The accused is sworn.

When I gave the statements they were a little better than half true. On 19 May when 4/cpl began questioning me after the identification parade about my activities I refused to make a statement. He said you will talk after a few days. This was one of the reasons which led me to give the statements as I did.

On the second occasion when he asked me for a statement he refused to do so by this name which meant nothing to me. I became agitated and did not answer his questions properly.

In my statement of 2 May I said I did not love several in the course, but I did love several in the course on that occasion.

I want to add to the statement that on 25 May I stood guard while I looked through the house
