

ITALIAN CREW OF SUBMARINE CHASER REVOLT

Bind and Gag Officers and Land Them in Fiume.

D'ANNUNZIO KNELT BEFORE DESERTERS

Ordered Release of Officers
Who Were Allowed to Return to Fleet.

London, Dec. 9.—Officers of the Italian submarine chaser No. 68-P, N. were treacherously attacked, bound and gagged by their crew and then placed in a boat, which took them to the harbor of Fiume, says a Milan dispatch to the Times, describing the desertion of the vessel from the blockading fleet along the Dalmatian coast.

When the boat landed, it was met by Captain D'Annunzio, who gave the men a cordial reception, and made an address in which he denounced as a traitor Admiral Milio, in command of Italian naval forces in the Adriatic.

Knelt Before Deserters

Members of the D'Annunzio legion were asked to kneel before the deserters because their action had "saved the honor of the Italian navy," it is said, the post-officer setting an example by kneeling.

His address was greeted by cheers and shouts of "Let us go to Spalato, let us go to Rome."

The chaser was then boarded by D'Annunzio, who ordered that the officers be released, if they wished to return to their fleet and report the incident. Assertion is made that their protestations of loyalty to the Italian government were received with contempt, but they were allowed to leave by train.

JAZZ BAND ON C. P. O. S. LINER

According to one of the officers of the Empress of Britain, that steamer has a very talented jazz band, under the direction of "Jimmy" Floyd. This band provided very much entertainment for the liner's passengers on her recent voyage across the Atlantic from Liverpool, and reports are that special praise was bestowed upon Arthur Cunningham by reason of his ability as a banjo and slight-of-hand artist. Both are very popular with officers and the members of the crew.

Toronto, Dec. 9.—Admiral James Forrest, who was killed in the sinking of the Lusitania, was a man of a different type from the average sailor. He was a man of a different type from the average sailor. He was a man of a different type from the average sailor.

Forrest wanted to know what connection he had with the case. "If you think the mother is entitled to some compensation for the loss of her child, bring her down to the office and I will see what can be done for her," suggested Mr. Forrest.

"Cash will not replace the life of this child," retorted the friend heartily. "In our country we demand revenge for the killing of the individual responsible for the mishap which befell this lad."

"Well, in that case, you will have to see the general manager, Mr. H. J. Fleming," replied the claims agent, "Perhaps Mr. Fleming will submit to the sacrifice."

"I want action, and I want it speedily," roared the man. "That is the way we do things in our country."

"Please don't overlook the fact that you are now in a civilized country in which the people do not seek revenge in that manner," retorted Mr. Forrest, as he made a hasty exit.

Saved From A Fruitless Trip

Capt. Young of Royal Flying Corps Finds Family in Goderich, Ontario.

Special to The Standard

Capt. H. C. Young, who arrived in St. John on the Melita last Sunday, has been saved from a fruitless trip to Red Deer, Alta., in search of his family by a fortunate set of circumstances. Capt. Young has lately undergone sixteen months' flying duty with the Royal Air Force in the Afghanistan wilds; and about two months ago his family removed from their former home in Red Deer, to Goderich, Ont.

Owing to the difficulty, however, of communication with the British forces in Afghanistan, they were unable to communicate this fact.

Received Message

Last week his father, Thomas Young, sent a message to the effect that he had heard of the arrival of a Capt. H. C. Young, at St. John. Mr. Young explained the fact that his son was not aware of the family's removal.

The young officer was promptly informed and immediately communicated with his father at Goderich, Ont. Naturally he was very thankful for the efforts made in locating him, and declared that he otherwise would have gone direct to Red Deer, Alta., where he believed his family to be residing.

Capt. Young served with the R. A. F. in France, where he was at the time the Armistice was signed. Shortly after he went with a flying squadron for duty with the British forces in India, where he served in a sixteen months' campaign against the rebellious tribes on the Afghanistan border. He will likely reach Goderich before Sunday next.

Those Nasty Little Pimples

That Come On The Face
Are Caused By Bad Blood.

Many an otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly marred by the unsightly pimples and various other skin troubles, caused wholly by bad blood.

Many a cheek and brow cast in the mould of beauty have been sadly defaced, their attractiveness lost, and the possessor, of the "pimply face" rendered unhappy for years.

Their presence is a source of embarrassment to those afflicted as well as pain and regret to their friends.

There is an efficient remedy for these facial defects and that is Burdock Blood Bitters, the old reliable medicine that has been on the market for over 40 years.

It drives out all the impurities from the blood, and leaves the complexion clear and healthy.

Mrs. James Williams, Waterford, Ont., writes:—"My face was covered with pimples for nearly a year, I used different kinds of remedies to get rid of them and finally thought there was no relief. A friend dropped in one day and told me I should try Burdock Blood Bitters. I did so and used three bottles, and found the pimples were all disappearing from my face, and now I have a clear complexion again."

