified to impart knowledge in these subjects.

BOARD OF WORKS.

At the board of works meeting yesterday Mr. Graham, of the Barber Asphalt Paving Co. of New York, was given a hearing. The complaint of Hugh S. Wright against Peirce, Collier and Carney was taken up, but Mr. Wright was not present. The correspondence was on motion ordered to be sent back to him, after the board had heard Mr. Carney's statement.

After some discussion over the applications of steamers for berths at Sand Point, it was decided to assign these at a special meeting. The director reported that $40 was a reasonable sum to pay for the damage done by the diving bell. The claims of Mrs. Frances Niles and Daniel McGowan for compensation for injuries were referred to committees. It was decided to use the local government road making plant on the Marsh road. The tender of R. P. & W. F. Star to supply Caledonia mine coal at $3.50 will be recommended for acceptance. Five hundred dollars was decided upon as the price to be asked for the dump road making plant. Rolling mills have been negotiating for.

STAR WANT ADS.

An evening contemporary continues to declare that its want ads are valuable and paid for. The frequent quotations to this effect leads one to suppose that their genuineness is questioned. The Star does not ask pay for want ads. That's the difference. The ten times of the "Want" ads in the Postbook containing money and key of correspondence. Others are in a position to know the facts, and the unanimous decision of those who have tried them is that "Star Want ads bring results."

FOUGHT HIS EXECUTIONERS.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 23.—Charles W. Nordstrom was hanged here today for the murder on Nov. 27, 1891, of William Mason. When he was placed on the scaffold he collapsed entirely and fell to the floor. Efforts to raise him and keep him on his feet were fruitless. Finally the sheriff declared that a board be brought to this Nordstrom was tied. It took six men to hold him, so savagely did he resist.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—Officers of the steamer St. Paul which has arrived from the north bring the information that at least 8000 or 7000 persons intend to come back to the United States from Nome the present season, though it is doubtful whether the steamers now plying to Alaska will be able to bring such a large number before navigation closes.
