Sweetheart of Man Crazy by Kiss

MAGDALEN NOVAK

New York, Jan. 9.—Crazed from the first kiss of his sweetheart, after ten years of begging, George Buysa is in Bellevue Hospital, perhaps hopelessly insane. Joy at the prospect of at last having for his wife the one woman in all the world for whom he has longed is now being kept from him by his people in Hungary.

The two began to plan about the marriage and their home, Buysa suddenly grew irrational and shouted that their enemies would prevent the wedding. He became so violent that a policeman was called in.

The young man was taken to Bellevue Hospital by Policeman "Andy" Smith, the good natured guardian at the Barge Office, and Miss Novak was called in to see to it that Buysa was properly cared for.

"My life dream has been shattered," sobbed the young woman as George was being led away by the policeman. "For twenty years I have loved him, and now every letter he has written me has been so full of promises that I have believed him."

Commissioner Waldron, who takes a great personal interest in every one of his charges, looked into the case of Miss Novak, after the published report of Buysa's becoming insane on the eve of his marriage.

The executive last night in the board of trade rooms. The action of the common council in dealing with the proposal for a district system was very adverse to the committee and there was also indignation at the council for not according the league the courtesy of an official notice of the action taken.

The meeting of the alumni was held in the Equity Court room here last night, and a large number of graduates were present. A vote of thanks was passed and will be tendered to Senator Ellis for presenting to the university a scholarship of $50 a year.

Dr. Bridges, Dr. W. P. Dole and M. A. Magge were appointed a committee to examine the essays for the alumni medal. The matter of holding a dinner or some social function to interest old graduates in the alumni society was discussed, but was not put to the council for further consideration.

It was then decided to recommend Mr. Kain, who has taken such a deep interest in the society, to be elected president of the society, which will be held in Fredericton on the 23rd, 24th and 25th of January.

Eleven deaths took place in the city last week from the following causes: Senility and heart disease, one each; cancer pneumonia, peritonitis, meningitis, endocarditis, typhoid, nephritis and broncho-pneumonia, one each.

CHIEF JUSTICE AS LUMBERMAN

Quotes His Experience Against Testimony of a Witness

QUANTITY OF LUMBER TO GET OUT OF A LOG

Interesting Feature of Ingram vs. Brown Case—Leave for More Appeals in the Cushing Tangle Granted—An Albert County Case.

The case of Ingram vs. Brown was again before Chief Justice Tuck in circuit court on Saturday. The witnesses were Gilbert G. Murdoch, John Barker, William Patterson, Robert Patterson, Robert M. Ellis and George R. McDonough.

The evidence of the last name was concluded just previous to adjournment at 5:30 o'clock. As a lumberman of twenty years' experience he was asked how many logs, the trees being from eight to twenty-two inches at the butt, as shown in question had been described, would be necessary to make 1,000 feet of lumber.

He said about twenty-five, at which his honor remarked: "Good gracious, man, do you mean to tell me that it takes twenty-five logs to make a thousand? Why when I was a lad surveying with my father—I was not always a lawyer—nor a judge, and my experience in lumbering has helped me greatly in many cases—four logs would make 1,000 and in very many instances, five were enough."

More Cushing Appeals. In the Cushing equity suit, that is the suit against Geo. Cushing, there will be a further appeal. Mr. Justice McLeod, sitting in the winding up matter on Friday afternoon, on application of M. G. Teed, K. C., gave leave to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada from the judgment of the majority of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, dismissing the appeal from the decree of Mr. Justice Barker, judge in equity, in favor of Mr. Cushing.

It is probable that another appeal will be recorded in the Cushing case. On Saturday afternoon Mr. Justice McLeod granted leave to the liquidators of the Cushing Sulphite Company to apply to a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada for leave to appeal from the judgment of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick given on the 25th day, involving the appeal from the order of Mr. Justice McLeod, by which order the sale under the decree for foreclosure was postponed until May 1, 1916.

An Albert County Case. On application of M. G. Teed, K. C., Mr. Justice McLeod on Friday afternoon, in the case of Adams vs. The Aptus Veneer Company, of Albert county, made an order setting the case on appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada from the judgment of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick.

The case was recently tried by Mr. Justice Landry, who found a verdict for the plaintiff. The defendant appealed and judgment was delivered in November last. The Supreme Court of New Brunswick, the court was equally divided, so that the verdict stood. F. R. Taylor represented the plaintiff, and M. G. Teed, K. C., the defendant.

The Waterworks Extension. No decision has yet been come to by the city as to whether Lake Latimer should be lowered to permit McArthur & MacVay to continue their pipe line into the city at the end of section 2. Members of the firm called on the mayor yesterday with regard to the matter, and his words implied that the superintendent and the inspector for Gloucester county, was continued last night before Hon. W. P. Jones.

