

Road. He was with Admiral Bayfield during his survey of the North Shore in 1823-5. The late Mrs. John Smith of Midland who married a son of Ussher Smith of the Garrison was a daughter.

Stepping across the path we face a shaft of Scotch granite inscribed to Sergeant John Dumars, died in 1861, aged 55 years, with the striking and appropriate epitaph, "Rest Old Soldier, thy Warfare's O'er." Though not given to drink, his end was connected with a "carousal" and involved both tragedy and mystery. A party was given at the home of Sergeant Allen on the borders of St. Andrew's Lake, which his wife attended. During the evening he went over to escort her home, but was never seen again alive. His dead body was found next morning near the Allen home, wrapped in a woman's shawl with a cellar door lying on it. The mystery was never solved. Sergeant Dumars' allotment from the Government was where Capt. Madden's house now stands, on Church St. He was the father by his first wife of the present Mrs. A. Kennedy, who erected the memorial.

Continuing on the same range we come to the grave of John Tindale, who died in 1867 and who was in a certain sense the rival of Geo. Ludlow, having later settled near the same lake, which was known for some years as "Tindale's Lake" and still later as "Devine's Lake," but the original name was "Ludlow's Lake."

Farther on, in the same range and in the extreme north-east of the graveyard is the free-stone monument and family plot of the venerable rector himself, Rev. Geo. Hallen, a neat and modest shaft, with golden letters, inscribed as already noted. Beside them have been deposited one by one at various times the remains of their sons and daughters, except the late Mrs. Drinkwater, who rests beside her husband in the Northbrook cemetery, and Mrs. Cole, widow of the late Rev. E. H. Cole, sometime rector of Whitby who at present is living in Toronto.

To the right in the centre of the church-yard is a monument to Louisa Ann Darling, who died in 1888, ae. 81 yrs., erected by her sons. She was third daughter of Capt. James M. Hamilton by his second wife and married 1st, Andrew Mitchell, 2nd, James Stewart Darling.

Not far away is the memorial to Robt. Clarke, Sergeant of the 81st Regt., who died in 1859, ae. 87 yrs., and to his wife, Elizabeth, who died in 1856. Beside them lie the remains of
