MADRIZ BLOCKS MOVE OF 8,000 INDIANS.
BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 6.—Because President Madriz of Nicaragua fears that the projected removal of the 8,000 members of the Sioux tribe of Indians from their reservation in South Dakota to that country, is a ruse to strengthen the insurgent army under General Estrada, the last stand in this country of the once powerful and numerous tribe must be further continued. Chief Little Bison, a full-blooded Sioux, who went to Nicaragua to make prepara-

PHYSICIAN CONDEMNNS
COLD STORAGE SYSTEM

Says With Commercial Kitchens It Can Change Plenty Into Famines.

HAMILTON, Ohio, Feb. 5.—"It took seventeen years to pass the pure food law, but it took only seven months for the adulterators of food acting through his superior officers then in power, to back and sag Wiley into silence, and, by executive interpretation, to reduce the law itself to little less than a farce.

"The cold storage system and the commercial kitchens can at any time change plenty into famine and force the people to pay a ransom for food were declarations made by Dr. Charles A. L. Reed, former president of the American Medical Association and long a leader in the pure food campaign, in an address on the food problem delivered here this evening. Leonard, lecturer, published the address in the Remedies suggested. Dr. Reed said:

"We have a legislative committee investigating the causes of the unreasonably high prices of food. They are trying to find out why, in a land of plenty and a year of plenty, no poor man can live without giving practically all of his earnings to the grocer and the butcher. I do not know how many conspiracies in restraint of trade these investigators will find, but I feel sure that if they keep on digging they will strike pay dirt. But I do not want to wait for their report to know some things. Ten years' identification with the food problem in general has opened my eyes to a few facts that have to do with the price of food.

"In the first place every farmer and every mechanic who is too busy to work and who doesn't take to something else opens a filthy little grocery, often with a filthy meat station in the front and a slobber saloon in the rear. He is just one more barometer on our already cumbersome mechanism for distributing the necessities of life.

"But the great conservator of high prices is the cold storage plant. If all the facts about cold storage were known no person with normal sensibilities could sit without nausea, unless each article carried a guarantee that had not been subjected to such treatment. But the cold storage people tell us that they conserve the food supply and hold down prices. That would be the legitimate use of the system. The manufacturer is that they do not deal with the abuse. They do conserve the food supply—with a vengeance—but I openly charge that they do it for the single purpose of holding up the prices by defeating the normal operation of the law of supply and demand.

"The commercial kitchens are another great concern in which millions of tons of food are cooked, put into containers and sent out to the people of this country every year—likewise having an important relation to the price of food, but a more important one than other phases of the food problem. By this system so much of our food supply is held back for so long a time that prices can be absolutely controlled by this interest. I do not know that this is or is not being done now, but the possible exercise of that power that the people must protect themselves against.

Give Your Stomach A Vacation

By Using Stuart's Dypopsala Tablets Which Digest Food Without Any Aid.
A TRIAL PACKAGE SENT FREE.
The stomach should have a rest when it is tired out and irritated from dyspepsia and indigestion. One should not call upon the stomach in this condition to do its full and complete duty. What the stomach needs is natural assistance and when this is given it the stomach responds quickly to the needed rest and comes back to its duties refreshed and invigorated.

When you feel as though your stomach were a piece of lead, when gases or foul odor issue from your throat, when your tongue is coated and your appetite gone, it is high time to send your stomach on a vacation. The stomach is constantly coming in contact with foreign substances, which it must reduce in form to give strength and health to the various organs of the body. It is the commissary department of the human system and must furnish from such supplies as come to it all that such a system demands. If the stomach becomes deranged and cannot furnish all that is necessary, it weakens the entire machinery of man and is itself placed out of commission. It cannot cure itself because the curative powers of Nature receive their force from the stomach, so that if the stomach issues imperfect nourishment it cannot receive perfect curative means for its own benefit. Stuart's Dypopsala Tablets impart all the power, vigor and strength necessary to the stomach. They do the stomach's work and without calling on this organ for assistance. If you would put your meal in a glass jar and with it place the correct amount of Stuart's Dypopsala Tablets you could sit down and watch these little tablets digest the meal as perfectly as the most healthy stomach. This demonstration has been made in almost every state in the Union by these tablets, one grain of a single ingredient being capable of digesting 2,000 grains of food.

If you have the slightest doubt about your stomach, go to the nearest drug store and buy a box of Stuart's Dypopsala Tablets, price 50c, or send us your name and address and we will immediately send you by mail a trial package, free. Address: P. A. Stuart Co., 120 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

BRITISH SENATE,
SUGGESTION NOW

Proposal to Include Over-seas Dominions

Clash in the Irish Party—T. P. O'Connor Is Hopeful—Asquith Is Still Mum.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The split in the most interesting feature of the political situation to the London morning papers, the suggestion has been made to Wm. O'Brien by one of his constituents that an attempt should be made to adjust the party differences on the machinery of the House of Commons, consisting of Mr. O'Brien, John E. Redmond, Cardinal Logue, Archbishop Walsh and others. The leader of the Independent Nationalists declares that such a conference would be useless unless the officers of the board of Erin were first removed from their present position as masters of the funds and liberties of the Nationalist party.