All the evidence on behalf of the complainants was finished, and W. A. Mott opened the case for the defence. He set out a set of serious breach of duty had been shown, and that if it were a case before an ordinary tribunal he would move for a dismissal, but as it was this kind of an inquiry, he was prepared to produce witnesses. He then called a number of witnesses from various parts of the county, of which number several were county councillors, who gave evidence of good character and reputation of the commissioners and the inspector.

Cross-examined by Mr. Gillet, some of them said that the knowledge of the commissioners and inspector was very limited. Mr. Mott requested that the defence be allowed further time to present their case, and asked for an adjournment, which was granted until Jan. 30, at 10 o'clock a. m.

In the meantime it is thought the court may agree to the admission of certain evidence which will shorten the investigation. Mr. Jones remained here to interview the county council on a matter in which the government is interested. He will return home today. Mr. Ketchum, clerk to the commission, left for Woodstock.

Arrangements have been made for a first-class single fare for all delegates attending the Farmers and Dairyman's and Fruitgrowers' Association meetings which are to be held in Fredericton on the 23rd, 24th and 25th of January.

A VOICE FROM THE TEMISCOUATA LUMBER CAMPS

Logger Froze His Ear Trying to Hear Lost Watch Tick in the Snow.

To the Editor of The Telegram: Sir,—Believing that your readers would be interested in knowing something about the work that is being done, and the life of the lumberman in the camps here, I shall try to give you a brief sketch of our camp and crew on the Cabano river, ten or twelve miles from Temiscouata Lake.

The operations here are being carried on by the Temiscouata Lumber Company. They have two camps—the one just mentioned and another about two miles further down the river.

Both camps are under the control of James McAllister, who is the walking boss of the concern. Every one on the job, Temiscouata, who is boss of the camp and crew, while a Frenchman, Joe Bussy by name, is boss of the one lower down.

The weather here has been so cold all fall and winter. There were no heavy rainfalls and since winter set in no heavy snow storms. There has been scarcely any frost, indeed the country is so warm that the snow has melted. It was too warm to work. At the time of writing it is snowing heavily, but until now not over two feet of the beautiful has fallen, not enough to make a good hauling on two sleds.

Now just a word or two concerning the crew. It is a mixed one, French and English being pretty well represented. At present the English are in the majority. They are all good fellows and our camp is noted for its quiet orderliness.

Like all other camps a few individuals stand out in greater prominence than the rest. For instance we have "The Colonel," "the fat fellow," "the big fellow," "Fig," "Spot," "Curlyhead," "Gus" and "Sam." The two last named are teamsters. The first is noted for his ability for asking questions. The second is a horse doctor, horse shoer and teamster combined.

A noted character in the crew is Green, the pie eater, who will not leave his table as long as there is a pie on it. Ruff can handle pie pretty well also. Our big fellow met with the loss of a valuable watch the other day. He had it attached to his brace by the ring and the ring slipped out of the ring broke. He did not miss it for some time after it was gone. He tried to locate it by placing his ear to the snow in different places thinking he could hear it tick, but after freezing his ear he had to give it up. Another and not the least important member of the crew by any means is Uncle Williams. He is a good fellow, but when he is drunk he lights out on the cellar door he can make many of the younger members take a back seat. Many of our evenings, especially on a select reading as well as songs, telling yarns or listening to some one reading. Principal among the entertainers are our cook, who can sing a good song or give a select reading as well as can serve a meal, and our cook is a Queens county man, and a good-natured fellow who will even let us in on the night to feed us. There has been proposed to go in the camp this winter, and hardy a day passes but some one is laid up. We have had some severe cases of quincy, but I do not remember any one who has seemed to be prevalent here. It was in this camp that the young man, A. Corey, was working when he met with the accident that has since confined him to the Fredericton hospital.

Although we are in the heart of the forest here, Christmas found us out and many of us have been thinking of former years and perhaps merrier times. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space.

I remain yours respectfully, ONE OF THE CREW. McAllister's Camp, Notre Dame Du Lac, Temiscouata Co., Quebec, Jan. 10.

GLOUCESTER MEN PUT UP DEFENCE Bathurst, N. B., Jan. 12.—(Special)—The investigation into the charges brought against the liquor license commissioners and the inspector for Gloucester county, was continued last night before Hon. W. P. Jones.

Honor for Noted Sons.

The Alumni of the University of New Brunswick Friday voted commending the senate to honor two distinguished sons of the institution—Charles G. D. Roberts and Bliss Carman, now of New York—with the degree of LL. D., at the next convocation.

Honorary M. A. for S. W. Kain, of the St. John customs service, was recommended to the senate, and there was also indignation at the council for not according the league the courtesy of an official notice of the action taken.

The executive, acting upon information published in the newspapers, discussed the council's ignoring of their communication on the district system for substituting the old ward system, something for which the league had not asked. The fact that the request for doing away with the qualification clause was not put any attention also caused a good deal of indignation.