Too Many Cooks Spoil The Broth

Schooner Captain Charged
With Assault—Game Law
Case in Police Court.

Special to The Standard

There is no doubt in the mind of Captain George Nicholas of the Greek schooner Callimachis that it is unlikely to carry a woman on a ship in any other capacity than a passenger. The captain doesn't look upon the matter as a sailor's superstition, he is positive that it is an actual fact. He is equally positive that too many cooks spoil the broth.

Charged With Assault

Yesterday he appeared in the police court to answer to the charge of assaulting Olga Loupides, the wife of the schooner's cook, and also of withholding $27 due her in wages, and $3 due her husband.

The case was begun last Tuesday and resumed yesterday, the evidence being much of the same nature. Mrs. Loupides is a Rumanian and does not speak English, so that the services of Israel Gorbey, were required to conduct her examination.

According to the evidence given by the third mate of the schooner, the woman's husband signed on at Cardiff, Wales; later the ship went to Swansea, and the cook's wife came aboard and assisted her husband in the galley. She told the mate that she would like to accompany her hubby on the trip. She would then be with him and at the same time save the expense of keeping house on shore.

Was Signed On

At her request he asked the captain if this could be done, but the captain, mindful of the old adage concerning cooks, refused to take the woman. He considered one cook plenty. The owner of the schooner visited the ship, and at the woman's request the third mate also interviewed him. It was then arranged that the woman should sign on as a steward to avoid the clause that prevented the ship carrying passengers.

This was done and she was signed on at a nominal rate of three shillings a month.

Mrs. Loupides was recalled in rebuttal. Through the medium of the interpreter she said that whatever the last witness had said was a lie. She was not called upon to sign any articles on leaving Wales, and did not know who signed for her.

Elias Grecias, stated that he was a member of the crew, and has been paid off in St. John along with the cook and his wife. He said that during the voyage to Africa he saw the captain push the stewardess out of the galley and send her to work.

Magistrate Ritchie said that the woman drew a knife on the captain.

At the suggestion of the magistrate the case was postponed to a settlement for the defence and S. S. Ritchie for the complainant.

Game Law Cases

The maximum fine of $100 was struck against Messrs. Cunningham and O'Neill, who were taken to the City Market who pleaded guilty to having same birds for sale contrary to the International Migratory Bird Law.

'THIS is my recommendation, Sir'

"NOT so very long ago I was in the same ill health as yourself. Long and busy hours, the responsibility of filling drug prescriptions and other duties of the day's work proved a strain. I took a couple of boxes of Milburn's Heart & Nerve Pills and can honestly thank them for my present splendid condition."

This little incident from everyday life fits your case in one way or another. In these days of strenuous living it is only natural for the heart to get below normal, thus affecting the nervous system.

Many people ignore the symptoms of heart and nerve trouble. Every day people drop dead, simply because of ignoring them. You cannot afford to do this. Ask yourself, "Have I any of the following complaints?"

Dizziness, Headaches, Palpitation, Breath Shortness, Brain Fog, Loss of Flesh, Depression, Sleeplessness, Anemia, Tobacco Heart, Loss of Appetite

These are some of the sensations which are experienced. They are a warning of vital importance. If you would be well and strong, just ask your druggist to-day for a box of Milburn's Heart & Nerve Pills.

YOU WILL BE SIMPLY ASTONISHED at the fast recovery you will make on taking them. Remember, they have been on the market for over 25 years, and you are using a preparation recommended by prominent people the country over.

border, for this reason he was forced to strike the maximum fine.

H. A. P. Smith, of Digby, N. S., federal game warden for the maritime provinces was present in court in the interests of the Dominion Government.

Robbing the Mail

A charge of stealing $250 from His Majesty's mails was preferred against James Covey and Richard Kane in the morning. Several witnesses gave evidence and the prisoners were remanded until additional witnesses may be called.

J. T. Quinn, sub-postmaster for the North End, testified he made up the registered mail on Wednesday evening about 8:30. One package contained $250 and was addressed to the Bank of Montreal.

He saw the bag containing the package placed in the mail box and removed by Kane, who is a driver for the contractor collecting the mails. Covey was in the team with Kane.

H. J. Allingham said he was on duty in the post office on Wednesday night and received the North End mail from Kane. Henry Garrity told of taking the bags in the elevator and delivering them to be sorted.

Frank Donnelly, stable keeper, said he was in charge of the drivers, and Kane had been in his employ for about two months. Covey had been in his employ, but had been dismissed for allowing unauthorised persons on his wagon.

Fred W. McCall told of sorting the mail and finding an envelope addressed to the Bank of Montreal still open. He then examined the bag and found it was cut. He was corroborated by Henry O'Leary.

Hugh Johnson was charged with stealing a flashlight valued at $5, the property of Arthur Goddard, from the steamer Empress. No evidence was taken and he was remanded. Detective Biddiscombe and C. F. R. Policeman Graham made the arrest.