In a long letter to the Daily Telegraph this morning, Mr. O'Brien furthers the suggestion that his successful election campaign was undertaken solely with the purpose of saving his friends from the machinations of the adherents of the board of Erin, or the "Molly Maguires," that his success was due to the support of the Protestants. Mr. O'Brien declares that that is ridiculous, because there are so few Protestants in those constituencies in which his friends triumphed.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—T. P. O'Connor, in an article in Reynolds's newspaper, expressed the opinion that the question as to whether the King will assist Premier Asquith to curtail the veto of the House of Lords, by the creation of peers, has already been fully discussed between the King and the prime minister, and that there is a fairly clear understanding on the subject. Mr. O'Connor takes a most cheerful view of the prospect and sees no sign of wavering on the part of Mr. Asquith.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Of even greater interest than the possible changes in the cabinet is the course the government is likely to pursue upon the re-assembly of parliament. Thus far, as on all other matters, the Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, has kept his cards close according to their kinde of radicalism.

Extreme members of the party, like the Laborites, and even some of the more moderate men strongly favor an immediate attack upon the veto power of the House of Lords, leaving the budget and all other legislation until the party has settled its account with the peers, who are held responsible for all the political crimes that have attended the Irish members, who are believed to support this view, although John E. Redmond, the leader of the Nationalists, who since his election has been in retirement at his country home in Ireland, is not in favor of any announcement of his intentions.

MODERATE LIBERALS.
The more moderate Liberals, seeing the possibility of the disorganization of the finances of the country by this course of action, are urging the government first to introduce the budget, which the Lords, accepting the result of the election as an endorsement of the government's financial policy, are already pledged to pass.

On the question of the future status of the House of Lords, opinions differ almost as widely. The Laborites and extreme radicals urge the absolute abolition of the upper chamber, which hardly comes within the purview of practical politics. Another section of the ministerialists demands the abolition of the Lords' right of veto upon financial legislation and the curtailment of their veto in other legislation. So far as the words of the resolution passed by the House of Commons when the budget was hung up by the House of Lords, "the will of the people as expressed by the House of Commons, must be adopted by the House of Lords within the limits of a single parliament."

In other words, this means that any measure passed by three successive sessions of the House of Commons must be adopted by the Lords. The views of the moderates are expressed by Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, who said: "No reform of the House of Lords can be of real reform unless it provides for the abolition of the hereditary principles and the substitution of popular election."

LIKE AMERICAN SENATE.
The Spectator follows up this with the suggestion that the upper house be modeled after the American senate, the house to consist of 200 members chosen under a system of proportional representation from equal electoral areas. In the meantime the Unionists with the exception of a few peers who under no circumstances would find a place in the reformed chamber, are practically unanimous for a change in the constitution in the House of Lords. Many schemes are being put forward, the most popular probably being that embodied in the report of the Rosebery committee which provides for the election by the hereditary peers of 200 of their own number, together with 100 peers qualified by service to the nation, ten bishops, five judges and forty life peers.

The Imperialists among the Unionists look with considerable favor on the suggestion made by Norton Griffiths, a new member, who has had great experience in the colonies and elsewhere. He has proposed, when the moment is opportune, to establish a senate of the Empire to include representatives from the colonies. Premier Asquith can count on a majority for the curtailment of the House of Lords' veto for on this Nationalists, and doubtless independent Nationalists, too, will be with the government. On the budget, however, the attitude

WILL USE BUCKWHEAT
AS A TURKEY COAXER

Warden to Plant Grain on Preserve to Induce Birds to Stay.

WAYNESBORO, Pa., Feb. 5.—Just what the proper causer for an increase in the flock of wild turkeys is a matter that is causing Lewis S. Brown of Rousherville, considerable concern. Brown has been appointed a special game protector for the preserve in the mountains near the White Pine Sanctuary. Along in April he expects that seventy-five pairs of wild turkeys will be sent him by the State Game Commission.

In planning to make the locality pleasing to such fly-aways as turkeys, Brown has hit upon buckwheat as an inducement to linger, and will plant a patch of the grain right in the center of the preserve. He argues that turkeys like buckwheat and will hang around the patch. If he can persuade his turkeys to stay, Brown will try the same game on a lot of Chinese pheasants—birds with long tails that have a way of whizzing away in the underbrush with cosmetic velocity.

FOR THE PEOPLE

NEW FORMULA CURES COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS AND HOARSENESS IN FIVE HOURS.

Much is being done in these days to stop the ravages of consumption, but probably nothing has been so effective as teaching the public how to break up a cold and cure coughs, bronchitis, tonsillitis, etc., with simple homoeopathic medicine. A laxative cough syrup, free from whiskey, is the prime need. A cough indicates inflammation and congestion and these in turn are due to an excess of waste and poisons in the system. A tonic laxative cough syrup rids the system of these poisons and takes twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times daily. Give children less, according to age. Cut this out and save it for some friend.
