

SERVITUDES :—

"	tow-paths, construction and repair of roads.....	507
"	common walls, and ditches—
"	what walls are common.....	510
"	marks of walls not being common.....	511
"	by whom repaired or rebuilt.....	512, 513
"	how may be used.....	514, 519
"	may be raised on paying an indemnity.....	515
"	at whose cost rebuilt if too weak for superstruc- ture.....	516
"	how superstructure upon, may become common.....	517
"	all adjoining walls may be made common, how,..	518
"	building and repairs of division walls in cities....	520
	See COMMON WALLS.
"	continue when walls are rebuilt.....	522
"	as regards trees between neighbouring properties	528 to 530
"	as regards the right to clearance.....	531
"	provisions to which certain structures are subject....	532
"	power of municipalities with regard to,.....	531, 532
"	of view upon adjoining property. See NEIGHBOURS	533 to 538
"	as regards the eaves of roofs.....	539
"	right of way, when may be demanded.....	540
"	" when and how given.....	541, 542
"	" who bound to give it in certain cases....	543
"	" when it ceases.....	544
"	established by the act of man, how.....	545, 546
"	" kinds of, urban and rural.....	546
"	" " continuous and discontinuous.....	547
"	" " apparent and non-apparent.....	548
"	" cannot be established without a title.....	549
"	or an act of recognition.....	550
"	destination by proprietor equi- valent to title.....	551
"	what they comprise.....	552
"	right of the creditors of a, to make all necessary works....	553
"	at his own expense....	554
"	debtor of, charged with making works, may free himself by giving up the land.....	555
"	continue notwithstanding the division of the servient land.....	556
"	obligations of the proprietor of the servient land.....	557
"	how creditor of, must use them.....	558
"	how they cease.....	"
"	" by impossibility of using them.....	559
"	but may revive, even after time of pre- scription, if impossibility ceases.....	560
"	" by non-user during 30 years.....	562, 563
"	" manner of exercising may be prescribed..	564