

of regret, sorrow and disappointment. We have reached the success. To build up the Society it has cost untold energy and on the part of many. To pull down would be an easy task continue a prosperous institution we must keep along that path which has brought us success. With a loving yet firm hand endeavored not to be your ruler but servant.

Realizing as I do the great responsibility resting upon the of this office and the many interests at stake, I feel the necessity of weighing well the fitness and loyalty of the one upon whom we place the mantle of this office. Through the goodness of God permitted to return to you the charge entrusted to me, together with the increase with which we have been blessed and the riches which we have been endowed during these years of stewardship these gifts of His love may be used in the years which lie before without fear of failure but with continued faith in the Giver of good things, is my prayer. It is the privilege of every member to to this office, but those who may be chosen to it should realize it is a position, not simply of honor, but of trust and work. It is the endeavor of my life to assist as best I can my successor in believing that we will be directed in the choice of a man who will prove himself a True Blue, first, last, and always, turning neither the right hand nor to the left, but pursuing the straight course which our blessings and usefulness lie.

"I again thank you one and all for your support during my term of office, and my parting request is that you keep this society Protestant, truly charitable, and ye, yourselves, worthy standard-bearers of the Loyal True Blue Association. Sincerely and Fraternally,
Yours,

JAMES WORRELL,
Grand Master of the Loyal True Blue Association.
