THE GOLDEN LION,

TORONTO AND LONDON.

"What are you doing there?" said a grocer to a fellow who was stealing his lard. "I'm getting fat," was the reply.

Boxes, it is said, govern the world—the cartridge box, the ballot box, the jury box, and last, though not least, the bonnet box.

To interest, without exciting—to instruct, without offending—to please, without flattering—to be cheerful, yet grave—and humorous, without descending into buffoonery—are the prime requisites of a public instructor.

DOUBLE AND QUTRA.—Customer (to a clerk in a hardware shop): "Show me a small, low-priced shears." Clerk (facetiously): "Perhaps you mean a pair of shears." Customer (severely): "I mean precisely what I said." Clerk (defiantly, opening a specimen article): "Are there not two blades here? and do not two make a pair?" Customer (triumphantly): "You have two legs; does that make a pair of men?" The shears were done up in silence.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM,

Prepared expressly for the cure of all

Throat, Bronchial, or Pectoral Diseases.

The PECTORAL BALSAM is one of the most prompt, safe and invaluable of all remedies ever recommended for the above diseases, and all who use it attest its genuineness. It gives almost immediate relief in all cases of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, Croup or Hives, Influenza, &c., &c.

BRONCHITIS and ASTHMA are cured by it, and numbers in the first stages of CONSUMPTION have been restored to perfect health; it is, in fact, a reliable antidote for all diseases of the Throat or Chest.

Persons troubled with a persistent Cough will experience relief by using the PECTORAL BALSAM, and by taking a dose as directed the last thing at night, may be sure of unbroken sleep and refreshing rest.

Children take the BALSAM readily, as it is so palatable, and as no time should be lost, especially in cases of Croup or Whooping Cough, a bottle of it should always be kept on hand.

Note the name, and see that you get the real article.

It is sold by Druggists and General Storekeepers everywhere for 25 cents per bottle.

If we do not subdue our anger, it will subdue us; it is the second word that makes the quarrel.

"This is a sweeping catastrophe," as the man said when his wife knocked him down with the broomstick.

A man out West says he moved so many times during one year that whenever a covered wagon stopped at the gate, his chickens would fall on their backs and hold up their feet, in order to be tied and thrown in.

A skeptical collegian confronted an old Quaker with the statement that he did not believe in the Bible. Said the Quaker, "Does thee believe in France?" "Yes. Though I have not seen it, I have seen others who have. Besides, there is plenty of proof that such a country does exist." "Then thee will not believe anything that thee or others have not seen?" "No, to be sure I won't." "Did thee ever see thy own brains?" "No." "Ever see anybody that did?" "No." "Does thee believe thee has any?"

Every family should keep a supply of Hagyard's Yellow Oil.
